OBITUARY.
JOHN F. COWDEN.
John F. Cowden died Thursday at his home, 440 Prairie street, Elgin, at the age of 80 years. He was an early settler of Barrington township, residing on a farm at Barrington Center for 48 years. He was born in Williamstown, Massachusetts, in July, 1832, and was an employee of one of the first cotton mills that was operated in the United States. In 1845 he removed to Dundee township and settled in a locality called Centerville, where he lived until 1860, when he moved to Barrington township. There he was married to Miss Elmina Messer. They lived there until 15 years ago when they removed to Elgin.

On August 12, 1862, he enlisted in Company K, Eighty-eighth Illinois Infantry and was later discharged on account of failing health. Early in life he united with the Methodist Episcopal church and was a prominent lay member. Mr. Cowden was one of the leaders in educational and religious advancement in this section during the earlier part of his life. He was an advocate of the church and the school house and did much to enable the settler's children to acquire learning.

He was engaged in farming until compelled to retire on account of failing health, yet he devoted much of his time to mission work and was known as a local preacher. He supplied pulpits at churches that were without pastors and labored places urging them to erect churches and school houses. In the army he went about among the wounded, the sick and the disinherited to assist them.

A son, Herbert and three daughters, Mrs. Jay W. Erman, Nellie and Pearl (now Mrs. Charles Perry of Jacksonville, Wisconsin, and Mrs. H. W. Meyers of Wheaton are also daughters. Mr. Meyers was a former resident of this village.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at the family home at two o'clock. Rev. T. E. Reese, a former pastor of the Methodist church of this village, took part in the services.

ANTON DVORAK.

GIVE BANQUET FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Domestic Science Class Serves Six O'clock Dinner for Members of the Board of Education.

The domestic science class of the high school served the members of the board of education and their wives and the high school teachers to a most delicate and tasty six o'clock dinner Friday, January 25.

A long table covered with snowy linen adorned with a beautiful bouquet and hand made place cards, etc., occupied the spacious hall of our modern school building. The following four-course dinner was served in a graceful and pretty manner by the young ladies: first course, tomato bouillon; Imperial sticks; second course, beef loaf, mashed potatoes, cream peas, baccaria salad, olives; third course, sage pudding with grape sauce, whipped cream, cake and coffee.

After dinner the guests were invited to inspect the kitchen and manual training room.

If parents have any spare time it would be well spent visiting either of these beneficial departments. Domestic science is a new feature in the schools this year. It is a step toward progress and up-to-dateness and is a most necessary feature of any school where it is possible to devote the necessary time to it, think the members of the board of education. Manual training is another course which is now being given much attention by most high schools and has recently become a department in the local school. Prof. E. S. Smith has become enthusiastic over these two very practical departments, recognizing the fact that through them

Nasim Pasha's death by a shot from the revolver of Enver Bey or Talat Bey is believed to have been accidental. CAPTAIN McNALLY AND TEN OTHERS SLAIN BY IGORROTES.

Details Regarding Affair Are Meager From the Fact that the Wires Are All Down.

Manila, Jan. 28.—A wireless received here on Monday from Zamboanga confirms the report of the slaying of Capt. Patrick McNally of the Philippine scouts, but increases the number of those killed with him to ten instead of nine, as at first reported. Fourteen scouts were wounded by tribesmen. Captain McNally of the lieutenants and seven enlisted men were killed.

No details of the fighting have been received, but it is supposed to have been another of the attacks that the Igorrotes have been keeping up for the past several weeks on the forces under General Pershing. Early last week Captain Rhos and a detachment of constabulary were attacked by tribesmen, while crossing the Abulog river. A punitive column was sent in pursuit of this band and it is believed here that Captain McNally may have been with this force when surprised. All telegraph wires are down between Manila and Jolo, and the only information which has come has been received by wireless.

Railroad Executive Declared That the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Lines Complete.

