RAY POWERS SHOOTS 88 ON MIAMI GOLF COURSE

A copy of the Miami (Fla.) News received at the Auditorium Tuesday evening states that the record of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Powers of this village, is becoming a golf expert down in the Peninsula state.

Mr. Powers is merchandising manager in the advertising department of the newspaper that newspaper says:

"Power Powers, the dozen advertising men from our own Herald, went out and shot an 88 the other day and now is looking for more words to conquer. Duty had a 41 going out but got into a bit of Shubra coming in."

In a letter to the Review, Mr. Powers says that he has seen a great many wonderful things he left Barrington last winter.

"It is very difficult for Mr. Powers to say what the northerners have to say about Miami. He has seen the various stories going around about the place and the cost of living and the cost of real estate. It is impossible to write about the degree of activity down here, and the only possible way to do this is to have the people down here and see for themselves."

"Miami is a boom town they had last summer when millions of dollars were made in the construction of buildings, private and public, and any investor can bank on a profit on his investment at this time or any time in the future."

BARRINGTON REVIEW, THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1926

GOOD WEEK'S PROGRAM AT THE AUDITORIUM

"The Splendid Crime," which comes to the Auditorium Thursday evening, offers a rare combination of an unusually interesting story and a popular star.

For a while he was engaged on West street, but the house which he will move from the property is the corner of Main and Hough street, recently sold by Mr. Weigel.

Misses Mary Ruth Hammond and her guests had their pictures taken and the photographs were given to a delicacies lunch. His two grandmothers, Mrs. Henry Pohlmeyer and Mrs. Charles Remmick of Palatine, were there.

RAY POWERS SHOOTS 88 ON MIAMI GOLF COURSE

A copy of the Miami (Fla.) News received at the Auditorium shows Jackie Coogan, the famous child star, is sponsored by the Eastern Star Officers Club.

In the opinion of Jackie Coogan, he has little opportunity to give vent to his boyish enthusiasm and granks; and in that natural, simple, boyish way he has won all his own, he romps home with another success to his credit.

That boyish picture of Jackie Coogan, who now appears all of Jack, is the result of the efforts of the police of two pictures per year for his son.

Longfellow Producer

Next Wednesday Auditorium headline, "What Happened to Jones," is claimed to be one of the funniest and most farcical pictures ever filmed.

That popular favorite, Reginald Denny, portrays the title role and is the star of the picture, which is to be shown as a farce of the first water.

While the picture is a photoplay version of the old farce, it is a comedy play of the same name, it might literally have been written for the Universal star. It is a real Denny picture, however, and there is no doubt he is a national institution and there are many fans who regard that Denny Coogan, who now appears all of Jack, is the result of the efforts of the police of two pictures per year for his son.

"The Devil's Circus" Coming

On next Thursday the Auditorium presents "The Devil's Circus," just now the most popular picture, which has been highly spoken of in the Chicago press.

"The Devil's Circus" the first distinctive production of the Danish director, Benjamin Christensen, has received the acclaim of a singular success.

Misses Greta Garbo, the famous Mayer star, has the leading feminine interest. Edmund Mack, in the leading male role, is the most popular star of the day. John Miljan, Joyce Coad, the latest find of the screen, and the popular trick dog, Bud.

ASK BALLOT RECOUNT IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Stewart was jammed with voters for half an hour after the doors had closed before the last vote was recorded in the ballot box.

He was in fact of opinion that the possibility of irregularity in the election had been one of the reasons for his

watchers for these two candidates checked the vote as the judges counted

it, and arrived at the same total for each candidate as was recorded.

COSTLY SNOOPING

It is easy to get a resolution through Congress providing for the investigation of this or that industry or condition, but the net result, so far as the taxpayer is concerned, is generally zero.

A case in point is the inquiry, started in 1913, regarding the valuation of railroad properties, with a view to determining whether they are over-capitalized. After nearly 13 years the task is a little more than one-half completed, at a cost to the government of $25,000,000 and an expense of $60,000,000. Still, yet, the railroads so far have not established the fact to the railroads have not been over-capitalized, as was charged by the late Senator LaFollette, who was primarily responsible for this waste of approximately $110,000,000.

No one will deny that it is desirable to keep watch over certain activities of great corporations, but these matters had better be left to the several executive departments, which are charged with the duty of carrying out the will of Congress.

Congressional investigations are almost invariably inspired by political considerations, without any real solicitude for the welfare of the public at large, and they involve an indefensible drain upon the public treasury.

HOW FIRES START

If your home or business building burns down it will generally be due to one of six preventable causes, according to the National Fire Waste Council, which names these:

1. Improper building construction.
2. Defective wiring or other improper installation of equipment furnishing heat, power and lights.

3. Careless storage or handling of explosives and inflammable liquids.

4. Improper and use of nitro-cellulose films, lacquers, paint thinners, trash and rubbish.

5. Carelessness with matches and in disposing of cigar and cigarette butts.

With the exception of the first named, all the above eliminated with little or no expense. Summed up, the fact is that at least two-thirds of the fires which destroy more than $500,000,000 worth of property and about 15,000 human lives each year may be traced directly to carelessness.

It is a terrible price to pay for stupidity andreckless disregard of danger.

ZIEGFELD'S STARS IN "SYNCPATION" SHOW AT UPTOWN THEATRE

Why asks someone, have the girls of today been hard to get? They don't admit that they have been hard to get, the preface for the sign of argument, we would say it is nature's wise protection that they are the hard stars they get.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

STICKING TO THE JOB

Were the average youngster induced into a new job and positively assured that he must remain with the same institution for 70 years, he would probably look upon the prospect with horror.

But Augustus C. Kessinger of Rome, N. Y., has voluntarily stuck to the Sentinel that he has established a record that is perhaps unique in the annals of newspaperdom. Eight years as an employee and 62 years as publisher summarizes his connection with that newspaper.

During his regime the Sentinel has chronicled the events of the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and the World War, and his newspaper has sprung up in between and since. It has seen the town grow into a thriving manufacturing city and has doubtless contributed more to the advancement of its community than any other agency.

Yet there are probably a good many readers of the Sentinel who feel that they could give Mr. Kessinger some valuable advice on how to run a newspaper.

ST. LOUIS CHECKS UP

In order to get the facts regarding crime and its punishment, a "crime survey" was recently made in St. Louis, as a part of a statewide effort to secure authentic information concerning conditions. The findings were had enough.

The report in St. Louis for a year showed 149 homicides, with only 25 punishments; 4776 burglaries and robberies, with only 192 punishments.

In other words, only one murderer out of six received any punishment whatever, while but one burglar or robber out of 24 suffered any penalty.

There is no reason to believe that the situation is worse in St. Louis than in many other cities, hence it must be evident to all that our army of peace officers and court officials are making a most pitiful showing in dealing with these serious crimes, to say nothing of the laxity with respect to minor offenses.
