LEOPOLD R. KRAHN ANSWERED "TAPS"

Old Citizen and Civil War Died Saturday Morning After Short Attack of Apoplexy.

MISS IRENE WISEMAN ALSO DIES

Young Daughter of Mrs. Hannah Wiesman of Main Street, a Victim of Tuberculosis Last Friday.

The last bugle call has sounded for another of our old soldiers and soon his comrades will decorate his grave on Memorial day with those of other comrades when he expected to march that day himself as usual. "One by one they leave us" and soon there will be no "Grand Army of the Republic."

Leopold R. Krahn of Street street was the veteran who this time answered "Taps" and his familiar figure will be missed and his G. A. R. hat which he always wore. On Friday last week he was seized with an attack of apoplexy but was out of pain on Tuesday. Wednesday he sank into a state of heavy sleep which he did not move from and death came Saturday morning May 15, at 7:40 o'clock.

The funeral was held at the Salem church on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with the Rev. T. E. Ream of Libertyville officiating. Songs were sung by the Misses Plague and Evgreen cemetery was the place of interment. — Members of General Thomas W. Sweeny Post, No. 275, Grand Army of the Republic, marched to the cemetery where they held a short service.

Mr. Krahn was born in Schenckenberg, Germany, December 25, 1841, and was nearly 74 years of age when he died. His father died when the son was 9 years old and the mother brought her family to America when he was 11 years old. They lived on a farm near Des Plaines. When a young man he came to Barrington and at the age of 19 enlisted in 1861 in Company B, 13th Illinois Cavalry, which was organized in this part of the state. He served three years and was honorably discharged when disabled by the kick of a mule he was shoeing. On February 28, 1867, he was married to Alpheus Abbott, Elizabeth Smith and George Cameron. Plano solo was played by Ernest Butler and Florence Webster of Des Plaines and readings were given by Constance Colquitt and Elizabeth Smith.

The club feels it has had a most successful year.

Mrs. Cameron announced that 450 books were now in the library and asked for donations of 50 more to close the year with 500. The books are in great demand and keep the librarians busy. Besides the books the club has raised nearly $300 during the year toward a library fund.

— Miss Irene Wiesman.

Miss Irene Wiesman, youngest daughter of Mrs. Hannah Wiesman of Main street, died at Rogers Park last Friday morning, May 14, at 1:30 o'clock. She had been a patient at the Chicago Fresh Air Hospital which she had entered for treatment for tuberculosis since March 10. An elder sister, Miss Emma Wiesman, practical nurse, had remained at the hospital during the ten weeks.

On Miss Irene's twenty-second birthday, March 22, 101 postal cards of cheer and sympathy from friends were presented her. When dying her last words were "Everything is all right and I can trust God for the future."

The funeral was held Sunday at 1:30 o'clock at the Zion church and in the absence of her regular pastor, Rev. H. Haag who is ill, Rev. George H. Lockhart of the Baptist church was chosen to conduct the service, assisted by Rev. J. Hoerner of the Salem church and Rev. J. Keist of Oak Park, an old family friend, who spoke in German. About 600 persons were present. The Misses Plague and a quartet of ladies and gentlemen sang. Burial was in the family plot in Deer Grove cemetery.

Mabel Irene Wiesman was born in Barrington, March 22, 1893, the younger of the large family of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiesman. When she was 12 years older her father died and she was the constant companion of her mother and a great boon to her, a trait rare in our young ladies of the present generation; the streets had no distraction for her. She joined the Zion Evangelical church when she was 14 years old where she was a faithful worker. She was the organist for the Young People's Alliance for six years; as a constant attendant in the Sunday school and church service she showed a true Christian spirit of worship. Well all the members of her high school class

Woman's Club Close Year.

The Woman's club held its closing meeting of the year at Mrs. Herbert Bowen's on Wednesday. It was one of the largest meetings held this year, over 80 ladies being in attendance and the program was one of unusual interest. The president, Mrs. Zimmerman, gave a nearly interesting and talk on club work and the advantages of belonging to the federation.