Washington, Jan. 27.—James J. Hill, who took the stand before the house money trust committee Friday, opened his testimony with a list of his directorships in New York and Chicago banks and in the Great Northern and Burlington railroads. When the Northern Securities company was dissolved, he said, he received 37,000 shares of Great Northern and 52,000 shares of Northern Pacific. He now has 10,000 shares of Great Northern and his son, Louis W. Hill, has 13,500 shares. Mr. Hill testified that he was a director in the First National bank of St. Paul, one of the largest banks in the northwest. VISIT WAS MOST OPPORTUNE

Artist Calls to Exhibit Work at Moment When its Desirability Was Being Discussed.

Some years ago a publishing house was preparing to issue a new edition of the writings of Thoreau, writes Charles E. Olcott in Art and Progress.

The head of the house, a man of his staff were in consultation about the method of illustration. It was agreed that the pictures must be true nature, but how to get them was the problem. Artists who do book illustrations could not be expected to go into the woods and make pictures which would in any way assist the text to reveal nature as Thoreau saw it. Photographs would be admissible, but where was the professional photographer to find who would undertake to go into Thoreau's country in sunshine and rain, in summer and winter, to catch all the phases of nature which Thoreau recorded in his "Journal"? While the two men pondered, a caller sat in the outer office with a large portfolio under his arm. Five years before he had read Thoreau's "Journal" and had taken up his residence in Concord that he might visit the scenes there described. In all seasons and all kinds of weather he had wandered through the woods and over the fields with his camera, passionately fond of nature. He was now devoted to art. To him, photography was a pastime; it was his profession. For the pure love of nature and of art, and with no thought of pecuniary gain he had accomplished the very feat which the two business men had thought so difficult, and by a curious coincidence he appeared at the office to exhibit the result of his work at the precise moment when its desirability was being discussed.

WORDS OF TRUTH

FROM

WASHINGTON TEMPLE

THE FIRST DAY OF EPOCH

THE GENERAL account of the Bible tells us nothing about the formation of the Earth itself. It says: "In the beginning—the Earth was without form and void—shapeless, empty. There were neither mountains nor valleys, trees nor shrubs, rivers nor oceans, but the Earth was. How long before that it had been created, is not stated. The account of the Seven Days of Creation given in Genesis relates therefore not to the construction of our globe, but to the ordering of it for human habitation.

The expressions "evening and morning" and "day" cannot be understood to signify twenty-four-hour days because neither the Sun nor the Moon were visible on Earth until the Fourth Day. The Earth meantime was swathed in impenetrable darkness.

The word "day" mentioned in the Scriptures applies to any period or Epoch, as for instance we read of the "Day of temptation in the wilderness"—forty years (Psalm 95:8). Again, we read of the "Day of Christ," evidently referring to the thousand-year Day in which Messiah is to be the King over all the Earth. (Isa. 2:11). In the common affairs of life we use the word day similarly, when referring to Caesar's day, Napoleon's day, Luther's day, etc.

We are following the theory that each one of the Seven Days of the creative Week was a period of seven thousand years. This, seven times seven thousand would make a total of forty-nine thousand (7x7,000=49,000) years. This period, completed, will usher in a grand Fifth or Jubilee Epoch.

"Let there be light; and there was light." Thus, briefly, is summed up the result of the 7,000 years which the First Day of Epoch was.

The other eight small periods of the creative Week were not so long as the First Day. Gradually the "brooding" of Holy Energy bore down a light, probably resembling the Aurora Borealis—not sunlight, because the Sun did not appear until the Fourth Day or Epoch.

THEY GET WHAT THEY WANT

Salvation Army Members Always Have Way of Getting Anything They Require.

There are few things that the Salvation Army does not require at some time in its existence, and because it never hesitates to ask for what it wants it usually gets it, says the New York Times. The other night a small band of Army enthusiasts needed umbrellas. Rain pelted down with stinging force, yet they refused to break ranks. A boy with umbrellas to rent perceived their dejected condition and rushed up shouting:

"Here are your umbrellas. Only 5 cents apiece till the meeting breaks up."

None of the Salvationists seemed disposed to gain protection at that price, so their resourceful leader made an appeal in their behalf, addressing the few bystanders he said:

"If there are any persons in the audience who had contemplated contributing a little money to the cause, will you kindly give it now that we may rent the umbrellas which our young friend has offered us."

"Well, I'll never" was the somewhat inappropriate comment of one man on the sidewalk, but he and his companions contributed a quarter with which to rent umbrellas for the five women Salvationists.

