VILLAGE TRUSTEES IN MONTHLY SESSION

Board Pays Bills and Considers a Few Communications and Other Matters—Meeting Was Short.

At the regular monthly session of the board of trustees, held Monday evening at the village hall, little business out of the routine was transacted. The trustees were in receipt of a communication from the state board of health enclosing a copy of a letter received by that board from A. E. Keefer of this village complaining of the condition of the ditch on Russell street between Grove avenue and his property. The matter was referred to the committee on drains and sewers with instructions to make a full investigation and report at the next meeting.

Some informal discussion was indulged in regarding the practicability of constructing a booth in the ante-room of the hall for the use of operators of moving picture machines, cutting a hole in the wall for the pictures to be flashed through and placing the screen on the opposite wall, just the reverse of the present plan. This would have two advantages the trustees thought: that of lessening danger in case the film caught fire and giving more room in the hall for the audience. The idea may be taken up later.

The trustees also had their attention called to a bill presented by H. D. A. Grebe to Fred Haemper of Palatine for replacing a hydrant on Main and Cemetery streets which was broken by Mr. Haemper recently when moving a building. Mr. Haemper was of the opinion that the bill was excessive and wished the advice of the trustees. No one action was taken, but the general opinion of the trustees seemed to be that it would be better for Mr. Haemper to pay the bill without further protest, and Marshal Peters was instructed to advise Mr. Haemper of this decision, should he have the opportunity.

The following bills were allowed:

Gray's Picture Shows.

R. W. Gray, at his show tomorrow evening will present an Indian film in two reels entitled "The Fall of Black Hawk." Black Hawk was the Indian Chief who, with his band, terrorized the white settlers of this vicinity early in the nineteenth century, and precipitated a war in which Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis, later presidents of two warring peoples, fought side by side until almost the last one of that once powerful tribe of Indians was killed. This picture should be of especial interest to Mr. Gray's audience because it depicts scenes closely related to the early history of this state. The place where this village now stands was once a hunting ground of Black Hawk's tribe and it is quite probable that some of the battles of that early Indian war were fought on this very spot. Other attractions are mentioned in his ad on page eight.

Haynes Takes Fifty Dollars.

John Eddy, a 19-year-old, son of

H. D. A. Grebe, left the village Monday evening taking with him $50 in currency which he purchased from Mr. Grebe's cash drawer.

Eddy has been an employee of Mr. Grebe's for about a month. That evening considerable money was left in the cash drawer, about $150, and Mr. Grebe considers himself fortunate that he did not lose all of it. After taking the money Eddy engaged George Wilburn to take him to Crystal Lake, where it has since been learned, he took a train to Elgin, and there purchased a ticket to Milwaukee.

Eddy, the young man's foster father, is an employee of the United States Express company in Chicago. He refuses to be responsible.

WRITES OF BOYS OF LONG AGO

Former Teacher in Lake County Schools
Speaks of Difference in Boys of
Now and Earlier Days.

The following item, recently published in a Waukegan paper, should interest local people because it is the story of a former resident of this village.

"A Waukegan man who used to teach school near Barrington happened to be talking about the way children are today trained in the homes and in the schools. He let his mind wander back to when he was a school teacher. And then he thought of an incident which bears recounting here because of the contrast with boys' actions of those days and now.

"It was just time for the janitor to ring the school bell at noon. The teacher glanced out of the window and saw a funeral procession at the edge of the school yard. Quickly he touched the janitor's arm, saying: 'Don't ring the bell just yet.'

"The janitor obeyed and then the teacher looked out of the window to watch the procession pass. And the sight he beheld, rewarded him for having held back the ringing of the bell.

"There along the edge of the sidewalk, he saw the school boys lined up with their heads bowed and their hats in their hands as the procession passed, showing a degree of respect which brought tears to his eyes.

"The chances are if such a thing happened in this locality, the boys instead of doffing their hats and showing respect, would hurl a snowball or a stick at the carriages as they passed. And it all goes to show the difference in the effort of teaching children these little courtesies, thoughtfulness, etc., in the home and in the school. This teacher admitted that he had always done his best to instill into his pupils' minds the value of being polite, courteous and always manifest a desire to do the little things in life which are worth doing.