Miss Zimmerman is a lady of charming personal appearance and commanding presence and greatly inspired her listeners. Mrs. McLean of the Austin club was also a guest of the club and told of the work in Austin. Music was furnished most beautifully by Helen Abbott, Elizabeth Smith and George Cameron. Plano solo was played by Ernest Butler and Florence Webster of Des Plaines and readings were given by Constance Colquitt and Elizabeth Smith.

The club feels it has had a most successful year.

Mrs. Cameron announced that 450 books were now in the library and asked for donations of 50 more to close the year with 500. The books are in great demand and keep the librarians busy. Besides the books the club has raised nearly $300 during the year toward a library fund.

W. R. C. Notes.

At the next regular meeting of the W. R. C., May 26, there will be four candidates for initiation and a birthday party will be held to honor the Post which has been invited. Dr. Liberton, post commander, of Thomas Post, Chicago, will be with us. The Post and Corps have accepted an invitation from the Rev. G. H. Lockhart to attend the Baptist church Sunday, May 30, at the morning service and will go to Barrington Center at 1:30 o'clock of the same day. Memorial day will be observed by Post and Corps in the usual manner on Monday, May 31.

With whom she was graduated in 1911 were present at the funeral and served as honor bearers. She was an excellent student and exemplary in deportment. For six months she was a telephone operator at the local office, leaving there about a year ago. Her attendance at church ended at Christmas time but she kept in touch with us as she termed it, "My People" and read her Bible daily during the past year when she seemed to pray without ceasing.

Achievement Day.

Achievement day for Cook county school children was celebrated last Saturday at Fullerton hall, Art Institute, Chicago, where the pupils, who "solved" success were given their pins.

Mamie Campenella, champion tomato raiser, gave her essay on "How I Raised My Tomatoes" which was listened to by a large and appreciative audience. Henry Ricko of this village was also on the platform and told "How I Raised My Corn." Harold Workman of District 157 enthralled with a report on the subject "My Corn." Ensemble were presented and stereopticon views of Mamie's tomato garden, Henry's corn patch and Harold's crops were flashed on a white sheet.

Achievement day was inaugurated to encourage Cook county pupils in their individual work at gardening and small crop raising. It was voted an entire success by the Cook county school officials.

The new golf links at Woodstock are now a certainty, 30 acres of land having been rented just outside the city limits to be used for golf purposes.

The two and one-half miles of state road which is being built on the Fox Lake are in arms because the city council has seen fit to raise the theater license from $25 to $50 per year.

The first of the week a shipment of 150,000 river pipe from the Spring Grove brickery were placed in Fox River at Elgin. The new fishing law went into effect the first of the month and it states that there shall be no fishing in the Fox river.

A deficit of $100,000 in the treasury of the United charities, which annually sends 15,000 Chicago children to the country for a summer's vacation, may deprive the children of this extreme pleasure the coming summer. A great number of children are brought out to Algonquin each summer by this society.

How to Observe Flag Day.

Plans for a noteworthy observance of Flag day, June 14, the 135th anniversary of the adoption of the American flag, are being advanced throughout the nation by the American Flag association, an organization of individuals and patriotic societies formed to promote reverence for the country's flag.

Letters addressed to the presidents of governments and to mayors call on them to proclaim the day as one for general celebration.

"We are now in the midst of an anxious time in all our nation," reads the appeal sent out by Ralph E. Prince, president of the association. "We are called on for an expression of our most sincere devotion to the flag of our country and what it stands for. The stars and stripes have come to possess beauty for friendly eyes and new terror for the foes of liberty and law and order and of law government."

Elgin Man Drowned at Algonquin. Harry Cheesbro, 31 College street, Elgin, went down to his death in the strong undercurrent in the deep waters of the Fox river just below the Algonquin dam Sunday morning, though an expert swimmer. Henry Muntz, Jr., also of Elgin, plunged into the water and made a heroic effort to save him when it was evident that he was helpless, but reached the spot just a moment too late. Cheesbro sank at 6:55 and his body was not recovered until 12:30 o'clock.

PERMANENT REPAIRS ABOUT COMPLETED

Chicago Telephone Company Tells of the Terrible Havoc that Last Winter's Storm Wrought.

DAMAGE COST COMPANY $70,000

Storms are Expected Every Winter and the Company Prepares in Advance to Meet Enormous Losses.

