

Rites Saturday for Mrs. K. Dvorak, 94 Year Old Pioneer

Was Oldest Resident of Fox River Grove; Had Been Ill Only 3 Days

Mrs. Katherine Dvorak, oldest resident of Fox River Grove, died at the age of 94 years Wednesday, Nov. 7, after having been ill only three days.

Funeral services were held at her home and from S.S. Peter and Paul church, Cary, Saturday. Interment took place in St. John's cemetery with Rev. F. M. Gerry officiating.

Mrs. Dvorak was born in Valentine, Czechoslovakia in 1844 and was married to William Dvorak of Swan, Czechoslovakia at an early age. The couple decided to try the country of promise and emigrated to America, landing in New York. They lived in New York for a while and in 1872 moved to Chicago where they resided for 2 years. They then purchased the farm here on which Mrs. Dvorak spent the last sixty years of her life.

At that time there was no bridge for traffic over Fox River so the road that is now Cary road went on further towards Cary than the railroad crossing and thence to Algonquin. This crossing became known as Dvorak crossing, the first name on the location that now comprises part of the Grove.

Mr. Dvorak tried to see her farm completely within the village and chose as a desirable location for the village hall. First State bank, several prosperous business houses and some fine residences.

She possessed the use of all her facilities and retained a sound memory through the years. She liked to relate incidents of Chicago after the fire and meeting Indians some 60 years ago. She enjoyed good health and was sick only three days preceding her death.

She was one of those of the past generation who worked for a better community and made the world a better place because they had lived.

She was the mother of seven children. Her husband and four of the children preceded her in death. Those surviving are John Dvorak and Mrs. William McGraw of Fox River Grove and William Dvorak of Chicago. There are 22 grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren.

Armistice Tables

About 60 members of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliaries attended an Armistice party at Sam Patriak's Saturday night. A tableau was given at 11 o'clock. Against a background of blue with a gold star, stood a grave covered with poppies, a silver cross with a helmet at one end of it. At either end stood a guard. Gus Krasz represented the navy, now and then singing. Mrs. John and William Suchy the army. Miss Helen Jelick sang "A long, long trail winding" and George Sieburg sounded the taps. All lights were turned off with the exception of

Grace Moore's "One Night of Love" to Be Here Nov. 18-20

"I Said His Mate" With Grossmuller Coming Today, Saturday

for adventure is the expression in "His Mate," which opened at the Catlow yesterday and Saturday. Similar to Tarzan, a hill jungle, experiencing primitive romance and adventure, the tale of the hill soldiers alike. Neil Hamilton, Cavanaugh appear to tell what is really new, viewing "One Night of Love" at the Catlow Monday and Tuesday. The story of a young man of mountain birth has followed the premiere at Rockwood as radiant as the stars, the young musical pictures of Hollywood, an entrancingly romantic, comedy, and exotic setting with the operatic ambitions, rare, the western girl who wants to study voice, gets a gay American fiance and also a young music teacher who claims her affection, but she is constrained to be unromantic because of an agreement with him not to inject any affair into their strictly musical association.

Interest in the story are a number of operatic sequences which permit the glorious vocal achievements of Miss Moore to further the musical plot. Tullio Cimarosa as the Italian music master, and Lyle Talbot heads the supporting cast. A delightful short subject which will precede the show is "One Night of Love" the color cartoon, "Poor Cinderella."

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week brings to the Catlow screen, "Servants' Entrapment," which reunites for the first time since "State Fair," Jane Gaynor and Lew Ayres. In their newest roles, Janet portrays a Jerry Williams, who goes from riches to poverty and back again, while Lew, as a chauffeur, ascends from poverty to riches.

Janet wishes to become a useful woman—to learn to cook, now take care of babies—so she disappears through the front door of her paternal home, and makes her way to the servants' entrance of the house, masquerading as a maid. The maid, however, is a charwoman. To win his love, with Janet revealing her identity, her ingenious intrigues provide delightful entertainment. In addition to Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres, the cast includes Ned Sparks, Walter Connolly and Louis Dresser.

Indians Fought Over Buffalo
With supplies scarce for food, but fat bison for clothing, lodges, buffalo bones, horns and skins, fashioning weapons, tools and implements—small wonder that the mighty animal became a strong deity in Indian rituals and ceremonies. Indian tribes, especially between the mountain Indians and those of the plains (Apacheans and Cheyenne) came about, says Nature Magazine, through contests for the choice buffalo specimens.