"The teacher in question is now Circuit Clerk of Lake county—L. O. Brockway. And, perhaps, that's why he's clerk—because he made it a rule to think of those little things and try to cause others to think of them."

Milk Producers Meet.

Fred Blume of Palatine and William Krunfuss of Barrington township were the men from this vicinity elected as directors of the Milk Producers' association at the meeting held in Chicago Monday. Fred Kirschner and P. A. Hawley, the delegates from the local organization, were the only ones to attend the meeting from this village.

An all-day session was held and a long resolution was passed in regard to the price to be accepted by the producers for their milk for the six summer months commencing April first. The substance of the resolution was that no less than $1.60 per hundred pounds, average, would be considered by the dairymen taking their milk to包围 planting, and not less than $1.25 a can by car shippers.

Talk Politics Soon.

Township and village politics will soon be the most important local issue and it is time for all prospective candidates to announce themselves. Township primaries will be held about the middle of March and the village primary about two weeks later.

If you are desirous of becoming an office holder or, wish re-election, the quickest and most satisfactory way for you to get your name before the voters is to place your announcement in the paper to which the voters are accustomed to.

This picture should be of especial interest to Mr. Gray's audience because it depicts scenes closely related to the early history of this state. The place where this village now stands was once a hunting ground of Black Hawk's tribe and it is quite probable that some of the battles of that early Indian war were fought on this very spot. Other attractions are mentioned in his ad on page eight.

OT as the great who grow more great
Until from us they are apart—
How we have loved the great—
How we have loved the great—
We know his was a brother's heart.
The marching years may render dim
The humanness of other men,
Today we are akin to him
As they who knew him best were then.

Wars have been won by mail-clad hands,
Realms have been won by sword-bedecked kings.
But others—other—
As one who loved the common things;
The common faith of man was his,
The common faith in man he had—
For this to-day his grave face is—
A face full joyous and half sad.

A man of earth! Of earthy stuff,
As honest as the fruitful soil,
Guarded as the friendly trees, and rough
As billabards that had known his toll;
Of earthy stuff—let it be told,
For earth-born men rise and reveal
A courage fair as beaten gold
And the enduring strength of steel.

So now he dominates our thought,
This humble great man holds us thus
Because of all he dreamed and wrought,
Because his skin is to us
He is his inherent truth and truth
While God was working out his plan,
And they that were his foes, forsooth,
Come to pay tribute to the Man.

Not as the great who grow more great
Until we have a mighty race—
We strove of fortune nor of fame
Gave Lincoln his undying name.
A common man, earth-born, earth-born,
Of the breed of who work and wait—
His was a soul above all scorn,
His was a heart above all hate.

Bible Lecture.

The lecture on the Bible by Rev. Dr. Leseman at the Methodist church last Thursday evening was both entertaining and instructive. The attendance was good, though not quite so large as at the former lecture. The object of the lecture was to show how necessary it is in order to have a proper understanding of a passage or a book of the Bible, to have a knowledge of the end for which it was written, and the circumstances surrounding the writer and the writing. This was illustrated quite at length by an analysis of the book of Amos in the old testament and the letter of Paul to the Philippians in the new.

Dr. Leseman has for several years been one of the lecturers on Bible study at the training school for the city, home and foreign missions in Chicago. The lectures here in Barrington are side lights on the course in Bible study being pursued under the direction of the pastor of the church. The classes are given every Monday evening.

Drainage Commissioners Let Contract.

The contract was let in the commissioners in drainage district number two, Town of Vernon, for the digging of a ditch through a large tract of land near Prairie View at Waukegan Tuesday morning. The commissioners included the entire county, taking in every city and village and rural road, and makes a volume of about 1,200,000 cubic yards in nine inches in size. A complete business and society directory is included under each town head as well as a residential directory. The entire village of Barrington is included, although the greater portion of the village lies in Cook county.

Trip Around the World.

