

Russ Alford Wins Over Lew Hendee in Clerk Contest

Completion of Court Ruling on Ballots Shows 147 Majority

County Clerk Russ Alford was declared victor in the county clerk election, of Lake county in November, 1934, on the completion of the court rulings Friday on contested ballots, but counsel for Lew A. Hendee will submit further evidence to show that Alford was not entitled to the 147 majority shown in the tally of 25 precincts.

Recount statistics compiled showed that 19,131 votes were cast in the 1934 election. Of that number, 37,266 were cast for the two candidates in the county clerk race. Alford received 18,625 and Hendee 18,478 in the official count.

A physical examination of the ballots by Judge Perry L. Persons' election commissioners set aside 2500 ballots at the request of experts for Hendee and Alford. Judge Persons ruled that 940 of the contested ballots were valid for Hendee, 1297 for Alford and 263 were invalid, or not counted for either contestant.

According to information advanced it is understood that oral witnesses in the form of election clerks and judges will be called to testify on the validity of the disallowed ballots.

Regardless of the canvassing board's return on Nov. 15, 1934, Hendee remained in office until November 1, 1935. Following the announcement of the canvassing board's return, Alford claimed a court order to be seated from Judge Ralph J. Dady.

In his petition for a court order Alford claimed that Hendee was credited with 100 more votes than he was entitled to in one precinct and he himself was deprived of 194 votes in another precinct.

Hendee claimed that the canvassing board did not have the power to do anything but tally the returns as shown on the poll books and tally sheets. He appealed the case to the appellate court on that contention but was overruled by the higher court. The supreme court refused to hear the case and Alford was seated as clerk.

To remain in office he must successfully hold his 147 vote majority. The last legal proceeding will be the oral arguments by Lew Hendee on February 3 and 4.

Judge C. T. Allen of Cary Is Buried Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral services for Judge Charles T. Allen, prominent McHenry county jurist from Cary, were held Tuesday afternoon in the Allen home in Cary and from the Cary school auditorium.

Judge Allen died Friday at the home of his brother in South Bend, Ind., where he had been staying preparatory to his coming home after having been a patient there. A sudden attack of spinal meningitis caused his death. Previously he had undergone a serious operation in the East and had returned to Indiana to be under the care of his brother, Dr. George Allen.

Charles T. Allen was born in Algonquin township in 1852, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Allen. He attended community schools of McHenry county and later graduated with a law degree from Northwestern University law school.

He served in many political offices in McHenry county and was elected county judge in 1916 and had held the office consecutively until his death.

In 1903 Mr. Allen was married to Miss Vera Meitch and they have two sons, Russell C. and Robert E. Allen. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Anton Graft of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Rex Austin of Woodstock, and one brother, Dr. George Allen of South Bend, Ind.

Rushed to Hospital
Herman Grever, Elia township, was taken to the Francis Willard hospital in Chicago Monday. He was suffering from a ruptured appendix.

Business Building in Woodstock Is Destroyed by Fire

Fire caused by a heating unit explosion in the Stone building, Main and Cass street, Woodstock, early Tuesday morning ruined the two-story building as well as the big smoke and water damage to adjoining buildings. The resultant loss is estimated to be $20,000.

Businesses in the Stone building included a tavern owned by Harold Stone and Matt Sigwick; the Edward Linvalh shoe repair shop; Fred Bohart's tavern; the Delbert Rindol restaurant; and the Kirby Bransby photography shop.

Miss Rita Ritzert, who resided on the second floor, was aroused by the explosion and managed to escape uninjured in her night clothing.

A Royal Blue store and a hardware business in adjoining buildings suffered a loss when their stock was damaged by smoke and water.

The explosion spread the flames rapidly and the Woodstock fire department battled several hours in sub-zero weather before the blaze was extinguished. A brick added the flames of the building. Entire center of the building was gutted by the blaze, leaving only certain sections standing.

It will hang in the school hall. They will meet with members of the Oak Glen school board in the near future and will also present them with a copy of the constitution.

Library News

Among the new books to go on our shelves this week is one that will receive a hearty welcome from many of our patrons. It is called "The Complete Knitting Book" and as its jacket proclaims, "with patterns and easy to follow diagrams for knitting every kind of garment for woman, man and child."

