Treasury Department Asks Facts From Persons Denied Loans

The survey of credit in the federal reserve district of Chicago, which was undertaken for the purpose of finding why more loans to small business firms are not being made, is progressing rapidly. The investigation was started in Chicago on September 4 and is to be finished by September 27. Fifty-four economists and business research specialists are now in the field collecting facts as to credit from banks and business firms. With the active cooperation of the federal reserve bank of Chicago and the hearty endorsement of Chambers of Commerce, real estate boards, Lions clubs, Kiwanis clubs, Rotary, and trade associations, the investigators expect to collect 40,000 cases in three weeks intensive drive. Careful examination of these cases, it is hoped, will reveal the extent to which bank credit is not now available to business men, and whether any deficiency that may exist is due to the impaired credit status of would-be borrowers, the desire of banks for liquidity, the exacting standards of bank examiners, the inadequacy of banking resources, or the general state of business.

The tabulation of the data and the interpretation of the results will be done in Washington. No confidence whatsoever will be violated in the use of the information collected by the investigators by the business community for statistical analysis, nor will it be utilized as a supplement to bank examinations, or for other government purposes not germane to the study.

Readers of The Review can render assistance to this investigation and thereby render important aid in improving business conditions in their communities if they will write or telephone to Dr. C. O. Hardy, at Box 25, 1126 E. 59th street, Chicago, Midway 6800, local 769, concerning cases where commercial loans have been refused by banks, the department reported. They will not cause embarrassment to any individual banks as the complete data is compiled for general fact finding.

Chicago Company Asks Approval on Peddling stamps. The representative at first answered that this point was up to the individual salesman to decide, but corrected himself and admitted any quantity of water for a set amount. This also tends to raise the loss, both in water consumed and price per thousand gallons. It is readily seen in going through the record that the smaller consumers of water pay all the profit realized in the water department, while the larger the consumer, the greater the loss under the present system of rates and billing.

"There are two remedies to this condition:

1. Raise the rates to a new low.
2. Eliminate waste.

"Eliminating waste will be very difficult unless the 'dead-ends' are abolished, and flat rates are done away with.

"Raising the rates is probably the better solution, inasmuch as the rates are much lower than in other towns and villages around us.

"The cost of operating the plant is about as low as it is possible to get without impairing efficiency.

The nine largest users of water include: the C. & N. W., the Jefferson Ice Co., Jewel Tea Co., Barrington Laundry, Pedersen Dairy, Park district (for swimming pool), E. J. & E. railroad, school district No. 4, and St. Ann's school.