The members of the Young People's Social Union of the Baptist church have planned a "Trip Around the World" entertainment to be given on Friday evening, February 14, in the Tabernacle. The cost will be provided and the passengers will be taken to the homes of the various members of the church, each representing a country. The first conveyance will start at seven p. m. and this stop will be made at "Ireland" (Mrs. Carrie Kendall). The other stops are "Germany," "Albert Robert's," "Italy," Fred Lines; "Japan," George Banks; "United States," Baptist church parson. The last trip commences at 8:30 p. m.

High Butter Market.
The prevailing sales of butter were made on the Elgin board of trade Monday at 36 cents a pound. It was voted to raise the quality of butter one percent in winter and one and one-half percent in summer. The butter must now test 82 points in winter and 85 in summer.

Meet With Mrs. Mattison.

The lecture on the Bible by Rev. Dr. Leseman at the Methodist church met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. O. F. Mattison. There were seventeen present. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Howard P. Castle and the topic for consideration was, "The New Educational Methods in Modern China." Persons taking part in the program were, Mrs. Mrs. H. A. Barnden, Mrs. J. A. Calkins, Mrs. Ida Benett, Miss Irene Keefer and Mrs. John Schwem.

There was also a general discussion on the subject of Chinese education, in which a number of ladies took part. A message of thanks was received from Fai Fu, China, for the Christmas present sent to the children in the school which this society is supporting in that place. It was announced that a letter would be sent from the schoolmaster on.

Will Have New Directory.

K. B. Sundstrom, the directory man, is in town this week making complications for a new directory which will be published in April. Mr. Sundstrom has printed eight direcories for this county and plans to issue one each two years, but the one he is now working on will be the first since 1908. His directory includes the entire county, taking in every city and village and rural road, and makes a volume of about 1,200,000 cubic yards in nine inches in size. A complete business and society directory is included under each town head as well as a residential directory. The entire village of Barrington is included, although the greater portion of the village lies in Cook county.

Charles Albrecht Found.

Charles Albrecht of Prairie View, who disappeared from here in the latter part of November, 1911, has been located at San Benito, Texas, where he is working at the carpenter trade according to the Waukegan Sun. Albrecht was a foreman on the Watson farm in Barrington township for two years and was engaged in drilling a well for the village of Lake Zurich at the time of his disappearance. He was very well known throughout Lake county, and although he left a few debts behind him his sudden disappearance was generally attributed to foul play by his relatives and friends.

The Sun story is to the effect that a party of Lerville men ran across him recently while they were in Texas in connection with a land deal. He intends to remain where he is, the Sun says.

Ground Hog Seen Shadow.

The legendary weather prognosticator, G. H. the Professor Moore of the animal kingdom, had ample opportunity to see his shadow Sunday, and, but the one he is now working on will be the first since 1908. His directory includes the entire county, taking in every city and village and rural road, and makes a volume of about 1,200,000 cubic yards in nine inches in size. ## THE LINCOLN BIRTHDAY BANQUET

All Preparations Are Made for the Yearly Banquet of the Barrington Men's Club.

Before another issue of the Review the Lincoln Jubilee banquet of the Men's Club on February 12, will be only a memory. It is 50 years since the great Lincoln, by a stroke of his pen, backed up by the freedom loving spirit of the soldiers and citizens of the north struck off the shackles from the limbs of four million dusky sons of Ham. There are ten millions of them now, and many of them are making rapid strides to the race for worthy citizenship.

The program of toasts, for the banquet, provides two brief addresses on this subject, one by Rev. H. H. Thores and the other by F. Lovell Bennett. The rest of the program deals with Lincoln as a man and as a statesman. Good speakers will respond as Messrs. A. C. Lines, H. P. Castle, Herman Gieseke and L. H. Bennett. E. L. Wilmer will see to it that there shall be no lack of innocent fun. The "Rail-splitter" will scatter chips and good music, vocal and instrumental, will add to the pleasure of the occasion. The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church will again provide the menu, and nothing in that line will be lacking. Dinner will be served at 6:45 p. m. There will be an informal reception in the auditorium from 6:00 to 6:45 p. m. Programs will be obtained at L. B. Roemer at the office of the Public Service company on Cook street. Also telephone Mr. Bennett, telephone number 12, or drop him a postal to reserve seats. There will be accommodations for only 100 persons at the tables and plates are 10 cents each.

