

BIG INCREASE OF FARM PRODUCTS

Province of Alberta Shows Increase of Over 20 Millions.

Figures just compiled by the publicity branch of the provincial department show that last year's output of agricultural products actually produced in the province showed an increase of over twenty million dollars over that of the previous year. Although southern Alberta had a bad year agriculturally, the province as a whole experienced a period of great prosperity, due principally to mixed farming, which is becoming more general with each succeeding year.

The value of mixed farming, in fact, was never better illustrated than last year as the value of the animals slaughtered and the value of the spring wheat crop, without taking into consideration the value of the butter, milk, cheese, poultry, vegetables, and other by-products of the farm.

Oats was the banner grain crop, 1,147,382 acres being seeded, and production 24,397,111 bushels, or 30.15 to the acre. Sold at an average of 50c per bushel, these yielded a revenue of $12,198,555. Comparatively little winter wheat was produced, the yield being a little above one million bushels, but the spring wheat crop amounted to 15,102,082 bushels, the yield per acre being 15.26. At an average of 11.35 per bushel, the value of the spring wheat crop was $171,038,712. The total production of barley was 7,847,640 bushels, which, at 55c per bushel, yielded a revenue of $4,316,202.

Other productions were as follows: Flax, 207,115 bushels, $20,472,000; rye, 20,813 bushels, $196,352,000; millet, 707 bushels, $22,000,000; hay, 500,000 tons, $2,500,000; potatoes, four million bushels, $3,000,000; turnips, three million bushels, $700,000; carrots, 600,000 bushels, $180,000; cantaloupes, 600,000 bushels, $320,000; animals slaughtered and sold $20,000,000; butter and cheese, $1,600,000; milk, $30,000,000; wool clip, 1,300,000 pounds, $140,000; fish, $155,000; game and fur, $600,000; horticultural products, $150,000; poultry and products, $3,650,000.

The total of the agricultural products is given as $78,618,895, as compared with $58,038,084 in 1913.

The statistics also show that the value of the live stock in the province at the end of the year was $110,040,630, this being an increase of $7,752,845 over the previous year. There were 220,225 horses, 150,789 mules, 104,138 sheep, 192,202 dairy cows, 165,025 other cows, 190,923 beef cattle and 633,020 other cattle.—Advertisement.

Hard on Her.
"This ten o'clock clothing is a nuisance," observed a shawled lady to her neighbor.

"Why that difference does it make to you, seein' you never dicker?"

"Why, once my 'usaid always come' one at eleven after was all in bed, and gied he was to get any bits of supper left for 'im. But now he's in at ten, and the trouble is 'ave to get anything he fancies you can't imagine."

No Sale.
"Can I interest you in a set of the 'Secret Memoirs of the Court of Louis XIV'?" asked the book agent.
"No, you can't," answered his intended victim. "I'm all fed up with that kind of reading. I'm a court stenographer, and I've just finished transcribing the testimony in a sensational divorce case."

Temporary Reverse.
Fogarty (a moderate drinker): "I'll bet you'll be a Roanoke in a beginning I feel 't loss to vodka."
Flattery (warmly): "Don't ye lose any sleep over it. Murrk no wurrd, they'll retake it agin before long."—Puck.

Berlin Society.
"What are you wearing that long face for, professor?"
"Reason enough, doctor. I've just been to call on my old friend, Fritz Schuler. He and I used to be chums. I do but have my bread to eat instead of my rattling card."

Good Fortune.
"I found a four-leaf clover on my lawn today," said Mr. Goodness.
"I suppose you think that's lucky?"
"I do. I'm lucky to find anything in this land except dandelions and ragweed."

Consequences.
"How upshot that girl is!"
"No wonder. Her father made his money building skyscrapers."

That's All.
"What were you doing so long at the photostapher?"
"Merely awaiting developments."

And many a man when the world goes great, isn't even in the near great class from his wife's point of view.

The Forgiveness of Sin

By REV. L. V. CORNELL

Assistant to the Dean Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT.—Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.—Psalm 32, 1, 2.

Psalm 32 is supposed to have been written after the tion, crookedness, and sin. These words are used to describe our offenses against God. "Transgression" means rebellion against authority; "sin" is missing the mark both of God's standard and our anticipation; "iniquity" is dishonesty; "crookedness" is a crooked dealing with God; it is "forgiveness" lifted up as a burden; "covered," or hidden, signifies that it is not "imputed," but canceled like a debt.

Men speak lightly of forgiveness until a deep sense of sin settles upon them, then they wonder whether their guilt may be put away; they no longer question the Bible teaching on the punishment of sin, but find it difficult to believe in Jesus Christ, and so such troubled souls we have good news.

