Tennis is a Royal Game;

Americans Good Players
Tennis may well be called a royal game, for it has been popular with various kings of England and France, and it can be said to have originated as a game with the Greeks and Romans, who played it with a peculiarly shaped racket something like a lacrosse stick or a hockey stick with a net attached. The word "tennis" is probably derived from the French word "Tenez," meaning "Take it! Play!"

In A. D. 1200 the game was known as la bende, and throughout that century it was played all over France by the highest in the land. Indeed, Louis X died through a chill contracted after playing, and Charles VI of France watched it being played from the room in which he was confined during his attack of insanity.

A strange page in the history of tennis is found in the statement that although there were 250 courts in Paris alone during the Sixteenth century, there were only six courts in the whole of France in 1570, so much had its popularity decreased. Strangely enough, although Americans are perhaps the finest tennis players in the world, the game was not introduced into the country until 1880 and was not really popular until in recent years.

Genuine Panama Hats
Genuine panama hats are made of the young leaves of the Jipijapa plant, or stemless screw pine, which is especially abundant in Ecuador, where these hats are made almost exclusively. Locally this fiber is known as paja toquilla. Panama hats are woven by hand, and work on them is done only in the early morning or evening hours when the dew is out. Consequently it takes from two to three months to make one hat. Panama hats are also made in Peru and Colombia, but not in large quantities. Panama hats received their name from the fact that they were introduced to the continental world from Panama; they are not made there.

Appalachians Worn Down

And Again Re-Elevated
The original materials from which the Appalachian mountains were made represent sediments deposited in a gradually subsiding trough, or depression, over exceedingly long periods of time. Finally, says a writer in the Rural New Yorker, after the deposition, or washing in, of such deposits to a depth of thousands of feet, a zone of weakness developed in the bottom of the trough, and the pressure of the earth's contracting crust forced the trough accumulations upward, probably through a slow and long-continued movement, until the materials of the old trough were transformed into a mountain range. This mountain system was worn down again, subsequently re-elevated, worn down once more and again elevated. It is now undergoing a tearing-down process, and a washing away and deposition of sediments that may again repeat past history.

Killing Trees by Cutting
The proper time to kill a tree by cutting is just when the tree is in full leaf. Wait until sprouts start and then cut. Trees store up nutrients and elements in their roots and when cut draw on these elements to re-establish themselves. This stored-up vitality is much impoverished just before the tree is in full leaf. If the cutting or felling is done right, the root supply will be steadily drained until the tree dies, roots and all—Pathfinder Magazine.

Sale of Newspapers But Not Advertising, Taxable
The much discussed ruling on newspapers has been released and is as follows: "Newspapers, magazines and periodicals are tangible personal property and receipts from retail sales thereof, that is, to purchasers who use them and do not purchase them for resale are within the act. The person making the final sale of the newspaper, magazine or periodical is answerable under the provisions of the 'Retailers' Occupation Tax Act." Receipts by publishers of newspapers, magazines and periodicals from classified or display advertising are not to be included in determining the amount upon which the tax is to be paid. In other words newspapers will pay no subscription and not on advertising as advertising is considered a service.

Historic Elgin Auto Race to Be Revived Saturday

The historic Elgin national road race will be revived at the right mile course just west of Elgin next Saturday with a list of participants who compete favorably with the opening race in 1910, when Barney Oldfield, Ralph De Palma, Ralph Mulford, and Teddy Tisdale were among the contestants. The race was last run in 1920.

Wagners and near winners of the Indianapolis speedway races lead the list of motor racing drivers who will compete. The cream of the Indianapolis racing circle, now centered at Elgin, include Bill Cummings, Dave Evans, Russell Snowberger, Sharron Canton, Joe Russo, Phil Shaffer, and Fred Brinko, Sam Palmer and H. M. Lewis.

The Elgin course is eight miles in distance, consisting of country roads surfaced with concrete, tar and gravel. It is hilly and has several sharp turns. All these factors lead to the thrill of a contest which emboldens America's preeminent racing public.

The 1933 race, to all present appearances, will contain more thrills, excitement and interest than any other contest in America. The thrills of the earlier days have made plans to revive the event as an annual feature in the future.