GOVERNOR'S HAPPY ENTRY INTO OFFICE

Inauguration Day an Event That Will Long Be Remembered by the Dunne Family.

BUSY TIME FOR ALL INVOLVED

State's Chief Executive Overjoyed, Though Tired, at Close of strenuous Hours That Marked His First Day of Power—Mrs. Dunne Shows Joy at Reception.

Springfield—Inauguration day was a great day for Daddy Dunne. Eugene crept 3, crept into his pa's bedroom in the St. Nicholas Hotel at 6 o'clock in the morning and gave him a long serious look. He jumped onto his bed and nudged him. The governor slept up.

"What's the matter, my boy?" he asked.

"Nothing," answered Eugene. "You are worried?" asked the father.

"No, but when does the band begin to play?" inquired the youngster.

"Come, pa, and get your tags on. I want to get up to the big house with the great yard and the pool table in the basement."

Eugene made off to awaken his eight sisters and brothers, and the day was started.

Sleep is broken.

Governor Dunne has had his office for sixteen years, including his service on the bench and as mayor of Chicago, but at no time was he ever unable to sleep well the night before he was to enter a new office. This was an exceptional occasion, however, as it was a case of lifting "ids" bowing and smiling until the capitol was reached. Governor Dunne received the huzzas of the populace quite modestly. This was especially true of the magnificent speech he read from the rostrum to take the oath. His speech, most of which he read, was delivered with deliberation. His voice was a bit husky but glad that all these happy events were in his honor because his wife was happy over it and because the young people in the state were happy.

Worried by silk hat.

With Mrs. Dunne on his arm he left the side entrance of the hotel at 10:30 o'clock to enter the carriage. He wore a high hat and frequently adjusted it. He caught sight of "Billy" Bremner, the governor's valet.

"See Will," the governor whispered, "keep away right off for my derby hat. I want to get rid of this thing I'm wearing as soon as I can."

Mrs. Dunne was gowned simply. She wore a scallop coat and a large picture hat. It was snowing a little and the carriage started off in response to the cheer of the crowd near the inn the governor lifted his title. It was cold, but he smiled his smile. Dunne smile, then opened the carriage, which started and the ceremony was begun. An active young man was driving a "spur" and the occupants kindly obliged by exchanging a few words and nodding to the spectators, and then off again.

Welcomed by Deneen. Shortly before eleven, the Dunne carriage drove up to the executive mansion portal, the house with the name of the state on it. It was surrounded with trees and the fine trees sparkled with their gems of icy crystals. It was a magnificent background for the meeting of the "two governors." Governor Deneen stepped out with Mrs. Deneen and, passing down the steps, met Mr. and Mrs. Sarah Fughtman. Mrs. Fughtman told him at once that he was to be discharged, and the bomb was sent to secure revenge.

"I wanted revenge," he declared, "and I went down to the basement where I sleep. Thursday night determined to get it. I found a piece of lead pipe and a cigar box and when I saturated the inside of the pipe with the explosive, stopping up one end of the pipe with a percussion cap. Sunday night I finished the machine. It was built with nail and when I heard Herrera go out, I put the machine on my mule and rode away."

The Herrera found the machine on the marketplace at ten o'clock. Mrs. Herrera opened it and was instantly killed by the explosion. Herrera and Miss Fughtman were seriously injured.

Miss Grace Walker, known also as Miss Grace Taylor, at the apartment house in West Seventy-second street in New York, was a former sweetheart.

NEW YORK MAN CONFESES TO KILLING PERSONS BY SENDING THEM BOMBS.

JANITOR SOUGHT REVENGE

Clears Many Old Mysteries—Startles New York Police by Calmly Admitting Slaying, Wife of His Superintendent—Killed Many.

New York, Feb. 8.—John Paul Farrell, a janitor, fifty-three years old, after maintaining his innocence for two years, has admitted that he was a constant trouble to his employer, the superintendent of the department of combustibles, who had been sent to open it.