A book of entirely different type but equally useful if it will help solve a problem in your home life. "Sweeping Cobwebs." If you have an old person in your home or if you are old yourself you will find valuable suggestions in this book on how to make old age happy and useful.

The author, who worked for years with the aged who came to her with their problems, gives her sympathetic and practical advice. This book should be read not only by the aged and those who have old people in their care but also by the middle aged, and even younger so they may learn from it, how to avoid most of the handicaps and discomforts of oncoming years.

Council Mobilization Planned for Boy Scouts at Des Plaines Feb. 8

All boy scout troops in the Northwest suburban council will gather in Des Plaines, Saturday, Feb. 8, to participate in mobilization activities, the first of many planned for "anniversary week" from Feb. 8 to 14. All boys will assemble by troops on the vacant lot across the street from the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad station, Pearson and Ellsworth streets.

Through the courtesy of J. H. Faulkner, theatre manager, the boys will see a show of short sport topics, comics, short features and some cartoons from 10 to 11 o'clock. At this program the new scout executive, Donald E. Kyger, will be introduced.

After the show the boys will hike to Maine township high school for lunch and the rest of the day's program.

The group will be the scene of great activity from 12:30 to 3 p.m. as the boys enjoy such demonstrations as the trick dog act; hear Scout Tom Schaefer, state champion drummer and the Harmonica band from troop 16 of Niles Center, and the guitar melody from troop 20 of Des Plaines. C. F. Naeff, international fencing and Indian club swinging champion will present one number for them.

At two o'clock the group will be divided into sections for class study. Swimming will be demonstrated by Harry F. Koelling, chairman, and the following local persons who are Red Cross life saving experts: Edgar Black, William Thorp, Claude Conn, Jack Fletcher.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

More acute grows the sense of court administration and high court as the latter curiously entertain a plea that impounded proceedings should not be returned to those who paid except as far as they can show the impost has not been passed on to others.

Plea of the government: The supreme court, after invalidating a child labor law dependent on a regulatory tax, had refused to order a refund of that tax, the reason being that a federal law declares courts may not enjoin collection of taxes.

Without argument, the court dismisses the plea.

Comments the president: An apparent reversal of a precedent. Says the attorney general: Collection of taxes will become increasingly difficult, threatening the essential operation of government.

Response of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace: "I question not its legality, but its justice. It is impossible to set justice for agriculture either under the constitution or under the rule of the supreme court, the situation will become apparent in due time."

To fill the void created by the supreme court's blasting of the farm control program, two competing substitutes divide congressional friends and enemies.

One, recommended by the administration, depends on amendment of the soil conservation act of 1935. Preferred by the house committee, it provides for payments dependent on past performance of farmers. Contract payments are ruled out by the court.

Points in such performance cover proportion of land planted in accordance with soil-improving crops, shifting of acreage in accordance with department of agriculture's planning policies, and relative amount of crop going into domestic and export markets.

The other, recommended by senate subcommittee on ground that the first is unconstitutional, calls for payment of money to states which adopt individual farm control programs conforming to federal policy—"48 little AAAs."

Meanwhile the house votes to pay 296 million dollars to farmers who made contracts with the AAA.

Collective bargaining wins and loses in the lower courts.

First it wins—in Memphis, Tenn., where the district court refuses to enjoin the Labor board from examining records of the Home Brothers Bag company, charged with unfair labor practices.

Says the court: "No lower court should strike down an act of congress unless convinced beyond a shadow of doubt that the act is unconstitutional. Otherwise it encroaches on the territory of congress and the executive."

Then it loses—in Chicago, Ill., where the district court restrains the board from consulting employees of the Clayton Mark Steel company to learn their choice of a bargaining agency.

Says this court: "While hesitating to term the functions of the board unconstitutional, I feel justified in checking their operation."

To congress for decision comes what to do about the nation's transportation system.

Transportation Coordinator Mr. Eastman, whose office expires in June, asks a 5-year extension, an opportunity to put increased pressure on railroads for bringing about consolidations, traffic-motoring decreases in rates, extension of regulation over water carriers and terminal companies.

Knottlet, and travel in improve railroad efficiency without displacing labor. The present law set such displacement as a bar to efficiency; the coordinator may order.

Mr. Eastman's recommendations: Prorated for one year's pay a dismissal wage to those who thus lose their jobs, thereby laying the ground for future economic recovery without unduly penalizing victims of the change.

