

PRETTY PLAY IN SECOND CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

The prettiest play in the second game for the world's championship occurred in the third inning with Speaker of the Red Sox and Merkle of the Giants as leading characters. Speaker's hot shot past first was marveledously stopped by Merkle, then by a long slide he beat Speaker to the bag. Merkle was loudly cheered by the Boston fans.

DETAILS WILSON FUND

MC COMBS TESTIFIES BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE.

Says Pro-Contribution Campaign of Democratic Nominee's Campaign Amounted to $208,000.

Washington, Oct. 15.—William F. McCombs of New York, chairman of the National Democratic committee, was first witness when the Senate committee resumed its investigation of campaign funds.

Senators John H. Bankhead, manager of the Underwood campaign; Lieut. Gov. Hugh L. Nichols of Ohio, manager of the Harmon campaign, and Vice-Chairman William G. McAdoo of the national Democratic committee, Judge Alton B. Parker, Joseph Quincy of Massachusetts, Roger Sullivan of Illinois and Fred C. Penfield of Philadelphia, were the other witnesses to testify.

Mr. McCombs said $208,000 had been contributed to the fund this year in behalf of Governor Wilson's nomination.

"I began this campaign for Governor Wilson in May, 1911," he said. "For the first month or two the campaign was directed from my own office, and I paid the expenses out of my own pocket. Then I established headquarters in New York. I think I spent about $10,000 myself."

Here Mr. McCombs produced a list of contributors to the Wilson fund. Following were the principal pro-nomination contributors:

Frederick C. Penfield, $12,000; William F. McCombs, $11,000; Charles R. Crane, $10,000; Abram J. Elkus, $11,500; Harvey Thomas, $4,000; Cleveland H. Dodge and Princeton friends, $85,800; Samuel Untermyer, $7,000; collected through William G. McAdoo, $13,000, of which amount Jacob H. Schiff gave $1,500.

Mr. McCombs testified that the $12,000 credited to Frank C. Penfield was all of the money that contributors had given.

While his prepared statement totaled $124,665, Mr. McCombs said the total expenses for the campaign had amounted to $208,000. He said that represented all the money expended, and that no other funds had been collected to his knowledge.

PRIEST FLIES TO DYING MAN

Travels 125 Miles With French Army Aviator in Morocco and Administers Extreme Unction.

Paris, Oct. 14.—Extreme unction was administered to a dying man for the first time by a priest rushed to the scene in an airplane according to a dispatch received from Morocco. Colonel Lergot, commanding some French troops, was mortally wounded in a brush with the Germans just before they were repulsed and sent Lergot was a devout Catholic and expressed a dying wish to receive the last sacrament, but the nearest priest was 125 miles away. Lergot's pilot begged his superior for permission to make the trip through the air and was permitted to do so. He brought back the priest.

TURK CITY IS TAKEN

VICTORIOUS NORTHERN MONTENEGRIN ARMY CAPTURES BVELOPOLYE.

CHILDREN DIE IN FLAMES

Constantinople Gets Report of Tragical Battles Rage on Serbian Frontier and Elsewhere in Balkans.

London, Oct. 15.—A Podgoritz dispatch to the Daily Mail on Sunday says the town of Schelovik was demolished by Montenegrin guns and 250 Turks taken prisoners. The final charge of the Montenegrins was so furious that the retreating Turks were actually fired at with their abandoned guns. The noted Macedonian leader, Todor Laisoroff, committed suicide because he could not go to war. He had tuberculosis. The Montenegrins attacked the Turks at Shroka mountain, routing them with a loss of 300 men. The Montenegrins lost 100 killed or wounded.

Podgoritz, Montenegro, Oct. 15.—The northern Montenegrin army, under General Vukotich, which recently crossed the border into the Sanjak of Novibazar, gained a firm foothold by capturing Bvelopolye, one of the chief towns of the province.

Bvelopolye fell after prolonged fighting, but no information has been received regarding the losses on both sides. The Montenegrins have set up there a provisional government.

Montenegrins are now on their way to Bvelopolye, thirty miles to the north-east of Schelovik and close to the Serbian frontier against which they will direct a second attack. It is in this direction that the Montenegrins expect to join hands with the Serbian army when it advances from the north.

According to a Constantinople dispatch to the Standard, Esad Pasha has arrived at Scutari with reinforcements, raising the garrison from 12,000 to 20,000 men. If this news is true the Montenegrins will have a difficult task in capturing Scutari.

Montenegrins have burned the Muslim village of Kranla, several children perishing in the flames. The fighting in that neighborhood is visible from Scutari.

Late advices say fighting continues around Berana. The Montenegrins advancing toward Gushjia, Plava and Arona, on the southern frontier, are encountering much resistance and losing heavily.

Some fighting has occurred at Telesk where the Turks are displaying great bravery. It is further reported that the Turkish forces in the country between Lake Scutari and the sea have stopped the advance of the Montenegrins.

