"HIGHEST PRAISE"

The value of a local newspaper, representative of its community, is stressed innumerable times. Sincere appreciation found in a letter to the Barrington Review from H. T. Ewald, president of Campbell-Ewald Company, one of America's largest advertising agencies...

Now, that sentence may be perfectly true. It certainly expresses the attitude which almost all of us have taken in the past toward many people and many institutions that have advertised and published the news and which prompts me to write you this letter of greeting.

The phrase was as follows: "The silence that accredits merit as the most natural thing in the world is the highest appreciation."

Now, that sentence may be perfectly true. It certainly expresses the attitude which almost all of us have taken in the past toward many people and many institutions that have advertised and published the news and which prompts me to write you this letter of greeting.

And so I am writing to you and to a number of other friends throughout the community to congratulate you on the splendid job which you have been doing and to thank you for the fine contributions which you have made to the growth and prosperity of the Campbell-Ewald Company and its clients.

All advertising media are important, of course, but the Campbell-Ewald company has always considered the newspaper the most vital factor in influencing the local market for a national product and we and our clients continue to hold this same conviction today.

Our largest individual client, the Chevrolet Motor Company, has just completed the most successful year in its history. It has sold 1,126,000 Chevys, taking first place in both passenger and truck sales for the seventh time in the past ten years. It has also sold more than 2,000,000 cars, breaking all previous sales records in that important field as well. All of which, you will agree, is a magnificent selling achievement.

In that achievement, the newspapers of America, your newspaper, have played an important part, and I want to thank you and the staff of the Barrington Review for the part they have played in this achievement.

All of our other clients, in many other lines of business, have likewise enjoyed a highly successful and profitable year. Thank you, Campbell-Ewald Company!

In the achievements of these organizations also the newspapers of America, your newspaper, have played a leading role. It has sold 1,126,000 Chevys, taking first place in both passenger and truck sales for the seventh time in the past ten years.

This has become a rather long letter, but that line of Emerson's did not make me thinking and did cause me to decide to make my appreciation evident.

My thanks to you again and my very best wishes for a Happy, Prosperous New Year for 1937.

H. T. EWALD, President, Campbell-Ewald Company

Turning now to a review of the United States news, and especially to the news which is of interest to the people of this community, we find that the news of the past few days has been dominated by the news of the labor situation in the steel industry.

A spread of the labor trouble in the steel industry has been the cause of a widespread feeling of uneasiness among the people of this community. The news of the past few days has been dominated by the news of the labor situation in the steel industry.

The very fact that the steel industry is in such a state of confusion and that the government is being called upon to take action in its behalf, is a matter of great importance to the people of this community.