Plan for peace—but keep your powder dry.

This two-edged injunction comes adopted for its own in the following way:

Mrs. Frank Lageschulte is on the sick list.

Miss Gladys Kropp spent the week-end with friends in Lake Villa.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Banks of Chicago called at the home of Mrs. Bertha Holtzke Sunday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Holtzke Net loss of population on account of migration, 20,297.

So reports the bureau of immigration and naturalization.

Of those departing, 34,956 were classed as emigrants. The remainder were either deported or agreed voluntarily to leave the country when faced with facts showing their illegal entry.

This two-edged injunction comes adopted for its own in the following way:

First, it speeds in committee the formulation of a new neutrality law to replace the one expiring February 28. Its features include mandatory embargo on war materials, trade and travel in war areas at private citizens' risk.

Progress goes on despite cessation of the senate's munitions inquiry, new funds for which are asked, but on the understanding that members will not write their personal interpretations of evidence into the record. This with reference to bitterly reworded charges that President Wilson "aided."

Second part of the injunction comes in committee plans to ask one billion dollars for defense, which includes $75 million dollars for the army.

No longer is America "the land of promise overseas," as measured by the gauge of immigration.

On the contrary, the 38,334 persons adopting the United States as their new home last year, outnumbered by those departing.

Africans Hunt Elephant for His Meat and Tuks

The African natives hunt the elephant for his meat as well as his tusks. Their method is to lay pits in the elephant paths in the forest; the while these are sometimes set, the animal is more frequently intelligent enough to avoid the traps.

Big and clumsy as they appear the elephant's feet are peculiarly sensitive, and even the best camouflaged pit will not deceive the foot of an animal. They have no special sense of vision and, as a matter of fact, are much less gifted that way than man.

Another method employed by the natives is to set poisoned spears in the path of the animal, so that when it will fall and place them when a trailing vine root is broken. The poison is a vegetable juice peculiar to Africa and very powerful, but does not affect the animal.

The portion immediately around the spear wound is cut out and thrown away; the rest of the meat is taken to the village to make a feast. What is left over after the feast is preserved by drying in the sun.

TELEPHONE, BARRINGTON NO. 1

A NEW EXPENSE

On January 1, American business, large and small, found itself with a new item of operating expense to pay. The item is labeled "Social Security."

This year, unemployment insurance will take 1 per cent of each employer's total payroll—and it is to be paid by the employer, not the employee. Next year the tax will be 2 per cent, and in 1938 will reach 3 per cent, the maximum under the present law. Forecasts are that the tax will produce total revenue of $250,000,000 during 1936. If business conditions remain unchanged, it will obviously produce $500,000,000 next year, $750,000,000 per year thereafter. However, hope is that business betterment, with its corollary of increased employment and higher wages, will steadily increase the revenue even though the percentage of tax remains constant.

Next step in the program will come in 1937, when the federal old-age insurance plan goes into operation. That will start with a 1 per cent tax on employers and 1 per cent on employees, which will mount slowly until it reaches 3 per cent on each in 1949. Total federal tax will thus be 9 per cent of all payrolls by 1950, of which employers will pay 6 per cent, employees 3 per cent.

Certain legal troubles arise from the fact that, in the view of many able attorneys, the social security act was hastily written, lacks the clarity it should have. Some think that present legislation should be thrown overboard and a new start made. However, there seems small chance that this will be done, though it is expected the present congress will make an effort to clear up some of the more vague parts of the law and thus make it legally sound.

Dismissing these legal and technical difficulties, which must be eventually settled by the courts and congress, it may be said that business views social security with mixed emotions: Many leading corporations have liberal pension plans of their own, established long before a federal law was conceived. They agree with the principle the legislation represents, confused as they are by some of the details. Many industries are considerably worried as to where to get the money, at a time when, in spite of rising sales, net profits of numerous businesses are at business conditions will continue to improve so rapidly that profits cannot help but rise, that increased costs will thus be automatically taken care of, for under the law, these new costs become fixed overhead regardless of any profit.

THEY ARE CLEVER, NOT DEEP

We American citizens like to bask in our own smug conclusion that we are thinkers, but we sit by the millions next to our radios and listen to oratorical surface skimmers speak in generalities, and then we applaud them.