Permanent repairs on its storm-damaged lines in Lake, McHenry and Kane counties have nearly been completed by the Chicago Telephone company. An accounting just taken by the company shows its loss to be more than $70,000.

The telegraph, which played such havoc with telephone poles and wires in northern Illinois and in Wisconsin, began January 31 and lasted until February 3. During this comparatively short time 700 telephone poles were broken, down or broken by the force of the storm and nearly 4,000 telephones were temporarily put out of commission.

However, telephone service was not allowed to lapse for any length of time. The wires were strung and service restored in most places within a few hours after the storm was over.

The task of repairing the damage is a big one but done many years of experience with storms the telephone company has evolved a wonderful system for bringing order out of chaos and establishing service within a brief span of time.

All of the repair work in the February storm was directed from the main office in Chicago. As fast as the reports of line trouble were received, repairmen were sent to the points where their services were needed.

The first work in the field was the removal of broken poles from the roads where they interfered with traffic. This done, the repairmen strung emergency lines by means of which service was promptly restored, using for the purpose the short tops of broken poles.

Then the telephone company sent out men to repair the lines.

As soon as possible the company started the permanent repair work. When permanent repair work is done, the cost of wire and material used in the repair work is recovered.

So much junk and trash is the cause of a huge financial loss to the telephone company. However, every winter, the company accepts the storm situation as a matter of course, meets the enormous expenditures without a word of complaint.

Grace Meister, Walter Smith, and John West, all of room three, who has been sick for three weeks, has stopped school on account of her ill health.

Henry Titus of room six has been sick for a week. He stepped on a nail and has been unable to walk. He is expected to return to school next Monday.

The county declaration contest was held at Fullerton hall last Friday. The contestants from this district won honors. Paul Burkhardt was second and the boy representing this district also won second.

E. M. Phillips addressed the high school Tuesday morning. He told the pupils what the plans are for the June festival to be held on June 4. Several of the high school girls will take part in the Folk games; and the boys are beginning to practice so that they may carry away all honors at the festival.

Last Saturday was Achievement day. Many students of the country and suburban schools received achievement pins which shows that they are members of the American Achievement association. The boys of our school who received pins are Henry Rieke, Harold Grob, Warren Plagert and Wright Catlow. Mr. Phillips

AMERICA A NATION OF PEACE.

In the heat of passion is not the time for deciding momentous questions, and especially if they involve the fate or the welfare of a nation.

A wave of indignation is sweeping over this country because a foreign submarine has torpedoed and sunk a passenger ship loaded with 1,000 non-combatant women and children and men, many of whom were citizens of our own country.

In their hour of anger thousands of good men have cried out for war as a retaliatory measure.

But there comes a time when an hour of silent thought is more productive of beneficial humanitarian results than a lifetime of villainy and abuse heaped upon other heads.

No amount of rage, no hasty action, can bring back the lives of those who went down with the Lusitania.

But sober thought and careful examination of our own internal conditions may save the lives of many thousands of Americans now living.

Let us think before we act.

America is a nation of peace, and we ask only to be allowed to pursue an honorable course undeterred by others.

We do not seek to dominate or even to interfere in the affairs of the old world, nor do we want to be dominated or interfered with by them.

And yet a day confronts the government of the United States, a day which is imperative and must be met with courage and fortitude, the duty of safeguarding the lives and property of American citizens on the high seas.

If that duty can be performed without involving the United States in a war with a foreign country, then it becomes the obvious duty of the president to seek a means to that end.

For deadly should be the court of last resort.

And while the president is seeking to uphold the dignity of the United States and protect our citizens without involving us in a disastrous war, it becomes our solemn duty as citizens to rally to his side, to present a united front, and to assure him of the loyal, moral and material support of a nation of a hundred million souls.

Any act of this would be unpatriotic, un-American and unworthy of any human being who claims the Stars and Stripes as his flag.

But there is yet another way in which we as citizens may well serve our country and materially strengthen the hands of our president.

We have many naturalized citizens of German parentage in our midst, good men and true.

Let us preserve toward them a sane attitude of fairness and friendliness and good will; less hasty words creates discord and strife among our own citizenship.

Let us remember that when they came to us they became citizens of our country, and loyal citizens let us continue to regard them.