To begin with, the Bible revelation of God is full of comfort for them. He is "The Lord God, merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and abundant in goodness and truth; keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin." God was revealed in Jesus Christ, and we know our Lord's attitude to the penitent during the days of his flesh. The woman who bathed his feet with tears, the children, adulterers, publicans and sinners, all attest that there is forgiveness with the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Peace Through the Cross.
But it is at Calvary, especially, that assurance for the penitent is found. Such a soul will not be satisfied lightly. He demands that, for the atonement of his sin, some awful reparation be made. But the cross fully meets this demand. God's Son, our substitute, holy and unspotted, hung there, and all God's righteousness and will over him. Calvary tells of love, indeed, but it also tells of wrath, for the wrath of God against sin exhausted itself in the death of the crucifixion. This is the meaning of the Savior's cry, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

That such provision has been made is further attested by the experience of men. Luther tells us that the pains of hell hold hold upon him, but when he looked to the wounds of Christ he found peace. John Wesley, after seeking rest for his soul for years, trusted in Christ and felt his heart strangely warmed and assured. Spurgeon was so happy when he experienced forgiveness that he wanted to tell the crowds of the field about it. These men were not deluded; the experience of Luther to the Reformation, that of Wesley to the Evangelical revival and that of Spurgeon to years of a fruitful ministry.

Sin Against the Holy Ghost.

But though it clearly attested, occasionally meet one who declares this blessing is not for him, for he has committed the sin of which Christ said it "naught never forgiveness"—the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost. But what is this sin? As the result of careful study one writer gives this definition: "The blasphemous manifestation in word or deed of an internal state of soul in which a man has arrived by a continual resistance and increasing opposition to the clearest and most unobscured revelation of God's spirit; which state, when once attained, is one of contemptuous and malicious hatred of all that pertains to the Son of God and which, by its very nature, is bound to manifest itself as such." We never met a soul, troubled over this sin, who gave evidence of having descended to such depths of wilful opposition to Christ. Indeed, one who has committed this sin will not be distressed over it, and the fact of distress is itself an encouragement. One usually all one fears stands the word of Christ, "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out."

How should we love him, who forgives so much! the psalmist says, "There is forgiveness with thee that thou mayest be feared." Fear here means reverent love. A story in the life of General Havelock, who illustrated this text. One of his soldiers violated regulations and continued to do so in spite of discipline. Someone asked the general if he had "tried forgiving" the offender, and the suggestion was acted upon. The soldier was sent for, and came defiant, expecting another punishment. He was surprised when his officer said, kindly, "Johnstone, I have determined in the queen's name to forgive you all these offences." He went away, subdued, and changed man and gave no further trouble.

OLD COUNTRY NEWS

BRIEF SUMMARY OF HAPPENINGS FROM LAND OF THE KAISER.

NOTES FROM GERMAN EMPIRE

Items About People and Affairs From Across the Sea That Will Prove of Great Interest to Many of Our Readers.

The cutting off of petroleum imports into Germany through the war has caused a painful revival of activity in the domestic petroleum industry. The only oil district of any importance in Germany lies in the Lubenurg heath to the east of Hamburg, where exploitation began in earnest about twenty-five years ago. A considerable fever of oil speculation arose at that time, and for a time not less than twenty-three companies were in existence.

The oil found in the Lubenurg heath is mostly of low grade, suited better for lubricating than for illuminating purposes. This fact is reflected strongly in the German statistics of production. While the production of illuminating oil dropped from 27,700 tons in 1898 to 21,000 tons in 1915, the production of lubricating oil was more than doubled in the same time, rising from 58,400 to 136,000 tons. During the same period the production of benzine rose from 94,100 to 180,000 tons. The oil industry on the Lubenurg heath has a good technical equipment. Among other things it is recognized that the tanks there have a capacity of 80,000 tons.

A considerable part of Germany's efforts are now being concentrated upon preparations for the campaign against winter. Women in large numbers have been employed in sewing new furs for the army, while those used last winter, which were carefully collected, are being renovated and repaired at the supply depots. In connection with this work, the Vorwärts complains that "starvation wages" are being paid to many of the employed women. Needlewomen working twelve to fourteen hours daily can only earn about thirty cents a day, says the newspaper, pointing to the contract system which is employed.

The question of whether or not to change the names of the principal cities of Belgium from the French to the German has been settled by the governor general. With but few exceptions the cities and all of the towns will officially keep their present nomenclature. The exceptions include Malmes, which is to become Mechlin; Liège to Liert; Tongres to Trindren; Roulers to Rousselle; Courtrai to Kortrijk; Alost to Alast, and Ypres to Ypern. Postal cancellations will accordingly be changed to fit the changes ordered.