We have half a dozen professional radio orators who tell us this country has resources to support 700 million people at the level of the "American standing of living" and then condemn the handful of executives who earn from $100,000 per year up. The inference is left that if the one hundred thousand, two hundred thousand, three hundred thousand and million dollar incomes were redistributed the rest of us would live in a Utopia.

If we Americans were the thinkers we believe we are, we would know that this old share the wealth gag goes back into Biblical times and that today in America a full billion dollars of "excessive income" divided among all the people in the country would only produce two cents per day per person. Also we would know that the radio orators, whether ministers, priests or fathers of old age pension plans are making fat incomes off their fine radio voices and clever oratory. They are political prototypes of the late Huey Long, even if they may be better characters and more dignified gentlemen.

HIS BEST MONUMENT

It is interesting that the League of Nations is beginning to justify its existence in the eyes of the American public and reflect credit to the late President Wilson whose popularity, shrank dimly during the last two years of his administration.

We wonder what will survive from the multitude of Rooseveltian experiments to justify his years as president. Without attempting to give reasons for our guess, we suggest the conservation program and the other experiment closely linked with it—the C.C.C. which is supposed to provide sound physical and citizenship training for that part of the country's youth which otherwise is not given ordinary opportunity.

The following industries established new production records in 1935, though some were not so fortunate in the matter of profits: Radios, washing machines, refrigerators, electric power, nickel, gasoline, shoes, aviation, rayon, oil burners.

If those people who throw bricks would only start laying them, look what a prosperous community we would have.

"Windfall" Is Regarded Good Luck to Peasants

In the year 1000, William, duke of Normandy, led his forces into England. His cousin, Edward the Confessor, king of England, had died, and the opportunity of adding to his domain could not be overlooked by the ambitious young William.

In the battle of Hastings, Harold, the other contestant for the throne, was killed. Thus William became ruler of England. He set about remaking the laws of the land and succeeded in putting into effect many excellent ideas.

From this time dates our expression of a "windfall" in reference to a piece of good luck, notes a writer in the Washington Star.

Under the laws of William it was a criminal offense to cut down timber in the forests. The poor people, therefore, were allowed to pick up for their fires only the branches which had been brought down by the wind. A windstorm, bringing a "windfall," was always welcomed by the peasants as good luck, and in this sense we use the phrase.

The Man Who Knows

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

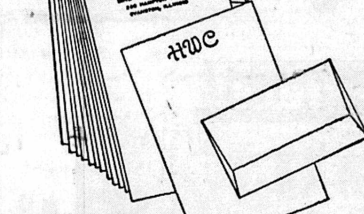

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches, or the pains of rheumatism, neuralgia or neuritis, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin. We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains...

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by seeing asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

THE DOCTORS ARE RIGHT

Women should take only liquid laxatives

Many believe any laxative they might take only makes constipation worse. And that isn't true. Do what doctors do to relieve this condition. They use a liquid laxative, and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all. Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid does can be regulated to the drop. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. Syrup Pepsin is the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried.

Home Owners Are Now Paying Back Taxes Is Report

Many Respond to Substantial Savings Plan by J. L. Gill, Treasurer

"The large number of home-owners who have been paying their back taxes under the plan whereby they save all interest and penalties," declared Joseph L. Gill, county treasurer, in a statement this week, "indicates that the public realizes the importance of this obligation and has only needed to be told of the advantages in paying to clear up Cook county homes from tax delinquency."

Only two days remain until February first which is the date that was set by the state legislature as the time limit in which home-owners could take advantage of the provisions for their benefit enacted in house bill No. 10.

It may mean, however, that in Cook county remains in ignorance of the savings that can be effected under the provisions of this bill. It will not be the fault of Mr. Gill. Newspapers, radio stations, billboards, circulars, and word-of-mouth appeals are telling the story of savings to be effected. Under the provisions of the legislative enactment, home-owners who have not yet paid their tax bills for 1932 and prior years may save all interest and penalties by paying before February first. It is pointed out that the smallest saving under the plan amounts to 25 per cent of 1932 taxes, while in the case of 1935 taxes it represents an accumulation of 73 per cent.

County Treasurer Joseph L. Gill and his staff are working night and day to keep up with the flood of applications of home-owners seeking to take advantage of the money saving plan.