Farrell was employed as handy man in the apartment at No. 1475 Fulton avenue, of which Herrera was superintendent, and in which he lived with his wife, Mrs. Sarah Fughtman.

Herrera had told him at once that he was to be discharged, and the bomb was sent to secure revenge.

"I wanted revenge," he declared, "and I went down to the basement where I sleep. Thursday night determined to get it. I found a piece of lead pipe and a cigar box and when I saturated the inside of the pipe with the explosive, stopping up one end of the pipe with a percussion cap. Sunday night I finished the machine. It was built with nail and when I heard Herrera go out, I put the machine on my mule and rode away."

When the Peanuts Ran Out

For two hours an old back country man, who had never seen a squirrel, had been standing before a row of them in silent silence, dealing out peanuts one at a time. When the last was gone and no more forthcoming, Jumbo, the largest elephant, reached over and removed the enterprising's hair from his head to the top of his own skull.

For the first time in two hours the old man expressed his emotions in words: "You old two-tailed Indian rubber nuisance you!" he exclaimed indignantly. "If I knew which end your head was on, I'd slap your face."

COFFEE THRESHED HER.

15 Long Years.

"over fifteen years," writes a patient, hopeful little old woman, "while a coffee mill I suffered from indigestion and nervous trouble. I was treated by good physicians, but did not get much relief.

"I never suspected that coffee might be aggravating by condition. (Tea is just as injurious, because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.) I used Postum and did not get much relief.

"For several years ago, while at a friend's house I drank a cup of Postum and though I had never tasted anything more delicious.

"I used Postum instead of coffee and soon began to improve in health, so that now I can walk half a dozen blocks or more with ease, and do many other things that I never thought I would be able to do again in this world.

"My appetite is good, I sleep well and am in much living.

"A lady of my acquaintance said she did not like Postum, it was so weak and tasteless.

"I explained to her the difference when it is made right—boiled according to directions. I told her that the coffee she used did not agree with her. Now her folks say they expect to use Postum the rest of their lives."

Postum now comes in concentrated, powder form, called instant Postum.

It is prepared by stirring a level tea-spoonful in a cup of hot water, adding sugar to taste, and enough cream to bring the coffee to golden brown.

FIRST ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR DUNNE

NEW EXECUTIVE URGES VARIOUS AMENDMENTS TO STATE CONSTITUTION.

SPEECH TO THE LEGISLATURE

Recommend that the Initiative and Referendum Be Put into Effect First—Improvement of Highways Considered Very Important.

Springfield, Ill.—Edward F. Dunne, the new governor of Illinois, delivered his inaugural address to the general assembly. He said in part:

To the Members of the Forty-eighth General Assembly:

The constitution of the state wisely provided that the governor shall, at each session, give to the legislature information by message of the condition of the state, and make such recommendations as he deems proper. In compliance with that provision Governor Dunne has submitted his message to you.

It also has become the custom for the incoming governor to make an inaugural address, recommending such measures to the consideration of the general assembly as he deems expedient and necessary. In pursuance of that custom I respectfully submit the following:

The constitution of this state should be amended in at least three essential particulars, and in at least three separate articles of the same to meet the demands of modern progress.

Initiative and Referendum.

Under Article IV, relating to the legislative department, as now phrased, the inherent right of all self-governing people to initiate and vote on any law is reserved to and by the people of Illinois.

For more than eight years the people of this state, following precedents set by other republics and fourteen sister states of the American Union, have been insistently demanding the right to legislate directly for themselves. This is the right and the right to vote legislation, passed by the legislature, contrary to the wishes of the people, by the referendum. Twice within the last eight years the people of Illinois, by overwhelming votes at the ballot box, in the ratio of about five to one, have manifested an urgent desire for this kind of reform. Their demand is insistent and just and has been too long denied.

I would respectfully recommend, therefore, at this session of the legislature, that the necessary legislative steps be taken to amend Article IV of the constitution so as to secure the right of direct legislation by the people themselves. The portion of eight per cent of the rotors voting at the last general election, and to secure the right of veto in the people, by requiring submission to the people of any law or laws, passed by the legislature, for their approval or disapproval upon the ballot box, in the ratio of five to one, of the voters at the last general election.