The use of burning fluids by the Germans on the Russian front is apparently restricted to the purpose of lighting down barbed wire entanglements, for which this method is efficacious. The equipment consists of a metal cylinder filled with a mixture of benzol and kerosene at a pressure of 75 pounds to the inch. A turn of the handle liberates a jet of burning fluid 35 feet in length, which forces a path through the entanglements, cutting down all wire obstruction like a scythe.

H. A. Hath, manager of Winnipeg's principal power plant, cited as a cost of nearly $5,000,000 and located at Lac du Bonnet, 75 miles east of Winnipeg, resigned his position, owing to pressure induced by the fact that he was born in Germany and only recently has been naturalized. He spent eight years in the United States before coming here. Bunking of the Lusitania brought about the city's final decision.

The military commandant of the province of Brandenburg, in which Berlin is situated, has issued an order, effective Aug. 1, prohibiting the manufacture of fabrics wholly or chiefly cotton for nearly all ordinary purposes, such as articles of clothing, bedsteads, pillow slips and table cloths. The presumption from this order is that Germany needs all the cotton available for use in the manufacture of explosives.

The governing board of the German Socialist party in a manifesto passed by the caucus, called upon the German government "in the name of humanity and culture" to begin peace negotiations. The German Socialists expect that their friends in other belligerent countries will take the same step, the statement declared.

Visitors to Berlin since the outbreak of the war have been amazed by the absence of evidences of poverty, no evident at every turn in other countries at war.

Notwithstanding many obvious reasons why it might not be so, Berlin is, it claims, today the most brightly lighted capital of the world. The claim is not made because of darkness Paris and London. The claim is that under no sort of conditions is any other city as well or efficiently illuminated.

Preparatory to making the production of spirits a state monopoly an Austrian ministerial decree prohibits the erection of new distilleries and raises the tax on spirits from ten to fourteen cents a liter.

LOVE OF ART NOT REQUIRED

Man's Insensibility to the Beautiful Understood When He Revealed His Life's Occupation.

As they passed the soldiers' monument in the public square of a small town, he turned to his right-hand companion and said:

"Pretty bad, eh?"

"Why, this monument. Awful. Isn't it, to put these things up all over this fair land? No art in 'em."

"I rather like 'em."

"Rather like 'em, eh? I suppose you think that pile of chimneys over there is pleasing to the eye?"

"No, bad."

"What do you think of those frightful advertising chromos on the landscape?"

"Pretty good."

"You'd like the interior of a New York theatre—belle?"

"Ever hear of art?"

"No."

"Do you mean to say, sir, that some of the sublimest notes of the human heart meet no response in your bosom?"

"No, sir. As a result, the automobile casualty list is tremendous; the average life of a car in the battle line is estimated at thirty days. But it is not only the war zone that has lost part of its picturesqueness through the use of the automobile. The latter has begun to rob the annual cattle roundup of some of its thrills by replacing the horse. The year has been the ubiquitous car with a cowboy at its wheel on our western prairies, discouraging the cattle from attempting to escape from the ever-rampaging circle in the roundup. Many a steer which has given a cow horse a run past has been taken by a car. But it is not only the four-wheeled steed.—Wall Street Journal.

"Doesn't it better order a few gobs away gowns," said she brightly.

"No on the going-away gowns, my dear," said her husband gloomily. "I can't afford to take you anywhere this summer."

"All right," was the cheerful response. "Then I'll just order a few stayings at home gowns."

Victor's Explanation for Wanting to Leave Were Many, but One Really Vital.

"Yes, I really must go tomorrow."

"You can just as well stay till Monday."

"But the folks are expecting me."

"Telegraph them you are going to stay."

"I'm sorry, but if I stay I'm liable to lose a thousand dollars on that deal I told you of."

"Oh, pshaw, the deal can wait a few days."

"My manager has written me that my business needs attention."

"Yes, but he is only afraid to assume a little responsibility. The business will be all right."

"There is an important meeting of the directors that I really must attend."

"Oh, they'll get along all right without you."

"You know how much I'd like to stay, but the fact is my railroad ticket runs out tomorrow."

"Well, in that case I suppose you will have to go. Be sure and come up to see us again in a month or two."

THE RURAL SCHOOL.

We suppose there is no community in the United States that would not look with powerful displeasure on a man who was known to be in the habit of swindling children out of their pennies; but hundreds of communities in the United States swindle children out of something much more precious than pennies, with never a blush. The educational gold brick, which our fathers celebrated, is palmed off year after year on a great number of country boys and girls.

