VILLAGE ALONG DES
PLAINS RIVER UNITE
TO CLEAN UP STREAM

Determined to fight the pollution of the Des Plaines river and its tributaries, residents of communities along the stream have organized the Des Plaines Valley Sanitary Association, which will have over 300,000 members within the next few years. It was announced yesterday.

The organization plans to spur officials of the state and the forest preserve board to take steps to change the condition of the river.

"Conditions exist along the river and in the vicinity of the riverbeds, which are literally driving residents out of their homes," said the association.

The association will take a hand in the election of officials who will be interested in the welfare of the Des Plaines river.

Insurably conditioned along the river, the stream turned into a ribbon of beauty, said leaders of the organization.

Conditioning of the Des Plaines river is the first step in the district canal at Lockport to the navigable waterway of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, which cost $10,000,000 and marks the first link in the Illinois deep waterway from the Mississippi River to Lakes and the Gulf, is expected to be under way within the next thirty days, said the chief engineer of the canal, supervisor of Illinois waterways.

Construction of the Illinois waterway will be completed in 1930.

According to the Des Plaines Valley Sanitary Association, the Des Plaines river is the most polluted stream in the state.

ALL SPECIAL DELIVERY
MAIL TO BE MAILED TO COURT

Washington, D. C.—Proprietary care and attention in the handling of special delivery mail are being given by the First Assistant Postmaster General, John H. Bartlett, the Post Office Department's chief executive. Mr. Bartlett believes that postmasters should be generous and diligent in this particular service.

It is explained, however, that it is expected that postmasters should be generous and diligent in the handling of special delivery mail.

Mr. Bartlett feels that even if such deliveries are to be made outside of the service of the special delivery stamp, they should be made at the lowest possible
cost.

Mr. Bartlett also believes that postmasters should be given the right to charge a fee for the handling of special delivery mail.