The race is to constitute the program. At 10 a. m. there will be the first car race for cars of 201 cubic inch piston displacement and up, and at 2 p. m. the open car race for larger cars. The former is 100 miles in distance and the latter is 300 miles. Seating and parking space will be available for the spectators over the length of the course. Proceeds are to be for the benefit of the employment Relief and Family Welfare associations.

Counterfeit Money
The person who accepts counterfeit money is stuck with it unless he legally passes it on to some one else. A bank will not knowingly accept counterfeit money, but if it is presented for change or deposit and rejected, the bank will confiscate it and make a report to a representative of the Treasury Department. If undetected at the time of presentation, the bank or the teller who accepted it must stand the loss.

Many Small Boats Dot Red Sea
The Red Sea is dotted with shoals, these small boats manned by natives craft that engage in every kind of maritime adventure from ferrying goods to Mecca to transporting slaves surreptitiously. There is no shipping record of their departures and arrivals. Navigating them among the coral reefs that will slice the gull like a knife, is dangerous.

India House in itself
India, representing every stage in man's religious, political and artistic growth, is a world in itself. From the temples, markets, bazaars, shrines and cathedrals dot the land. The burials, the Ganges, the Hindu method of burial, are interesting. The wealth of the religious is judged by the wood burned, due to its scarcity.

Stairs Made Her Gasp For Breath
PLENTY OF EXCESS FAT
Although she has lost but 7 lbs. of her overweight, this woman finds that 7 lbs. has made a remarkable difference to her.

Her letter reads: "I am 33 years old and my height is 5 ft. Last year I weighed 154 lbs. I have been taking a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salt, making no change in my diet. Now I am less round the hips, and only weigh 147 lbs. dressed. But I feel lighter and can now run upstairs, which before used to make me gasp for breath. Everyone says my complexion is better." (Miss Z. H.)

Kruschen is an ideal blend of 6 essential salts which help body organs to function properly and maintain a splendid record of health—build up energy and strength while you're reducing to normal weight.

Governor Sets Oct. 8-14 Fire Prevention Week

Calling attention to the tremendous economic losses resulting from fires, and the suffering and what follow in their wake, Gov. Horner has proclaimed October 8 to October 14, as fire prevention week, urging the cooperation of municipal and school officials, chambers of commerce, civic organizations, and the press for an intensive observance of the occasion, and for continued efforts to reduce fire waste and destruction.

The reported loss in Illinois in 1932 was $15,500,814, a decrease of $2,539,567.

"This decrease is gratifying, but we must recognize the fact that it may be due largely to depression of property burned rather than to an actual reduction in the volume of property destroyed," the governor said.

Offered Promotion at Fair
James J. Hagg, who has been employed in the chair car division at a Century of Progress this summer, was offered the captaincy of one group of college men manning their cars last week. However, he would have to sign up for service until November and that would make it necessary for him to forfeit the scholarship he recently received from the University of Chicago. He has decided to return to college in preference to accepting the promotion at the fair.

Title, Man on Horseback, Given Napoleon, Boulanger

The title "Man on Horseback" was applied to Gen. George Ernest Boulanger, a French soldier and politician who lived from 1837 to 1891. A veteran of the Franco-German war and other wars, he sought popularity by appearing in public mounted on a black horse. By 1890 he was for a time minister of war. At first a demagogue and "Jingo" who played to the radicalism of the gallery, he was later subsidized by the monarchists, attacking parliament and favoring militarism, a weakened parliamentary system and a stronger executive. His opponents called his proposals dictatorship and reactionism. His method of attacking the parliamentary system was to put himself forward as a candidate for deputy in various parts of the country at the same time. After one of these elections, he was impeached but he fled the country to escape trial and committed suicide in Brussels.

The term is commonly applied to dictators who court the favor of the mob in order to rule them. Napoleon has been called the "Man on Horseback" or "Equestrian" because of his habit of appearing in public on horseback in order to further his own ends.

Canada Larger Than U. S.

Which is the larger—Canada or the United States of America? The answer is Canada by a small margin. Here is some "evidence" to keep in mind.