Not that our fathers' celebration was unjustified. A little, ill-equipped, one-teacher country school is much better than no school at all; but it remains today in many a rural community where it has no more business than an oxcart would have as a pleasure vehicle. A string of little, old-fashioned, one-teacher country schools, with a course of studies not at all related to country life, in a rural district, where many farmers own automobiles is a scandalous fraud on country youth.

The consolidated country school, graded, well housed, well equipped, with adequately paid teachers and a course of studies knit up to country life, is the farm's best asset.—Saturday Evening Post.

If we want the right kind of lasting prosperity in this country we must get a lot of people away from the centers of population and onto the farms, where opportunity awaits them. This business of rushing off to the great cities and depopulating the farms is doing more to retard prosperity than all other causes combined. Any man of common sense and a reasonable degree of energy can make a mighty thing living on the farm and be reasonably independent while so doing, while fully one-half of the population today is underfed because they are stagnating in cities where there are 10 applicants for every job. Strikes, lockouts and other labor wars do not greatly affect the man on the farm, for crops grow on just the same and appetites do not decrease. The real greatness of this country will come when the land is more fully under cultivation and worked to better advantage on scientific lines.

With a very few exceptions the country has settled down to the conviction that the time is opportune for taking adequate measures for the national defense. Every day seems to demonstrate more clearly than ever before the absolute importance of such a course if we are to preserve our unity and protect our rights. The fate of Belgium and China is forcing upon us the conviction that a condition of national helplessness is no protection against foreign aggression, and the temper of the people is such that congress will now now undoubtedly feel warranted, in taking prompt measures for greater security.

Do you know that cooperation is a mighty fine thing? That cooperation among the churches, and the societies, lodges, business men and the people is the backbone of town and country? No community can hope to really thrive until it learns the lessons and value of cooperation, for unless we pull together the loads drawn will be small and of slight avail. Let us have more of the spirit of cooperation in this town, for our opportunities are many and as yet undeveloped.

BABY IN SUMMERTIME

SPECIAL CARE NEEDED DURING THAT SEASON.

First Requisite Is That He Shall Be Comfortable At All Times—Food, Clothing and Bedding All Highly Important.

(Prepared by the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor.)

The long, hot days of summer are trying to people of all ages, but are particularly hard on the young baby. He is more liable to illness, especially to diarrhea, at this time, because he is weakened by the heat and in a condition where he is easily upset. The object for which the mother must work in summer is to make the baby comfortable, for a comfortable baby is one who is well. To make the baby comfortable it is necessary to consider how he should be fed, clothed and bathed; how to keep him cool and give him plenty of sleep; how to deal with prickly heat and other similar troubles; and, most of all, many times, what not to do.

A baby who is fed regularly with the right kind of food and no other kind, except plenty of cool water to drink, who wears light clothing during the hot hours of the day and night, who is kept clean with plenty of baths; who sleeps in a cool, quiet room, screened from flies and mosquitoes; who is handled very little and is allowed to live a quiet, regular life, will usually be a healthy one. A healthy child makes a healthy grown person, and every stone laid in the foundation of a sound and normal baby is just so much for the child to build upon in the future.

Nothing is so necessary to the health of a young baby as breast milk. This is the food nature intended him to have and on which he will nearly always thrive. Any other food, however good the milk and however well prepared, cannot take the place of good breast milk, and no mother who loves her baby will be willing to deprive him of this boon until she has tried in every way to keep it for him. This is true at all seasons of the year, but it is especially true in summer, when it is so hard to keep cow's milk pure and sweet. Unless cow's milk has been milked from clean, healthy cows, by clean milkers, into pails that have been scalded with boiling water; unless it has been cooled at once and kept cold until the food is made ready, it is not fit for a baby. Milk which is dry when it comes from the cow, or clean milk which is left to stand about in open dishes, in a warm room, exposed to flies and dust, should never be used for the baby.

If, as sometimes happens, the mother does not have milk enough for her baby, she will need to add to it by one or more bottle feedings during the day. In such a case every effort must be made to get clean milk, to keep it cool and prepare it in the right way. In order that the mother may nurse her baby successfully she should begin about two months before the baby is born to take care of the nipples, washing them every day in warm water and a mild soap, like castile, and after drying them thoroughly, rub them gently with vaseline, olive oil, or some other soothing application.