Article IX, Relating to Revenue.

Article IX of the constitution, relating to revenue and taxation, and Article XIV, relating to amendments to the constitution, ought also be amended, but we are unfortunately confronted with a constitutional impasse, which makes it impossible to provide for some three of these three amendments to the constitution at this session of the legislature.

Article XIV, on Amendments.

Article XIV of the constitution, relating to amendments to the constitution, declares that "the general assembly shall have no power to propose amendments to more than one article on this constitution at the same time."

This article itself should be amended.

No valid reason exists why several articles of the constitution should not be amended at the same session to meet the demands of modern conditions.

Amendment of State Board of Equalization.

Moreover, relief from some, and the most important, inequalities and the equalities of taxation is open to us without waiting for an amendment to the constitution. For years past the great corporations of the state have been enjoying undue favoritism in the matter of taxation, owing to maladministration of the law by the state board of equalization. This body is charged with the duty of assessing fairly and justly the property of corporations. It has signally failed in its duty. The corporations have been unduly favored at the expense of the people.

Experience has shown that the state board of equalization is unscientifically constituted and unscientifically operated. It is a department of state, and its work fiscal. It is unwieldy in numbers, intermittent in its labors, and secretive in its methods. It should be abolished. In its place should be created a tax court, or commission, composed of three or five members of appropriate experience and knowledge, appointed by the members, for a term of years, that shall remain in continuous session the entire year and record its acts and findings from day to day. It should be given all the powers now committed to the state board of equalization, and, in addition, there should have general supervision of the administration of the tax laws of the state, invested with power to advise and instruct local assessors, prescribe forms for assessment returns and reports, require returns from political aspiration all but the rich and corrupt. These clauses, the rich and corrupt, combined, form but a very small portion of the community, and to limit public officeholders to them is a violation of the spirit and genius of American institutions.

Should have general supervision of the administration of the tax laws of the state, invested with power to advise and instruct local assessors, prescribe forms for assessment returns and reports, require returns from political aspiration all but the rich and corrupt. These clauses, the rich and corrupt, combined, form but a very small portion of the community, and to limit public officeholders to them is a violation of the spirit and genius of American institutions.

To reform these conditions I, therefore, recommend the passage of a corrupt practices act, which will limit, within reasonable restrictions, the expenditure of money during a political campaign, and compel the publication of all accounts of money spent and expended both before and after election.

Civil Service.

Civil service is no longer an untried principle. Honesty and fair dealing, administered, it makes for better and more efficient public service, and the people have shown by their votes that they are in favor of it.

That the public service should give careful consideration to all measures relative to civil service, its extension to positions, which might be included within its scope, and other amendments which might make for the better operation or enforcement of the law.

Convict Labor.

That the law of competition in the supply of gas, electric light and power, street railways, and some other public utilities, has passed. Monopoly in these industries, controlled by a few, is a curse to the public, and creating a tax commission or commission, along the lines above indicated.

Public Utilities.

The law of competition in the supply of gas, electric light and power, street railways, and some other public utilities, has passed. Monopoly in these industries, controlled by a few, is a curse to the public, and creating a tax commission or commission, along the lines above indicated.

Improvement of Highways.

The only question, then, is whether the public shall own and operate through state or local agencies, or whether it shall allow these utilities to remain in the ownership and control of private corporations and regulate them.

That concern must be either the municipal corporation itself, or a private corporation.

The sole aim of a public corporation is to operate to the satisfaction of the community, which is always the best service at the lowest rate.

The sole aim or all private corporations, unregulated by law, is to make money for their stockholders, and the most money can be made by poor service at a high rate to the consumer.

The only question, then, is whether the public shall own and operate through state or local agencies, or whether it shall allow these utilities to remain in the ownership and control of private corporations and regulate them.

Municipal Ownership.