It is pointed out that on taxes on property other than that occupied by home-owners a saving of half the penalties and interest is allowed.

The only condition of taking advantage of the current tax offer is that taxes for 1933 must be paid, with interest, at the same time.

Local Persons and Scout Troops Are Honored at Dinner

The following local persons were elected as officers of the Northwest suburban council of boy scouts at the annual dinner meeting held in Des Plaines this week: John L. Bell, vice president; H. H. Calkins, chairman; M. F. Lowellen, member at large. Clifford C. Gregg was unanimously re-elected president of the group for another term. Mr. Gregg presided over the meeting which was attended by a large group of persons. Mr. Bell also acted on the committee in charge of the meeting.

Mr. Calkins, as chairman of the camping committee, reported on activities of his group and other group leaders. Troop 10 of Barrington received an honor troop banner and trophies No. 21 and 22 also received medals for 1935 from John L. Bell, chairman of the 10 year program.

First English Settlers

Had Use of Cosmetics Shakespeare was the greatest inspiration to the drama of any one person who ever lived. It was in his era that women made their appearance as participants in drama, and they demanded cosmetics to enhance their charms as well as to facilitate characterization.

There is no doubt that the ladies of the stage were the first to appear in public with makeup, writes Miss Madison in the Los Angeles Times. It was they who developed skill in using it and their persistence gradually brought their nonprofessional sisters to imitate them.

The Puritans struck a vicious blow at artificial beauty props and almost annihilated the practice of using them in this country, although records show that the first English settlers here did not bring supplies of such things with them. It was the idea of the Pilgrim Fathers that cosmetics were identical with the exaltation of the flesh and the negligence of the soul.

Lake Tides Small Lakes are affected by the pull of the sun and moon and have tides just the same as waters of the ocean but in most cases these lake tides are so small as to be hardly noticeable. Official government measurements have recorded a leap tide in Lake Michigan of one and a half inches and a spring tide of about three.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Original Inca Capital Was Founded 1030 A. D.

The original Inca capital, capital of the ancient Inca empire, was founded about 1030 A. D. on its present site, 11,000 feet above sea level at the foot of a deep valley. Here in the mountains of Peru the Quechua and Aymara Indians, who made up the empire, lived in a well-advanced state of civilization—raising crops and weaving textiles; engaging in agriculture on little terraced mountain farms that are the wonder of modern engineers; raising cities with streets reported to have been paved in silver, and with palaces flashing gold and precious stones; extending their territory until—at the time the Spaniards arrived four centuries later, lured by the rumors of its fabulous wealth—the empire reached from Ecuador to Chile.

Present-day Cuzco, super-imposed on the ruins of this ancient capital, has the architectural characteristics of medieval Spain but a population and culture largely Indian. Its streets, like no others in the world, are of mixed descent. Their lower walls are of stone cleverly fitted together by the Indians who built the capital; their upper walls, of stucco with wrought iron balconies and old Moorish doorways, are the work of the Spaniards who despoiled the gold-adorned temples and palaces and built a new city upon the ruins of the old.

Beat Caulked With Butter An ancient-type Tibetan buttered boat (spelling is correct: not "butter boat") has been added to the exhibits of the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago, says Kansas City Star Science Service.

It consists of a frame of bent willow rods covered with hides; the seams were caulked with butter, which the Tibetans use for a general-purpose grease as well as for food. Although of modern date it is of ancient pattern, resembling the Gaelic coracles of western Britain and the skin boats used centuries ago on the Tigris and Euphrates. It is practically circular in outline, so that any direction is forward. But in spite of its awkward shape it will carry surprising loads; the late Dr. Berthold Laufer used this identical craft on an expedition in Tibet, and found it would carry a couple of men and 200 pounds of goods.

Paganini's Shoes Paganini, the famous Italian violinist of the early part of the last century, once met a servant girl, Nicetto, whose lover had been drawn in the conscription. They had planned to marry, but had no money with which to pay for a substitute. Learning of her trouble, Paganini fashioned a musical instrument from a wooden shoe, and announced a concert at which the entire proceeds he handed over to Nicetto. After paying 1,000 francs for a substitute for her lover, she had several hundred francs left. That their marriage might be speedily and happily consummated, Paganini also gave her the shoe which she was able to sell for a goodly sum.
