HIDDEN VALUE!

It takes an expert to recognize and appreciate the fabulous value of an old violin made by a master craftsman. But any farmer who USES his telephone realizes the great value that is hidden in that every-day business aid. One call may result in a large extra profit, or a saving on a purchase. It may bring the veterinarian to save the life of a valuable farm animal, or the fire department to prevent serious damage to home and buildings. You save time and money. No matter how much it saves or earns, the telephone costs only the same small sum.