When the baby is about six hours old he may be put to the breast, and then at six-hour intervals for the first day or two, until the mother's milk "comes." After that he should be nursed every three hours from six o'clock in the morning until nine in the evening, nursing him regularly, by the clock. For the first three months he will need a night feeding, but after four months he should sleep through the night without nursing. When the baby is six months old the mother should begin to lengthen the interval between feedings a quarter of an hour each week until the length of time between nursings is four hours. The baby needs no other food than breast milk, except plenty of good drinking water (which has first been boiled and cooled) for the first eight or nine months.

The nursing mother should have plenty of good food. All good food is milk-making food. What is important is that it should please the mother's taste, tempt her appetite and cause her no headache, coated tongue or gas on the stomach or bowels. The mother is well, the baby is pretty sure to be well. Among the things that good nursing mothers will digest well and that he gets are fresh vegetables, nonspicing eggs, good bread and butter, milk—sweet milk and butter-milk—eggs, meat, fish, poultry and fruits raw and cooked. Some of the things that may give her indigestion are heavy puddings, underdone cereals, dumplings, too fresh bread and biscuits, pastries, or a lack of fresh vegetables and fruit from the diet. It is better to cut down the allowance of fat and coffee to one cupful of each a day. Plenty of good drinking water is needed and it is a good plan for the mother to have milk between meals and at bedtime.

The nursing mother should have plenty of sleep at night, and should learn to relax and rest whenever the baby nurses throughout the day. As far as possible she should be relieved of the heaviest part of the household work, because if she is tired and worn the baby will not thrive as he should, as the mother's food has had to go to supply her own needs and her milk has been deprived of some of its nourishing qualities.

Forces to Be Destroyed.

"The forces of nature we must endeavor to avoid. We must blindly as they do we can do nothing to overcome them. At most we can avoid their destructive influence and thereby the suffering they give rise to. Let the forces that are thrust out by themselves, that spring from our own minds, must be controlled and overcome. They are primitive. They are brutal. They are animal forces. Against these we must direct our energies."

Pathetic.

Another pathetic little feature of everyday life is the way a stout woman verging on middle age will read the directions for making the angles trim and sharply, meet the demands of the short skirt vogue, and laboriously but confidently go through all the prescribed exercises.—Columbus (O.) ## GERMANY ASKS U.S. TO GUARANTEE PASSENGER SHIPS

Berlin Reply Points Out Way to Escape Submarine Attacks.

ALL CONTRABAND IS BARRED

Note Suggests Means of Providing Steamers for Travel to Europe—Must Be Told Time of Boat's Arrival in War Zone.

Berlin, July 16, via London.—The text of the German note in reply to that of the United States regarding the sinking of the Lusitania and submarine warfare follows:

Text of German Reply.—"Berlin, July 16.—The undersigned has the honor to make the following reply to his excellency, Ambassador Gerard, to the note of the 10th ultimo regarding the impairment of American interests by the German submarine war."

"The imperial government welcomed with gratitude when the American government in the note of May 16 itself recalled that Germany has always permitted itself to be governed by the principles of progress and humanity in dealing with the law of maritime warfare."

Berlin Cites Acts of Enemy.—"It is known to the American government how Germany's adversaries, by completely paralyzing peaceful traffic between Germany and neutral countries, have aimed from the very beginning and with increasing lack of consideration at the destruction not so much of the enemy forces as the life of the German nation, repudiating in doing so all the rules of international law and disregarding all the rights of humanity."

"Long before the beginning of submarine war England practically completely intercepted legitimate neutral maritime traffic from Germany."

Cites Starvation Edict.—"On November 14, 1914, the English foreign secretary issued a proclamation that it was one of England's principal tasks to prevent food for the German population from reaching Germany by sea."

"Since March 1 England has been talking from neutral ships, without further formality, all merchandise prohibited to Germany as well as all merchandise coming from Germany, even when neutral property."

"Just as it was also with the Boers, the German nation is now to be given the choice of perishing from starvation with its women and children or of relinquishing its independence."

"While our enemies thus loudly and openly proclaimed war without mercy until our utter destruction, we were conducting a war in self-defense for our national existence and for the sake of peace of an assured present and future."

Forced to Adopt Submarine Warfare.—"We have been obliged to adopt a submarine warfare to meet the deliberate intention of our enemies and the method of warfare adopted by them in contravention of international law."

"With all its efforts in principle to protect neutral life and property from damage as much as possible, the German government recognized early on that it is impossible to prevent neutral ships from suffering from the submarine war."

However, the American government will also understand and appreciate that in the light for existence which has been forced upon Germany by its adversaries and announced by the imperial government to be within its power to protect and save the lives of German subjects."

"If the imperial government were derelict in these duties it would be guilty before God and history of the violation of those principles of highest humanity which are the foundation of every national existence."