And let gentlemen of German birth rise equal to the occasion and remember that they are now American citizens and refrain from criticism of the land of their adoption and the shelter which gives them food and shelter.

Yours,

MAKING BEST USE OF LAMB

Directions Here for Two Excellent Omelets to Be Evolved From a Seven-Pound Shoulder.

A seven-pound shoulder of lamb, cut off both long ends and take the center thick chunk of meat; place in a pan over a good range fire. Cover closely with a lid and let it boil for twenty minutes. Take fork, turn it over, let it roar another twenty minutes on this side, then pour three or four cupsful hot water, salt, three onions. Cover closely again, letting it simmer. Loosen the meat from the bottom of pan before adding water. At the end of an hour more add a few more onions and add more water for half an hour more, longer, when your roast of meat and vegetables will be done. Celery can go into this with potatoes also. This is all done on top of the stove. Serve with potatoes or simply the vegetables in the pan.

Next day take the two long, swinging ends of the lamb shoulder that you had put away from the roast, put in soup kettle or deep stewpan with celery leaves if you have it. Roll it, boil a full hour in salted water, add a head of cabbage peeled in sections, add a few more onions, boil at this stage of the cooking. Roll lamb another full hour.

Peel potatoes, boil twenty minutes in separate kettle, pour on water, shake gently until melted and serve with your lamb and cabbage. Do not have too much water on your lamb; for the cabbage throws off a lot of water. Cover at closely as possible.

This is the only good way to get all that is possible out of a shoulder of lamb and have tasty meals. Skim off fat with dabbing dinner, as those two long swinging ends have more fat than one would wish to eat. Reserve that for soups.

To WASH WOOL ARTICLES

Special Care is Required if One

Would Have the Material Last

Any Length of Time.

Where there are small children articles of wool are constantly in use, and therefore require washing, and unless properly done they will be ruined. If this simple plan is followed success is sure.

Make a fairly hot wash, good quality white soap; immerse the piece; allow it to soak for half an hour, then wash and put it around. Squeeze out as much water as possible, then lay it flat to dry.

Do this in a perfectly clean, dry place. Rinse it through clean warm water until all traces of soap are gone; squeeze it, then place it on a towel; twist the towel tight to get out more water; then lay a clean towel in a large square pan or a clean towel and lay the washed article on it, and lay the towel over it, then lay another towel on top of the first, and lay another over that, and so on until perfectly dry. The washed piece should look almost like new.

Never rub crocheted or knitted wool articles, as it stretches them out and weakens them. If a piece of soap, detergent, soap, or any other article is used, it will not be hurt in either way. Baby soap should be laid in shape on a towel.

Lamb Flank Roast.

Buy two pieces of lamb flank, which will weigh about three pounds and cost from five to eight cents a pound. Cut them in small pieces of shapes, depending on the cut, will not be hurt in either way. Baby soap should be laid in shape on a towel.

European War News

A despatch to the London Morning Post from the north of France says: "There are signs that the Germans have been limited in their possible reconquest. They are said to have a casualty list of 150,000 in connection with the last battle of Ypres alone, and their extraordinary heavy losses altogether have upset their plans for a renewed onslaught."

News that the Salandria minelayer had been sunk has swept all over Italy and caused a general call to arms for war. A despatch from such as Rome has not seen since the days of the revolution, occurred. The crowds surged through the city, acting as if war had been declared already.

Complete victory for the Russians in southeastern Galicia and Bukowina has been declared. The Russian army has been routed along the entire Dniester front of one hundred miles; it states. The Russians have taken 20,000 prisoners.

In a battle fought 11,000 feet over the English channel a Zeppelin was severely damaged by a fleet of British aeroplanes and driven to sea.

General von Mackensen's victorious armies are within striking distance of the Galician fortress of Przemysl.

Several thousand subjects of enemy countries of a military age were sent to internment camps in England, the majority of them being men who voluntarily surrendered.

A border clash between Italian and Austrian troops was reported from Sogno. The Italians drove the Austrians back.

A Zeppelin airship was destroyed near Alton while engaged in a battle with the allied air squadrons. The wrecked airship, for 3,000 feet and the two crew members, who were severely injured, were captured. Two allied aeroplanes were destroyed by the Zeppelin and the pilots killed.

