RED CROSS CALL

Again the American Red Cross is in the middle of the red roll call, which is made each year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving. It deserves the support of everyone who can possibly contribute.

Communities which have happily escaped disaster can hardly appreciate the magnificient work of this foremost relief organization. A great fire, flood, storm, epidemic or other cause of widespread distress immediately brings the Red Cross into effective action.

When need for aid arises the Red Cross responds unfailingly and efficiently. There are no debts, no legacies, no legacies left more. What looks-like presumption the traitorous moved to his humanitarian task and stuck to it until it is finished.

While it was originally designed for the relief of suffering in time of war, the Red Cross has in these years become the greatest agency for emergency relief in time of peace as well.

It costs only a dollar to join the organization and thus become identified with its noble work. To do this is at once a duty, a privilege and an honor.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Another attempted encroachment upon freedom of the press is seen in a reported request of the Federal Farm Board for action against a Nebraska weekly newspaper which has dared to criticize the workings of that body.

According to a dispatch to the New York Times, the board has asked the Federal Trade Commission and the Post Office Department to investigate the offending editor.

Regardless of the merits of the newspaper's criticisms, it seems that the marshalling of the forces of government to suppress a weekly newspaper weekly is a rather ridiculous proceeding.

It is generally recognized that the Farm Board has a difficult task, and by many it is believed that it has been made an impossible one. Control is in a bad position, and as such should be subject to such comment, favorable or unfavorable, as every citizen has a right to make with respect to other publications and public officials, not to mention the Congress and the President of the United States.

The fact that the censorship has been directed to set up such a censorship as to be as many as rather strong evidence that Chairman Legge and his associates are not sure of themselves. In any event, it indicates that they are too emotional to handle their important jobs with calm assurance.

TELEGRAM AND GAG

It was recently noted that the gags listing stations and branching into other lines of business, by adding tire, tobacco and cigarettes, sandwiches, cold drinks and even books to their stock in trade.

It is felt that it is anticipated that they are to become branch offices for telephone companies, where tourists and other may file telegrams. In some cases written messages will be delivered by telegram, offered by filling station attendants. In other cases, they may use a slot telephone in the car, the bill may be posted.

It is reported that one telephone company has arranged for 3,500 filling stations to have telephones, this plan is negotiating for 2,500 more, while another company will arrange for 3,000.

The new system will be advantageous to telephone companies, filling stations as well as to tourists and others. At the same time, greater convenience in telephoning will doubtless increase this method of communication very materially, which is exactly what the companies have in mind.

A BELATED BONUS

At last Major "Eddie" Rickenbacker has received from the President Hoover the coveted Congressional Medal of Honor. In 1918 he earned it as America's ace of aces during the World War.

Few men, indeed, have experienced as many thrills as came to Eddie Rickenbacker in the years preceding and during the war. While in his early twenties he became widely known as a daring and skillful automobile racer. In fact, he went to France with Pershing as a member of the motor car staff. But aviation lured him, and in August, 1917, he was transferred to the Air Service at his own request.

He became commander of the 94th Aero Pursuit Squadron, the first American Aviation unit to fight on the Western front, as well as the one scoring the greatest number of victories, 65, of which 26 were credited to him.

He was also the first commanding officer to lead his own squadron into Coblenz, Germany, and at the close of the war he returned with the rank of captain. He was made a member of the distinguished Service Cross with nine palms, the French Legion of Honor and Croix du Guerre (Cross of War) with four palms.

After the war he organized an automobile manufacturing company and is now vice-president and director of sales of the Fokker aircraft branch of General Motors. He is also president of the famed Indianapolis Speedway corporation and chairman of the International Council of the National Automobile Association.

Just turned 40, Eddie Rickenbacker doubles his annual salary of $10,000 and receives the services being demanded by Mr. Porton, and "The Peacemaker," as he is called, is a man of means. He is known by his biographer as "the man who always brings by a list every attractive feature of our world."

One of his services is to plan the conduct of Every Member Church. This is our effort to present the church as a unit, to the public, for the annual church and missionary budget. Eight teams have been selected to carry out this work, and the teams will be paid their subscription for the year, but to the paid help who are not members of our church. To leave the service free for our world's work is the best way to do this.

Visitors are welcome at every service of our church.