Saving Passengers Mean Loss.—"The case of the Lusitania shows with horrible clearness to what jeopardizing or butchering the manner of conducting war employed by our adversaries leads."

The most direct contradiction of the American position is the fact that between merchantmen and war vessels have been obliterated by the order to British merchantmen to arm themselves and to man submarines, and the promise of rewards therefor, and neutrals who saw merchantmen as travelers thereby have been exposed in an increasing degree to all the dangers of war."

INSECTS LAY COUNTRY WASTE

Crowd of Grasshoppers Three Miles Wide Part of Plague That Has Visited Costa Rica.

In the last crop season in Central America, particularly in Guatemala and Honduras, the air was filled with swarms of grasshoppers, which devastated every kind of vegetation. To stop this destruction thousands of the insects were caught and locally exterminated. A view of most deadly character, which caused the death of millions of bushels.

Millions of millions of small insects have been seen in Costa Rica and Nicaragua. On the border, a flock three miles wide and six miles long is reported to have crossed into Costa Rica about May 31.

Great quantities of corn beans, etc., must be imported from the United States—as was the case last winter—to keep the people from starving. They are the insects that are presently being an invasion of Panama.

If the commander of the German submarine which destroyed the Lusitania had caused the crew and passengers to take to the boats before being torpedoes this would have meant the sure destruction of his own vessel.

Says Liner Had No Faults.—"After the experiences in sinking such small and less seaworthy vessels, it was to be expected that a mighty ship like the Lusitania would remain above water long enough even after the torpedoing to permit passengers to enter the ship's boats."

"Circumstances of a very peculiar kind, especially the presence on board of large quantities of highly explosive materials (world-volatilized, possibly 'displaced') this expectation."

"In addition it may be pointed out that the Lusitania had been spared thousands of cases of munition, which have been sent to Germany's enemies, and thereby thousands of German mothers and children robbed of bread winners."

Wishes to Remain Friend.—"In the spirit of friendship whereby the German nation has been impelled towards the Union and the United States the earliest days of its existence, the imperial government will always be ready to do all it can during the present war also to prevent the jeopardizing of lives of American citizens."

The imperial government, therefore, repeats the assurances that the passengers by the Lusitania in the prosecution of legitimate shipping, and the lives of American citizens in neutral vessels shall not be placed in jeopardy."

U. S. Ship Must Be Marked.—"In order to exclude any unforeseen dangers to American passenger ships, the imperial government has decided to mark the conduct of maritime war by Germany's adversaries, German submarines will be instructed to permit the free and safe passage of such passenger ships when under recognizable by special marking and notified a reasonable time in advance."

The imperial government, however, confident that the American government will assume to guarantee that these vessels have no contraband on board, details of arrangement for the use of marking of these vessels to be agreed upon by the naval authorities of both sides."

Would Agree on Number of Ships.—"In the event of the American facilities for travel across the Atlantic for American citizens the German government submits for consideration a proposal to increase the number of ships available by installing in passenger service a reasonable number of neutral steamers under the American flag, the exact number to be agreed upon, under the same conditions as the above mentioned American steamers."

"The imperial government believes it can guarantee this manner of adequate facilities for travel across the Atlantic ocean can be afforded American citizens."

"There would, therefore, appear to be no compelling necessity for American citizens to travel to Europe in line of war on ships carrying the enemy flag. In particular the imperial government is unable to admit that American citizens can project an enemy ship through the mere fact of their presence on board."

Follows Action of foe.—"Germany merely followed England's example when she declared part of the high seas an area of war. Consequently, accidents suffered by neutrals on enemy ships in this area of war cannot be judged differently from accidents to which neutrals are at all times exposed in the case of war at land when they break themselves into dangerous localities in spite of previous warnings."

"If, however, it should not be possible to bring the German government to acquire an adequate number of neutral passenger steamers, the imperial government is prepared to interpose no obstacle to the use of the American flag by the American government of four enemy passenger steamers for passenger traffic between North America and England."

"Assurances of 'free and safe' passage for American passenger steamers would extend to apply under the identical precedents to these formerly hostile passenger steamers."

Hope to See Understanding.—"The president of the United States has declared his readiness, in a way deserving of thanks, to communicate and suggest proposals to the government of Great Britain with particular reference to the alteration of maritime law."

The imperial government will be glad to make use of the good offices of the president and hopes that his efforts in the present case, as well as in the direction of the left ideal of the freedom of the seas, will lead to an understanding."

"The undersigned requests the assistance to bring the German government and ally himself of the opportunity to render to his excellency the assurance of his most distinguished consideration."