Barrington
Woman's Club

In a brilliant review of "Hitler Over Europe," William Reichmann fascinated members of the Barrington Woman's club Thursday afternoon by describing the background to this entire maze of German intrigue and in some measure, explaining the psychology behind the German viewpoint. The meeting was held at the public library.

In regard to the real identity of Ernst Henrich, pseudonym of the author of the book, Mr. Reichmann quoted from current publications—most of which agreed that it was a person of political prominence, great intelligence and also great bias—one evidently with a decided viewpoint, an almost bigoted creed. Trotsky's name has often been associated with it, as his book has his brilliance, his forceful vituperation, his viewpoints.

That the German viewpoint is the result of a past war inferiority complex, furthered by provisions of the treaty of Versailles was strongly emphasized. Economic losses, plus the inability to retrieve them and the crushing sensation of France holding the whip hand is responsible for German discontent.

The book deals with possibility.

Clearing House Plan for State Bank Explained

One was when a dividend might be expected from the receiver of the First State bank. Mr. Sloan predicted that a dividend would be paid in five or six months. The bond account of the bank is large enough to pay a 10 to 15 per cent dividend now if it were sold. The bonds with other assets are pledged to the RFC with application for a government loan. If a loan is granted, the first dividend will be for at least 20 per cent and probably for more.

The assistant receiver was asked if a person indebted to the closed bank would be required to apply on his debt any assignments that he received. The answer was no. If the debtor wished to apply assignments to pay off his debt, he could do so, however, and by doing so help liquidate the bank assets.

Local Boys, John Muir and Earl Eiters Are Hurt in Game Saturday

John Muir, local high school boy, was injured in the first few minutes of play when the Bronx met Arlington Heights Saturday for the final football tilt of the season. He received a torn ligament at the right knee and will have to wear a brace for sometime, it was reported.

Earl Eiters was "hurt" in the game also, but not so seriously, a ligament of his right arm having been torn. He was able to take part in basketball practice Wednesday in spite of the injury. His elbow was strapped.

Four of these were on west highway, two on West two on Hillside avenue, five in Jewel Park, and seven in outlying districts. All members will make a inspection Friday evening consider the proposals.

BARRINGTON REVIEW

ESTABLISHED 1845
LESLIE W. MCCLURE, Editor and Publisher

WALTER R. WINTERINGHAM, Business Director and Foreman

MEMBER
ILLINOIS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Published every Thursday afternoon at Barrington, Illinois, and delivered as second-class matter at the Barrington post office under Act of March 3, 1875.

All communication should be addressed to the BARRINGTON REVIEW, 110 W. Main Street, Barrington, Illinois. Cards of thanks, expressions of condolence, obituaries, poetry, memorials, and all other contributions of society or church value and service given for monetary benefit will be charged for.

TELEPHONE, BARRINGTON, NO. 1

HAVE WE TOO MUCH GOVERNMENT

Now that the election is over and the officials named for the ensuing term it might not be amiss to direct attention to the cost of our system of government.

According to recent census figures the taxpayers of the United States support 3062 county governments, 16,659 city governments, 128,548 school districts and 18,769 township organizations. The question before the citizens of this country is whether there are too many organizations for modern needs.

We have no objection to any of these arms of government if the taxpayers are willing to pay for them. However, the average citizen of this republic pays $71.09 each year to support them, when many of them could be eliminated without crippling government in the least.

TEACHERS WARN PUPILS

School teachers of Barrington occasionally take a few minutes out of their work to discuss with their pupils the dangers of the highway, with modern automobiles whizzing by and children being accidentally killed at the rate of eighty a week throughout the country.

Not only should this slaughter have the attention of school teachers but other organizations in the community should help in the fight against this terrible toll. Children must be repeatedly warned to avoid the dangers that lurk in careless use of the highways of the nation.

It's time for us to quit taking for granted the death of eighty children a week and almost that many adults every day. The price is too much to pay for speed and concerted effort can cut down the death toll appreciably.

BETTER SAILING AHEAD

The election is a milestone. It is better behind us than ahead of us. Business will find itself in another fortnight and, coupled with assurances that may be expected on the fiscal situation from the president himself, there will be a disposition to take a chance on enlarged programs of production for 1935.—David Lawrence.

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School Is the Family"—Freobel

Issued by National Kindergarten Assn. 8 W. 40th St. New York

The Do-As-You-Pleasure Room

"Mother, Helen won't play with us," complained Mary Joyce to her mother. "She wants to know all the time."

"Don't be odd, Helen," responded Mrs. Joyce. "Go and play with the others." Helen gathered up her sewing and went to join a game in which she was not really needed and at the moment was not at all interested.

