Old Stanger of Chicago called on old friends here Friday.

What We Never Forget according to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Buckles, Arsenic Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Cartridges for ulcers, corns or cold sores. Only 30 cents at the Barrington Pharmacy.

Hard Times.
"Well," said Hinkley slyly to the old countryman to whom he was giving a lift over the highway, "how's farming around here?" "Bad," said the countryman, "prosperous had. What with the farm hands turnin' shufflers, and the farmers turnin' garragers, remain' sort of went out of fash'n."—Harper's Weekly.

From Smiles to Thrills.
"Fashionable change in politics as well as in literature." "Yes," replied Senator Forghum. "Candidates used to appeal to an audience with humor or sentiment. Now we are compelled to give 'em hysterical plots or studies in current slang."

Up-to-Date Burglars.
Burglars who forced an entrance into a jeweler's office in New York a few days ago carried with them an electrically driven drill for boring into the safe, which they proceeded to use successfully after connecting it with an electric light socket.

Our First Newspaper.
The first American newspaper was published in 1704 and to 1785 there were 78 published, 16 of which were written by women and 14 of which were the firm champions of liberty and equal rights.

Then and Now.
"Sometimes I feel sure," said Blinke, "that I ought to go to a throne and wave a scepter." "And now?" remarked his cheery wife, "you are going to stand on the back porch and wave a rug beater."

Laughter Like a Bombshell.
One good, hearty laugh is a bomb shell exploding in the right place while spleen and discontent are a gas that kicks over the man who shoots it off.—De Witt's Antacid.

Electric Street Sweepers.
The municipality of Berlin has found electrically driven machines for cleaning the streets much cheaper than the old horse carts. There are now twenty-four storage-battery machines in use. The electric machines do so much work that each machine is supposed to save about $123 a day by comparison with a horse-driven water cart.—The Electrical Review and Western Electrician.

Clothes.
He—"Did you ever observe what a difference clothes make on one's mind? Now, when I am in my riding togs, I'm all horse; when I have on my business suit, my mind's full of business; when I get into my evening dress my mind takes a purely social turn." She—"And I suppose that when you take a bath your mind's all utter blank!"—Stray Stories.

Verona's Municipal Pigeons.
The municipality of Verona has expended 50 francs (two pounds) in acquiring grain for the pigeons of the city. Having thus become state supported, they are immune from the molestations of wanton destroyers, who will now be punishable by law.

Nautical Distinctions.
"How do you tell the difference between a yacht and a sailboat?" said the girl to the inquiring man. "By looking into the pantry," replied Captain Fleet. "If she carries plenty of refreshments and seagulls, she's a yacht. If it's mostly plain victuals, she's a sailboat."—Exchange.

Perhaps.
A Boston minister has jumped into the spotlight by making the statement that American women wear too many clothes at summer resorts. This is the last objection he has expected a minister to make. Perhaps the women whom he observed are inclined to freckle.

Justifiable.
"Why, it is a nasty old photo. It's not like me. I am better looking than that," said a woman at Lambeth when charged with disorderly conduct, to look at. "Look at that," she said, indignantly, "and see if you wouldn't swear if you were took like that."

Still Unexplored.
All the opportunities for adventure are not over, though the north and south poles have both been conquered. In Africa there are 20,000,000 square miles of land as yet unexplored. In Liberia a tract of 20,000 square miles which is unopened.

The Difference.
When a man falls on a bit of orange peel, the first thing he does is to look back to see what it was; but the first thing a woman does is to look around to see if anyone saw her.—The Tatler

Horticultural.
One may hardly call a hen on her nest an eggplant.

Group Photos
The next time you are ALL together have that group picture taken you have talked about. There is always a LAST time when you meet. I will come to you if you can't come to my studio.
Collins' Studio

Record of Longevity.
A remarkable record of longevity is to be found in some of the rural parts of France. In the village of St. Thomas de la Fliche there have been only 14 parish priests in 300 years, the fourteenth being still in possession of the parish of St. Germain de Val, in Paris, has had only three pastors in 100 years, while that of Oigny en Argois has had but five in 130 years.

Street Rules in Paris.
It is a misdemeanor to throw a piece of waste paper upon a Paris street. If a policeman sees you drop a piece of paper he walks up to you, puts you on the shoulder, begs your pardon for addressing you, tells you you have violated the law and asks you to pick up what you have thrown down.

Oh, That Accent.
"How do you know she is an American?" "I heard her talking French."—Judge.