VON JAGOW.

REPLY READY SOON

PRESIDENT TO CONSULT CABINET BEFORE ANSWER IS SENT TO GERMANY.

RETURNS TO CAPITAL SOON

Telegram From Cornish to Secretary Tumulty Indicates Executive Has Arrived at No Decision as to Policy of U. S. Towards Berlin Government.

Washington, July 15.—The first official announcement of the immediate plans of President Wilson, following with the situation that has arisen between Germany and the United States came on Tuesday in a telegram from Cornish, N. H., to Secretary Tumulty, stating that the president would return to Washington soon to lay the entire subject before his cabinet. It indicated that the president had not yet arrived at a decision as to the policy of the government.

The White House statement was as follows: "Referring to statements appearing in certain morning newspapers with reference to the attitude of the president toward the reply to the German government, Secretary Tumulty, this evening gave out the following statement which he had received from the president: 'I have said that from the moment of the arrival of the official text of the German note I have given the matter the closest attention, keeping constantly in touch with the secretary of state and with every source that would throw light on the situation; that so far the secretary of state and I have both maturely considered the situation I shall go to Washington and get into personal conference with him and with the cabinet and that there will be prompt announcement as soon as possible of the purposes of the government.'"

Official opinion here continued to regard the situation as grave. Secretary Lansing and other members of the cabinet who are here hold this view. Mr. Lansing and his assistant have been examining the entire field of law and policy presented by the German note and the president already has received some of the memoranda bearing on important points.

The statement from the White House has made it apparent that the president has definitely abandoned the idea of summoning Mr. Lansing to the summer capital. It is assumed, however, that Mr. Wilson will return here the last of the week and that the subject will be laid before the cabinet next Tuesday.

Emphasis has been laid in official quarters on the fact that the issue involved is of such seriousness and importance that consideration for a week or more of the idea of reply that should be made ought not to be considered as meaning that the necessity for a firm definition of American policy was undetermined.

JOSEPH A. HOLMES IS DEAD

Head of U. S. Bureau of Mines Expired in Denver—Was Martyr to "Safety First" Cause.

Denver, Colo., July 15.—Joseph Austin Holmes, director of the federal bureau of mines at Washington and a widely known geologist, died at his home here on Tuesday of apoplexy. Doctor Holmes had been in poor health for several months. He came to Denver about four months ago with his family in the hope of regaining strength.

Doctor Holmes was fifty-five years old and a native of South Carolina. He had been director of the bureau of mines since 1910.

Doctor Holmes was regarded by his associates in the government service at Washington as the father of the bureau's mines, which by a campaign of education and experiment, has largely reduced the death toll among the underground workers. He was credited with making "safety first" a national movement.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness, and backache."

"I got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my sweeping I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper, which I picked up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women."

"I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."

GAS COOKING WITHOUT OVEN

Potatoes, Apples or Spaghetti May Be Cooked Excellently on Top of the Stove.

An expert in cooking gas for cooking, and who is an economist as well, gives these instructions:
Put in this plate over one of the burners, lay a couple of potatoes on it, cover it with an inverted deep pan that fitted the plate, and light the gas. The potatoes will be done in at least two-thirds of the usual time. Take a little pan of apples, put in with them a little water and sugar and place them to bake in the same way as the potatoes. These apples will come out as even and nice a brown as you would want to see.

Then cook a dish of spaghetti. Prepare the spaghetti by putting the dish on the hot plate, cover it with another pan. When the spaghetti is baked, cover the dish and just slip it down underneath the gas flame for a few minutes. It will be something to be proud of when it comes out—the rich brown—and you know it would taste right just by looking at it.

SERVICE FOR AFTERNOON TEA

Having Cup on Matching Plate. With Hot Sauce, is Excellent Method, for Obvious Reasons.

An easy way of serving a cup of tea is to place the cup on a matching plate, and to put a folded tea dakin a spoon and a fork on the plate. Then pass whatever sandwiches or cakes you may desire to serve with the tea. They can be accommodated on the plate and daintily and easily eaten.

If elaborate cakes or sandwiches are served with tea and no plate is provided it is difficult to manage them balanced on the saucer of the cup. If a separate plate is held under the cup and saucer, it is practically useless for the saucer so nearly fills it that the margin at the edge is not wide enough to accommodate the cakes.

Of course when a simple water or early eaten sandwich is to be passed with the tea the saucer of the teacup is sufficiently commodious to accommodate it.