SAID, KILL ROSENTHAL

ROSE ASSERTS BECKER DEMANDED GAMBLER BE "CROAKED."

Declares He Procured Gunmen at Request of Ex-Lieutenant Who Advised Murder.

New York, Oct. 15.—"Bald Jack" Rose told the Jury in Supreme Court Saturday of the plot leading up to the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, and the events following the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler. He swore that Police Lieut. Becker ordered and contrived the murder of Rosenthal as a blackmailer; that Becker gloated over the body of Rosenthal as it lay in the West Forty-seventh street station, and that Becker paid the gunmen and tried for a time to protect them.

The climax was Rose's recital of Becker's reply to Rose's question as to whether or not he had seen the body: "It was a pleasing sight to me to look and see that aqualing—there and if it had not been for the presence of the district attorney, I would have run him down and cut his tongue out as a warning to future scoundrels."

VARIOUS SAUCES FOR FISH

Different Mixtures Are Required for the Different Species That May Be Served.

A hostess home from Spain brought with her a fish sauce which is popular with the Spaniards. Its foundation is a thick French dressing made of one tablespoon of vinegar to eight of oil. It is seasoned with a half teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of mustard and enough to color.

Into this dressing mixed the finely chopped whites and yolks—each separately—of three hard-boiled eggs, a dozen chopped olives and half a dozen chopped sweet peppers.

Mayonnaise served in a small silver or china sauce boat is often passed with fried smelt, halibut, scallops and eels. This may have half dozen sweet pickles chopped in it or a tablespoonful of capers.

Some hostesses serve extra drawn butter in a separate sauce boat, with broiled mackerel or bluefish. This should be highly seasoned with pepper and may be colored with paprika, or should be nicely browned.

A nice sauce for shell fish is made by using the broth that comes from steaming, or a little of the clam broth that is saved. Fry six small onions in butter, but do not color a deep brown, thicken with a tablespoonful of flour; then reduce to a creamy gray, with the broth, season with salt, pepper and a little salt. Just before serving stir in the yolk of an egg, a sherry glass of white wine, the same amount of cream and some chopped chives or capers.

TO BRAISE A GUINEA HEN

Excellent Dish May Be Made From Fowl if Necessary Time and Care Is Given.

A young tender guinea fowl is not to be despised, well selected and cooked, it is not very unlike a partridge. A young fowl can be told by pressing the breast bone at the tip; if it is pliant, the wings very tender, the legs smooth, free from feathers and a pale yellow color, buy it. A young fowl will require about one hour and fifteen minutes for braising—older ones double the time. Dress and truss as chicken. Melt a tablespoonful of butter in the pan; when hot, lay in the guinea, and turn on all sides until lightly browned, then add a sliced carrot, small onion, bits of celery, a cup of tomato juice or stock; cover closely and cook very slowly and gently until tender. Salt lightly after it has cooked an hour. A casserole is better than a covered roaster for braising. Serve on a platter, garnished with watercress, the gravy in a sauce boat.—National Food Magazine.

Steamed Rice and Salmon.

A way to use salmon a little different from the usual recipe is as follows: Line a bread pan, slightly buttered, with warm steamed rice. Fill the center with cold boiled salmon, flaked and seasoned with salt, pepper and a slight grating of nutmeg. Cover with rice and steam one hour. Run on a hot platter for serving and pour over the rice a one-half cup of butter, three tablespoons flour, one and one-half cups hot water, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and cook for three eggs and one teaspoon lemon juice. Melt half butter, add four with seasonings and pour on gradually hot water. Boil rapidly until tender, add remaining butter in small pieces.

Use for Parsley.

You can flavor a lot of things with parsley. Cut it up fine and put in soup. It makes a different kind of soup altogether, and I am sure you will be pleased with the result. If you would like a few Swedish dishes in which parsley is used I would like to send them to you. I would like to send you my way of putting up parsley for the winter if you have it in the garden. Don't put over parsley for fowls? I use parsley at nearly every meal, both for cooking and garnishing. When you would like to use Swedish dishes. They are plain but very good.

Eggplant Fritters.

Sift thoroughly one cup of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper. Add enough milk to make a stiff batter and one egg well beaten. Then stir into it the mashed eggplant pulp. Drop this, a spoonful at a time, in hot fat and fry a golden brown. Use olive oil or cooking oil if you prefer to use in frying, as it is more palatable and healthful.

Orford Salad.

Small leaves of lettuce, three to each guest. On each a slice of orange, cut not too thin. On each slice of orange place a strip of canned red sweet pepper. Over all pour a dressing made of the juice from the ends of oranges, a little of pepper liquor and plenty of salt. Very pretty and so good.

Pumpkin Fritters.

One pint of pumpkin bottled and sliced, one pint of milk, two eggs, one half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup sugar and two or three cups flour. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes.

Tea Cake.

Half cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup sweet milk, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup flour and two or three cups flour. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes.