Snakes That Bother Fishermen.

Poisonous snakes, driven to higher land by the high water in Lake Pontchartrain, have been playing havoc with fishermen, two of whom were bitten so severely the other day that they had to be sent to the Charity hospital.

James Nary, nineteen years old, a resident of Bucktown, occupies a cot in Ward 46 as a result of being bitten on the great toe by a "diamond" snake he encountered near West End shortly before daybreak while hunting bullfrogs. John Galtley of Milwaukee, the other snake victim, is not so seriously affected, although bitten in the same place by a "cottonmouth" snake.

"The 'cottonmouth' and the 'diamond' are the only two snakes fishermen fear," said Nary at the hospital. "Cottonmouths and the other poisonous snakes amount to nothing. I catch moonshiners in my hand and twist their heads off. It is the 'cottonmouth' and the 'diamond' that bother us."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Word for the Day.

"Beauty women criticized for 'looking like a series of a week' and the New York World comments: 'It is not just to criticize a woman for enjoying the society of her kind and said you have seen her look like a week.'"

AMBITION TALKS

BY HARLAN READ

ARE YOU SAVED OR DAMNED BY YOUR PLEASURES?

There are a number of good ways to measure a man.

One of the best ways is to notice his pleasures.

If the only thing that can interest a man is a deerskin story, he is a leper.

If his chief pleasure in life is the financial ruin of a competitor, he is a viper.

If his Sabbath sport is the savage joy of gloating over what will happen to the damned, he is a devil.

But the man who loves a ball game, a political mass meeting and his work is worth his weight.

And to be worth your weight is wonderful. There are no few of us who are.

The highest form of pleasure is when it manifests itself in work.

Pleasure is simply a mental state, and men of strong minds can enjoy whatever they want in.

To be a man is a struggle because he does not know how to enjoy anything but work to give himself away. The only man who is dragged away from work is one who is not enjoying it.

A man never really lives until he learns to find pleasure in his work, and since every honest man must work, why not make it a pleasure?

PAINFUL, TRYING TIMES

Housework is hard enough for a healthy woman. The wife who has a bad back, who is weak, who is tired all the time, finds her duties a heavy burden. Thousands of nervous, discouraged, sickly women have traced their troubles to sick kidneys — back aches — and through relief through using Doan's Kidney Pills. The painful, trying times of woman's life are much easier to bear if the kidneys are well.

What They Brought.

The teacher, after telling the Christ story, was questioning the infant class.

"Now, who can tell me what the wise men brought to the baby Jesus?" she asked.

Eight-year-old Alexander waved a shabby hand.

"I know, teacher! Gold and incense and myrrh," he triumphantly exclaimed.

NEWS FROM FATHERLAND

A Brief Resume of the Most Important News from the German Empire.

The Hamburg-Austrian steamship company has ordered four new freight steamers to be built at the Vulcan iron works.

English-speaking patrolmen are kept in the center of Berlin. Their distinction is American and English flags on their sleeves.

A Berlin airship company has failed. The liabilities amount to more than $100,000. Another company is expected to be liquidated.

The defunct company and continue its business.

General Conrad von Hotzendorf, head of the general staff of the army of Austria-Hungary, visited the capital of Rumania, and the attention paid to him indicates the friendly relations between the two countries.

The list of Americans, as prepared by the American embassy, who were presented at the Kaiser's Schlopp on January 16, was unusually short and was composed largely of the members of the embassy staff who arrived during the past year.

Among them were Captain Alfred W. Bjornstad, military attaché and Mrs. Bjornstad. The only American of an official character presented were Rear Admiral F. E. Chadwick, U. S. N. retired, and Mrs. Chadwick, also Mrs. Sloan, daughter of Professor William M. Sloan, Columbia university.

Tens of thousands of soldiers in the Austro-Hungarian army had to spend the Christmas holidays away from home. A national subscription was taken up for the purpose of sending them presents and providing for a pleasant evening for them. All kinds of people and institutions took part in the movement, excepting the Slavs.

The Rumanians as well as the Slavs living farther south. These people managed to show their feelings by withholding their contributions.