Lemon Buns.
One-fourth cupful of sugar, one-half cupful butter, one cupful of milk, one-half cupful currants, one-half cupful lukewarm water, three cupfuls flour, one egg, one-half yeast cake, one-fourth teaspoonful salt, one-half lemon, one-fourth teaspoonful nutmeg. Cream the butter and sugar, then add egg well beaten. Mix thoroughly and add one cupful flour, then the milk, like warm, then the rest of the flour. Lastly add the yeast dissolved in warm water. Beat for 15 minutes, cover closely and let rise. When risen stir in currants, which must be well floured, then add the nutmeg and grated rind and juice of lemon. Place on your pastry board, roll out half an inch thick and cut out with medium-sized biscuit cutter. Place one-half the buns in greased pans, leaving plenty of space. Then place other half on those already in the pan. Let rise very light, bake in quick oven. When done brush with white egg and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Choice of Vegetables.
Selection of the vegetables for dinner has much to do with the success of a meal. Those which resemble each other should be avoided, as squash, sweet potatoes and parsnips, and with these pumpkin pie should be omitted; also, more than one vegetable requiring the same kind of dressing, as creamed cabbage and creamed cauliflower, or a vegetable dressing as cabbage, beets and spinach. Variety in flavors, rather than those that bear a great relation to each other, gives the most satisfactory results.

Virginia Waffles.
Cook a cupful of cornmeal in a cupful and a half of boiling water for 15 minutes. Add a cupful and a half of milk, a cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, teaspoonful of salt, two eggs beaten separately and a tablespoonful of melted butter, also two tablespoonfuls of sugar, and beat well. Bake on hot waffle iron. Cornmeal griddle cakes are made in the same way though the batter should be somewhat thinner.

Cream Toast.
Toast a sufficient number of slices of bread crisp and brown. Make a sauce of one pint of milk which has been brought to the boiling point and thickened with a tablespoonful of four rubbed smooth in a little cold milk. Season well with salt and add a large tablespoonful of butter. Cook till creamy. Then dip each slice of toast in the sauce, and lay in a deep dish; pour the sauce over the slices when the dish is full, and serve hot.

Chicken Pie.
Cook two fat chickens until tender in water slightly salted. When done place pieces evenly in the pan, make a gravy and top thick, and pour over chicken to cover. Have ready sufficient mashed potatoes, nicely seasoned with cream, butter and salt; spread evenly over top of the pie into oven with a hot fire, bake about twenty minutes, serve.

Eggless Leaf Cake.
One cupful sugar, scant one-half cupful shortening, one cupful milk, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, two and one-half cupfuls flour, one-half teaspoonful nutmeg, one teaspoonful lemon extract, one cupful raisins. Bake in medium oven.

Baked Haddock With Stuffing.
Clean a four-pound haddock, sprinkle with salt inside and out, stuff and sew. Cut five diagonal gashes on each side of backbone and insert narrow strips of fat salt pork, having gashes on one side come between gashes on other side. Shape with skewer in form of letter S and fasten skewers with small piece of twine. Place on greased dripping pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Brush over with melted butter, dredge with flour, and place around fish small pieces of fat salt pork. Bake one hour in hot oven, and continue basting as soon as fat is tried out, and continue basting every ten minutes. Serve with drawn butter, egg or hollandaise sauce.

Stuffing—One-half cupful cracker crumbs, one-fourth cupful melted butter, one-fourth teaspoonful salt, one-half cupful sugar, one-half cupful onion juice, one-fourth cupful hot water. Mix ingredients in order given.

Huevos en Espanol.
Empty a can of tomatoes in a frying pan. Thicken with bread and add two or three small green peppers and an onion sliced fine. The peppers may be chopped. Add a little butter and salt to taste. Let this simmer gently until the flavors are well mixed. Then break on top the number of eggs desired. Dip the simmering tomato mixture over the eggs until they are cooked. The eggs may be served, rejecting the sauce. Mexicans strain the sauce a bit and serve with the egg on thick toast.

Good to Know.
Few housewives seem to know that old-fashioned soda is the cheapest washing powder, water softener, etc., in the market. Put a pound or so in a fruit jar and fill with water, adding more water as solution is used until all is dissolved. A tablespoonful in dish water will make soap lather freely or be unnecessary. Two spoonfuls to a pail of water for washing will save soap, strength, time and fabric.

Tired, Aching Muscles Relieved.
Hurt sore, over-exercised, mean and sore muscles. Rub with Eucalypti and a little alcohol, and your sore muscles will be relieved. Nothing so simple as this. Rub with Eucalypti and a little alcohol, and your sore muscles will be relieved. Nothing so simple as this. Rub with Eucalypti and a little alcohol, and your sore muscles will be relieved.