While the public utilities may not be ready, as yet, to undertake municipal operation of other than waterworks, legislation should be enacted immediately, giving all cities the right to build or buy, and to operate their utilities. For this purpose, cities should be empowered to issue bonds, subject to a referendum and such other reasonable safeguards as may be necessary. If such rights are given, it will force private corporations, now furnishing these utilities, to give decent service at decent rates, or face the alternative of public ownership.

State Regulation.

Important as it is to give cities the right to manage their own public utilities, it is also important to give state and local bodies large powers of regulation of the public utilities in the employment of public hands.

These utilities may be broadly classified as "extra-urban" and "inter-urban," the former being those that are either local in character, or are confined to a city and its suburbs, or they run through country districts and connect one place with another.

The inter-urban utilities can only be regulated by the state. For that purpose, a well-equipped utility commission should be created with large powers of regulation of the public utilities.

These utilities may be broadly classified as "extra-urban" and "inter-urban," the former being those that are either local in character, or are confined to a city and its suburbs, or they run through country districts and connect one place with another.

With respect to intra-urban, or electric utilities, it might be well, at the state level, to have a state commission control of the city utilities when requested by any of the several cities of the state.

These utilities may be broadly classified as "extra-urban" and "inter-urban," the former being those that are either local in character, or are confined to a city and its suburbs, or they run through country districts and connect one place with another.

MAN'S TRUEST FRIEND.

Out in Colorado, ten miles from Trinidad, Louis and Samuel Salvorno, 10 and 12 years old, started across the snow-clad plains for their uncle's ranch. With them went their collie dog.

The boys were attacked by three hunger-crazed coyotes. The collie fought to the death for his little masters. The boys were bitten and the collie is dying, but two of the coyotes were killed and the third driven off.

Such is the story that comes from Trinidad. Let us hope that it is all true except that the collie is dying! It may well be true, for such is the way of the collie.

THE FOUNDATION OF DEMOCRACY.

When a child's conduct shows that he is acquiring the principles of kindness, decency, regularity, a regard for the rights and interests of others and the other qualities that are the very foundation of Democracy, you need have no fear about his class-room studies. They will follow logically and naturally. The thing of the most importance is the development of moral fiber, a willingness for each to do his share and a determination to do the task before him thoroughly and conscientiously.

Dancing, the same as any other pastime, can become a demoralizing influence. Yet when rightly indulged in it has its proper place and sphere. Years ago the stately minuet was indulged in by young and old alike and had a strong tendency to add to the good graces of both. Then came the waltz, polka, two-step and all the rest at which all staid old people were duly shocked. And now it has gone a step farther and we have supposedly respectable young people indulging in dances that are a disgrace. If the evolution continues, a dance in a few years will resemble a debauch in the red light district. No good can come from allowing young boys and girls to attend them for the impressions they bring away can have nothing but a debasing influence.

No Need to Stop Work.

When the doctor orders you to stop it is orders you can't obey, you say. You know you are weak, run down and failing in health day by day, but you must work as long as you can stand. Will you not give your body positive tone, strength and vigor to your system, to prevent break down and build you up? Don't be weak, sickly or ailing when Election Bitter will be held from the first day. These bands bless them for their glorious health and strength. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at the Barrington Pharmacy—Adv.

SCHOOL NOTES

The Barrington school band will give a concert Thursday evening, February 13, at the high school assembly hall beginning at eight o'clock. The band will be assisted by the Boys' Glee club and Beginner's band. This will be the first public appearance for two latter organizations. The Boys' Glee club has a membership of sixteen high school boys and is under the direction of Mrs. Maher. The Beginner's band is composed of the younger boys, about twenty in number, and like the school band is under the direction of Mr. Seeger. The concert is given for the benefit of the domestic science and manual training departments. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

The fifth annual school exhibit will be given March 14. Plan to attend.

The mid-year examinations are over and report cards will be issued Monday. Parents, these cards are issued for the benefit of your children. You would do well to examine these carefully and if your children are not making grades of "A" or "B," plan to visit the teacher and ascertain the cause. Cooperation of parents, teachers, and children is needed to bring about the best results.

HE'S A PASSIONATE WOOSER.