From the start the Slavs of the dual monarchy have been opposed to the position of Austria-Hungary, and the Kaiser's question. For this reason the government has kept mainly German regiments in the field during the war.

A novel ferry boat has been completed for the port of Hamburg. It is provided with a movable deck, which has lifting power sufficient to raise a load of six freight cars three or four feet, to a height of 16 feet.

The vessel is of 470 tons gross measurement, and is 116 1/2 feet long, 50 1/2 feet in breadth and 12 1/2 feet deep. It has two triple-expansion engines of 440 indicated horsepower. There is a high steel superstructure on the top of which is a superstructure bridge from which point all the operations of loading, unloading and navigation can be directed.

A ferry service of this character has become necessary because of the great extensions which are being made to the port. The berth in which the vessel enters and receives its load is completely inclosed, so that it is not influenced by the current of the river or the movement of passing steamers.

The movable deck is indispensable as there is a tidal variation in the water level of about six feet in normal times, and considerably more in abnormal periods.

Under the regime of Charlemagne Tower the brightest social stars of America lent their luster to the court fests of Berlin. Pretty American girls were presented their majesties by the wife of Ambassador Hill, girls and young matrons who charmed the emperor and empress by their repartee and their natural charm.

Cultured women they were, of course; women who represented the wealth of America, it is true, but who shone principally by virtue of their own personal accomplishments and distinctive American personalities. Unknowingly and through the intermediary of clever American diplomats, these representative women became the most eloquent advertisements of noble American womanhood at the most brilliant court of Europe. Now all is changed, and the gentlemen of the court are wondering.

If the emperor should ask Countess Brockdorf, who is her majesty's friend and adviser, she might know that Mrs. Leshman, wife of the American ambassador at Berlin, has been unable to entertain since she entered the embassy nearly two years ago and that Ambassador Leshman, who enjoys a life of quiet and contemplation, has received but very few requests for introduction at court.

This really explains the situation. Under the regime of Mr. Tower, Americans of Berlin and breeding themselves splendidly. When Ambassador Hill held office the embassy was gay with the doings of society under the leadership of Mrs. Hill. Royal automobiles swept into the courts of the big hotels and princes left calling cards in the ante-rooms of American visitors. The United States alone like crown jewels in the ballrooms of the palace, dancing minuets and the courtly lancers with dashing officers of the guards and bearing themselves like queens born to the throne.

The budget of the kingdom of Prussia contains an item of $175,000 which is intended as a means of keeping first-class German works of art in the country. The desired appropriation will be used for conveying with rich Americans in the field of art. Of late years the museums of Prussia have not been able to compete with the Americans, but if this appropriation is granted there will be a change in this respect.

The Serbian iron works in Silesia has received orders from the Russian government for two cruisers and nine torpedo boats.

WHITE PIMPLES ON HEAD

Ransom, Ill.—The trouble started on our baby when he was only about two weeks old. Started like little white pimples, looked like an old scab of blood and matter. His whole head was covered for a few months. Then it went to his ear, shoulders, and his whole body. It seemed to come out thick and sticky on his head, while on the other parts of his body it was more like water coming out of the skin. He would scratch until the eruption would be all covered with blood and gradually spread. The least little stir or rub would cause the sores to bleed, spread and itch. Never had a full night's sleep, restless all night.

The sores were horrid to look at. It lasted until he was about two and a half years old. Then we saw an eczema advertisement in the paper to use but it did no good. Then we used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. We put the Cuticura Ointment on thick at bedtime and put a tight hood on so he could not scratch the sores. It was about two and a half years old. EGGS FOR HATCHING

It costs no more to keep good hens than poor ones. That's why I wish to sell you about my famous Island Hen. I have about 75 hens and have been raising them 25 to 30 years a day all winter without special feeding. I believe this is a very good record and that it would pay all chicken raisers to try this again for one year. I will offer 500 eggs from these hens at a very reasonable price to suit you. Write to me.

PERCIE R. JAMES

OLDEST SOLDIER IN BRITAIN

Recently Celebrated the Fifty-Second Anniversary of His Appointment as Royal Gunner.