By far the biggest country in the world is Russia, which is more than twice as large as the United States. Canada and the United States are equal in size to France, Spain, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Portugal, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Latvia and Albania added together, and you could tack Belgium, Switzerland and Lithuania into the corners. Do you realize how very small are the British Isles? They are smaller than either Russia or Norway, and they are much smaller than either Sweden or Denmark. The whole British Isles could be covered twice over by the one American state of Texas and there would be room left for a country as big as Wales—Montreal Herald.

In Defense of the Goose

For as long as the goose has been regarded as the silliest of fowls, it has not the most stupid thing in creation. Nobody believed the goose would pass the simplest intelligence test. Any person who acted or spoke irrationally was "as silly as a goose." No other simile could be found that so forcefully expressed the idea of perfect nonsense, of utter and ridiculous stupidity. However, it is said the goose is not "foolish but dumb." On the contrary, it has a keen, penetrating intellect, an active mind and remarkably good judgment. The simile should be changed to "as intelligent as a goose."

Palestine's Government

The government of Palestine was placed under the mandate of Great Britain which was passed by the council of the League of Nations on July 24, 1922, and became effective September 29, 1923. Palestine was formerly a vilayet of the Turkish province of Syria. Jerusalem had been in Moslem hands since 1244, and had been conquered in the Crusades, and had been under Turkish rule since 1517. It remained under British military administration until July 1, 1920, when Sir Herbert L. Samuel was appointed high commissioner and a civil government set up.

The Angels of Mons

The legend of the Angels of Mons was circulated very widely in the early days of the World war. British troops of the small British Expeditionary force were being overwhelmed by the German armies at Mons, when, according to the legend, a host of ghostly warriors appeared in the sky over the heads of the British troops, shot flights of ghostly arrows into the advancing German ranks, and so saved the day for the wearied and desperate British soldiers.

Foods in Use for Ages

All of the cultivated food plants and domesticated animals used by modern man have been in use since the dawn of civilization 12,000 years ago, a director of the New York Botanical gardens, asserted. "Modern man has vastly improved the plants and animals inherited from his very remote ancestors," he said, "but within the historic period has not domesticated a single plant or animal important from the standpoint of food supply."

Revolutionized Pin Industry

It was not until 1824 that a man named Wright invented a machine which revolutionized the pin industry and resulted in the pin of today. Up to that time pins were so scarce that they were considered choice gifts for a woman.

Airplane Noses Over When Making Landing Near Jewel Tea Plant

Heavy ground in the northeast corner of Jewel Tea Co.'s shop pasture one of the plant proved unsuitable for airplane landings Wednesday morning when a Curtiss Junior monoplane piloted by Mr. Gladish of Glen View turned over immediately after landing.

The airplane turned up on its nose and then rolled over onto the gasoline tank. The nose piece was broken. The windshield was broken. Mr. Gladish received several minor facial cuts from the broken windshield.

The pilot had been putting in time in the air necessary for retaining his transport license. He had been informed at Curtis field that there was ground suitable for landing near Jewel Tea Co. in case he wanted to stop in Barrington. He attempted a landing at 9 a. m. The pasture he selected had a comparatively level surface, but the spongy ground caused the machine wheels to stick when it landed.

Mechanics from the plant, authorized by P. C. Fleming, repaired the damage to the plane so that Mr. Gladish was able to leave later in the day.

Files Injunction Against New Motor Vehicle Act

Chaining two sections of the motor vehicle act are unconstitutional. The Agricultural Transportation Association, Inc., has filed an injunction suit in St. Louis county circuit court to halt state officials from enforcing the provisions, particularly against farmers having state to market. The first section attached, No. 23, requires motor trucks to be equipped with a device or system to limit their speed. The other section attached, No. 24, sets up maximum speed limits for buses and trucks according to their weight.

Registration at St. Anne School Tuesday, Sept. 5

Made in connection with the registration of the school routine will be an inspection at St. Anne's school the year when orders of the St. Francis, Milwaukee, Wis., take place. The registration will take place Tuesday, marking the seventh anniversary of the founding of the school. There will be eight grades in addition to the kindergarten. Most work is to be optional and will depend upon the season. Arrangements can be made for violin, piano and vocal study.

According to Rev. John A. Deffen, the building has been thoroughly cleaned and put in order for the opening of school and there has been a reduction in tuition. Last year, the school was 60, permitting work in individual instruction. Protestant children are received in the school with religious education optional to their curriculum.