Information of the 40,000 Germans and Austrians in Great Britain was begun by Scotland Yard at London and the special and colonial police forces under the direction of the home office. Many of the women and children and men too old for military service will be deported.

The damage caused by the riots which have taken place all over British South Africa since the sinking of the Laistitia is estimated at more than $3,000,000. Hardly a shop or hotel owned by a German has escaped.

Lieutenant von Muecke and a landing party of 50 men from the German cruiser Emden, which escaped when their ship was sunk in the Indian ocean on November 10, have arrived at Damascus, Syria, after six months of adventurous wandering. All have been awarded the iron cross.

The British ship Goliath has been torpedoed in the Dardanelles. It is believed 550 lives have been lost; 180 were saved. Announcement of the fate of the Goliath was made in the house of commons at London by Winston Churchill, Mr. Churchill also announced that a British submarine sank two Turkish gunboats and a Turkish transport in the Sea of Marmara.

"A brilliant success has been achieved north of Arras," says an official statement issued by the war-office at Paris. After a furious conflict, in which the Germans fought gallantly and bravely, the French have complete possession of Carentan. Berlin admits that the French occupy Carentan.

President Wilson's note to Germany was forwarded from Washington by Secretary Bryan. The president after stating that the United States government "has observed with amazement" the recent acts of German authorities on the high seas, which culminated in the sinking of the Lusitania, by the note from the United States to the German imperial government, transmitted on Thursday to Ambassador Berlin at Berlin and presented on Friday to the German foreign office.

The Secretary of State to the American embassy at Berlin, Department of State, Washington, May 13, 1915.

"Please call on the minister of foreign affairs, and after reading to him this communication, leave with him copy:

"In view of recent acts of the German imperial government on the high seas, which culminated in the torpedoing and sinking of the British steamship Lusitania on May 7, 1915, by which over one hundred American citizens lost their lives, it is clearly wise and desirable that the government of the United States should call to a clear understanding with the grave situation which has resulted.

U. S. Amazed by Acts.

"The sinking of the British passenger steamship Falaba by a German submarine on March 28, through which Leon C. Thrasher, an American citizen, was drowned; the attack on April 19, 1915, by a German submarine on a German aeroplane, the torpedoing on May 1 of the American vessel Guiltigh, by a German submarine, as the result of which two or more American citizens lost their lives; and finally, the torpedoing and sinking of the steamship Lusitania, constitute a series of events which the government of the United States has observed with growing concern, distress and alarm.

"The government of the United States was loath to believe that it cannot now bring itself to believe that these acts, as absolutely contrary to the spirit of modern warfare, could have the countenance or sanction of that great government.

Holds Germany Responsible.

"It feels it to be its duty, therefore, to address the imperial government concerning the conduct of the German government which will correct the unfortunate impression which have been created and vindicate once more the position of that government with regard to the sacred freedom of the seas.

"The government of the United States has been apprised that the imperial German government considered themselves to be obliged by the extraordinary circumstances of the present war and the measures adopted by their adversaries in seeking to cut Germany off from all commerce, to adopt a policy which would go much beyond the ordinary methods of warfare at sea in the prosecution of a war zone, from which they have warned neutral ships to keep away. This government has already taken occasion to inform the imperial government that it cannot admit the adoption of such a policy.

"The government of the United States looks to the imperial German government for just, prompt and enlightened action in this vital matter with the greater confidence, and in the hope that the two governments will meet together, not only by the exchange of friendly messages, but also by the exchange of stipulations of the treaty of 1923 between the United States and the kingdom of Prussia.

Will Maintain Rights of U. S.

"Expressions of regret and offers of reparation in case of the destruction of neutral ships by mistake, will not suffice to meet the international obligation if no act of negligence cannot justify or excuse a practice which is subject to neutral nations and neutral persons to new and immeasurable risks.

"The imperial German government will expect the government of the United States to admit any work or any action necessary to the performance of its sacred duty of maintaining the rights of the United States and its citizens and of safeguarding their free exercise and enjoyment.

(Signed) BRYAN."

Falling off his bicycle at Sixth and Red streets, the other day, James Schoener, eleven years old, of 1318 South Sixth street, received such a bump on the jaw that he bit off an inch of his tongue.