Many mothers make this effort to standardize their children's play, forgetting that the individuality, the tastes, the physical condition and the interests of each child should have consideration. If the quiet little girl wants to finish a doll's dress while the other children romp on the lawn with the pet dog, it is hardly fair to make her put down her fascinating task just because the majority prefer another occupation. If she is apt to take insufficient encouragement, not force. When driven into action, however, under protest, a child is pretty sure to dislike them more than ever.

The do-as-you-please room is a saving institution which will be used on occasions, not only by the less active child, but by each member of the family. It is not being queer or contrary that prompts a boy to want to finish a kite rather than to go behind at a particular moment, and the little girl who happens to be a tomboy at the moment is not bound to "turn up to be a maiden lady" on that account. Concentration on an interesting activity, independence, or some childish sorrow, are good reasons for wanting to be alone. At any rate, having a spot where one can be secure from noise and confusion is a privilege with which grownups can sympathize.

The do-as-you-please room may be only a corner of the living room or the shady space beneath the apple tree, but wherever it is it should be considered sacred from invasion. When children know that they are recognized as individuals just as definitely as they are regarded as members of a group, they are much better employed, more likely to do well in school and also more original in

WHAT'S GOING ON

WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

The 74th congress, chosen November 6, already has made political history. But that is not all. Since the Civil war, and far as records disclose, not since the party government became fully established in this country, has a party imposed its lead in an election year when no president was chosen. Yet that now has happened. When the new congress meets January 3, 321 delegates will take their seats in the house. This compares with 309 who sat in the last congress. There will be 184 republicans, instead of 113 who sat last session.

The bureau of agricultural economists report that higher food prices all along the line may be expected until next year's crops begin to come on the market. For one solid week government officials conferred with agricultural economists of 40 states and with field chiefs of the agricultural adjustment administration. The result: farm production larger than the unusually small production of 1933 is expected. The higher prices this year may tend to stimulate excessive planting of some crops in 1935, particularly where adjustment programs are not in effect. Continued improvement in demand late in the year will depend primarily upon recovery in the durable goods industries, where the decline in employment and production has been most pronounced. Fruits, these will be in quality, but to the farmer will reflect upon a good, fashioned, roasty or baked, the food price barometer does not agree well. Market guides are having to devise their retail meat prices from day to day—and the trend is always upward. From the government, the housewife is told that "a substantial advance in prices of all meat animals is expected." Added to that, the general quality and batch of these animals (to be slaughtered) will be much below average."

Conservative forces will find their principal support in the ranks of democrats from the old south. Democratic political ideas range from those of Huey Long of Louisiana and Theodore Bilbo of Mississippi to those of Carter Glass and Harry Byrd of Virginia and Edward Smith of South Carolina. Political ideas in the republican party will range from those of Senator Norris of Nebraska to Senator Hastings of Delaware.

The commander of the American Legion was among the callers on Friday. Commander Frank M. Delgrado reported when he left the white house that he had not discussed anything controversial with the president, but before he had finished his interview with the men who gathered about him he admitted a hope raised by General Hitchcock, head of the veterans administration, who had indicated the hope that the executives upon whom would not ask for a cash bonus. Commander Delgrado drew himself up and announced in no uncertain terms that the bonus was one of the many "mandates" that the convention had given him.

No sudden prosperity wave is in sight for next year as far as one important group of government economists can see. The market instead for a year of trade activity, both on the farms and in the cities, comparable to the first half of 1934. If any great improvement above that level should occur, it would be due to government stimulus. These are the studied conclusions of the economists who have prepared the annual report of the bureau of agricultural economists on the outcome for the coming year. All factors are well known and the sources of government information are tapped in arriving at conclusions. This year, when so much attention is being devoted to speeding up the industrial machine, the present report assumes a special interest.

Much has been heard of the depression troubles of the small business man. The NRA blue eagle was accused of injuring him. Credit was sought for open federal credit resources for his benefit. President Roosevelt frequently considered his needs. The study has been completed, revealing the facts in the case. That study shows that just about everything said of the troubles of the small business man is true. He apparently is being discriminated against by banks. His place in the country's economic structure is that of a link in the chain of production of the RFC and the federal reserve bank system. Manufacturers with credit to all are unable to get loans to fill the orders. Little that has been said of the small business man's difficulties is exaggerated.

Affairs of farms lands are being taken by the agricultural adjustment administration to see that farmers live up to their agreement to reduce acreage. This is to be checked, farms costs about a third as much as the chain and wheel method of measuring fields. It has been used in wheat areas and may be extended to corn-hog, cotton, and tobacco sections.
