GROW BETTER PULLETS FOR LESS MONEY

Here is a low protein, high fiber food which is especially valuable in growing pullets commonly—and especially, Pul-O-Pep developed by the F.A. Kloke O.P.D.—with vitamin D and grain—produces big, sound, well grown, well feathered pullets.

PUL-O-PEP DEVELOPER

is especially valuable to pullets that are raised on rations. It gives better birds at less cost—birds that not only produce eggs at a profit for farmer or poultryman but can be relied on to stand up under heavy egg production.