The oldest soldier in the British army is said to be Samuel Parsons, the king's gunner at Windsor castle, who lately celebrated the fifty-second anniversary of his appointment as the royal gunner in the round tower of Windsor castle. Although nearly 87 years of age, he is still on the active list, and has drawn full military pay for sixty-five years. Parsons still retains all his faculties, his sight being very good, and enjoys good health. He was born at Morval, East Loos, Cornwall, in 1836, and at the age of 19 years joined the Royal artillery at Devonport. He was at Quebec with his regiment for six years, and after three years' home service was dispatched to the Crimea. After being laid up for a time with fever Parsons returned to the seat of war the day before the charge of Balaklava, although he did not take part in that memorable charge, but was present at the battle of Inkermann. After the Crimea he went to Woolwich and was appointed royal gunner at Windsor castle Oct. 17, 1883.

Parsons possesses six medals, including the Crimean medal, with bars for Sebastopol, Inkermann and Balaklava; the Turkish medal, the long service medal, Queen Victoria's jubilee medal, with a bar for the diamond jubilee; King Edward's coronation medal and King George's coronation medal. During the fifty-two years Parsons has been at the round tower there has never been an accident, relates the London Standard.

Church Music.

Music has long been notoriously a provoker of discord. Once in my news-hunting days I suffered the ignominy of a swoon on a choir ramp, and I thereupon formed the habit of lending an anxious ear to rumors of trouble in choir lofts. The average ladder-like Tenor, built up for the display of the soprano's vocal prowess, has always struck me as an unwholesome thing. I even believe that the horrors of highly embellished offertories have done much to tighten purses and loosen generous impulses. The presence behind the pulpit of a languid quartette pressing God on behalf of the bored chorists in the pews has always seemed to me the profanation of solemnity. Nor has long contemplation of vested choirs in Episcopal churches shaken my belief that choir music should be an affair of the congregation.—New York Tribune, in the Atlantic.

A Girl With Midnight Ride.
To warn people of a fearful forest fire in the Catalina a young girl rode her horse at midnight and saved many lives. Her dress was a glorious but she was often saved by Dr. Kings New Discovery incurring lung trouble, coughs and colds, which might have ended in consumption and pneumonia. "It cured me of a dreadful cough and lung disease," writes W. B. Patterson, Wallington, Tex. "After four in our family had died with consumption, and I gained 27 pounds." Nothing so sure and safe for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Barrington Pharmacy.—Adv.

We're going to send ten farmers to Bitter Root Valley. They must be married and the larger the families they have the better. They must be honest, industrious and have practical knowledge of farming. These 10 families will be placed on farms of their own that can be paid for out of the earnings and will be given good wages to help take care of our commercial orchards. This is the "poor man's chance." He will have every opportunity to make fortune in a few years on land good as can be found anywhere—land that will be worth $1,000 per acre when he gets it under cultivation, land that will net him $200 to $300 per acre every year in fruiting regularity. You will need only a small capital to start with. You can pay for your farm land out of the profits after the second year. Remember we can send only 10 families, so write at once, if you think you can qualify. This is the Poor Chance. O. W. Kerr Company, 209 Andrus Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Better Than Spanking.
Spanking will not cure children of wetting the bed, because it is not a habit but a dangerous disease. The C. H. Rowan Drug Company, Chicago, Illinois, have discovered a strictly harmless remedy for this distressing disease and to make known its merits they will send a 50-cent package securely wrapped and prepaid, absolutely free to any reader of the Review. This remedy also cures frequent desire to urinate and inability to control urine during the day or night in old or young. The C. H. Rowan Drug Company are an old reliable house, write to them today for the free medicine. Cure the afflicted members of your family, then tell your neighbors and friends about this remedy.

Frightful Polar Winds
blow with terrific force at the far north and play havoc with the skin, causing red, rough or sore chapped hands and lips, that need Bockien's Arnica Salve to heal them. It makes the skin soft and smooth. Unrivaled for cold-sores, also burns, boils, sores, ulcers, cuts, bruises and piles. Only 25 cents at the Barrington Pharmacy.

Before Varnishing.
Before varnishing furniture rub the wood with fine sandpaper to give it a smooth surface. See that brushes used are soft and of a good quality, or varnish will dry streaky.