Sing who will in ringing phrases of the lass with eyes of blue; sing who will with fulsome praises eyes of blue cast shily down, eyes of black or gray or hazel, tuck dresses, dainty ears—all these graces are o'er shadowed by the lass I'm singing here.

Rant who will of smiles seraphic or of blushes chaste and meek, would that I in symbols graphic could describe my lady's cheek! Well, I know her Grecian features, curve of throat and tilt of chin, the completeness of her sweetness; ab, what mag' lies therein!

So woo' her! None so boldly wows his lady as I. Much I'll do to win her to me—much at last she's coming meward; troubles fade and worries flee. Hall the lady on the dollar, ab! she is the lass for me!

AMBITION TALKS

BY HARLAN READ

WHEN A MAN'S SIXTY.

Twenty, 30, 40 and 50 are all parts of 60.

Twenty cannot say: "My brain is itself now and will be something entirely different then." What it is at present is a part of what it will be at 60, not an imaginary intangible part, but an organic division.

The brain is not an echo, a shadow or a filament any more than the leg, the nervous system or the gall bladder. It is an actual organ and will carry a scar or build up a tissue the same as the biceps, the solar plexus or the next.

Whatever tissue is built up in the brain will remain there. If it is good, good; if bad, bad remains.

What a man's 60 his mind will be what he has made it. It is important for a man who wants to live in a brick house that he shall build one of brick. Yet here is this difference: A man can exchange one house for another. He can't exchange minds with anybody.

It is vital to happiness that a man should constantly create in his mind a test for what will give him pleasure when Dr. Oster is ready to chloroform him.

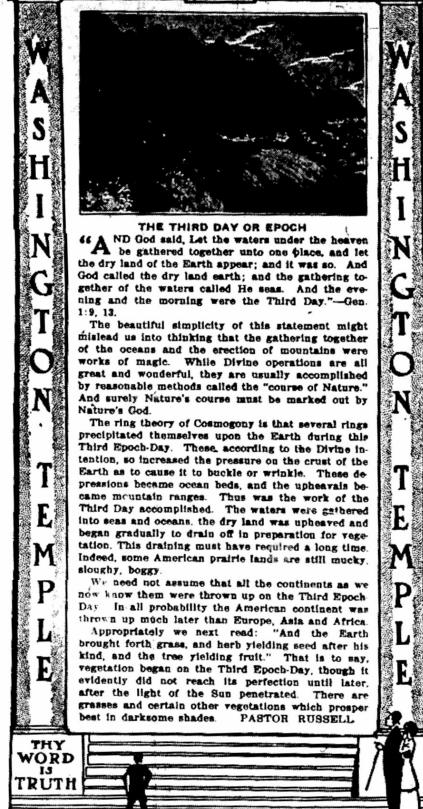

To have a mind fitted for philosophical reflection when the time comes, when he will have little else to do, is wisdom. How unhappy is the restless, disinterested old man; and how glorious the crownings of years of whose gray hairs find the company of deep thoughts and happy contemplation.

Oliver's essay on old age is one of the most sensible articles ever written.

Old men are either more puerile or more serious than young ones, and either condition is the direct result of brain tissues that have been built and cannot be changed; for the minds of the old are more brittle than their bones.

"The Fall of Black Hawk" A 2-REEL SPECIAL For Friday Evening's Show

A tale of that wonderfully cunning Indian chief who made his name a terror in the middle west in 1833. A period in American history black with wanton slaughter of white settlers. In addition a one-real story of moonshine and romance entitled "Kaintuck," and a good comedy.

EGGS FOR HATCHING

It costs no more to keep good hens than poor ones. That's why I wish to tell you about my Rhode Island Reds. I have about 70 hens and have been getting from 30 to 50 eggs a day all winter without special feeding. I believe this is a very good reason why it would pay all chicken raisers to try this kind of feeding. I will send a telegram from these hens at a very reasonable price.

PERCIB R. JAMES

her desire to regain her health was considerably done by her parents and even the day before she died they entertained a social hope of her recovery. The end came in summer out of which, let us hope she awoke from all suffering happy in the light of His love where all is perfection peace and joy. The funeral was held at the home of her parents this afternoon.
