OLD-TIME SOCIABILITY RECALLED

Considered from first piece and last piece, Pauline's body for mind around the picnic.

Some of the grandfathers and grandmothers of today were in the full of the fun then. We recall several generations of the past, who even in those days had a great deal of fun, and several years ago, when the young people were the pride of the village, and the young ladies and young men were the business and social affairs of the village. Nothing like it now.

The Society of Music was known to be the pride of Barrington.

Almost every family in Barrington had a representative in the high school, and it was a great deal of fun to go to the school and the school and the fun was unlimited.

The recitals given each year were largely attended and the socials were a great success.

Of course you all remember that the women who composed the Ladies' Committee were the pride of the village and every one was welcome to attend, and the fun was

unlimited.

That is why it would have to resort to hard corps proceedings to keep the young people from getting together.

But finally matrimonial affairs got hold of it, and one by one the members of the organization were getting married.

Mrs. Ada Nata McIntosh had much to do with this.

Another enjoyable feature of the village was the public chance.

If the folks had a chance to go to the village, they had a chance to go to the village, and the fun was unlimited.
