

Second Odd Fellow Pinocle Game to Be Held This Evening

The second session of the pinocle tournament between Barrington I. O. O. F. lodge members and those belonging to the Carpentersville lodge will be held in the local Odd Fellows hall this evening, Thursday. Members have been urged to be present.

E. W. Baade, C. H. Miller and Clarence Golliday attended a 13th district meeting at Antioch Tuesday evening.

Wine Essay Contest

Helen Blanke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blanke of Summit street, was awarded a prize of one dollar Tuesday for writing the best contribution to the P.-T. A. essay contest "Why My Parents Should Join the P.-T. A." Her classroom received a similar award, there were 58 entries in the contest.

Name Winners of "Bach Festival"

Winners in the Bach Festival contest in which piano pupils of Mrs. Hazel York participated at the Baptist church Saturday afternoon were divided into three groups. Those who placed first, second and third respectively were as follows: first program, Charles Wely, Mary Ann Bockelman of Palatine, and Jeanne Sibley; second program, Patricia Rutledge, Adolph Trier and Nancy Hansen; third program, Betty Weber, Virginia King of Prairie View, Carwin Langdale and Joan Gieske (tied).

Ribbons, awarded as grand prizes, were won by Patricia Rutledge, Virginia King and Nancy Hansen. Earl Blair of the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, served as judge and distributed the awards, stating his reasons for each choice.

Will Have Formal Opening

The Foeschew Funeral Home shown above will be formally opened some time next week for public inspection. W. C. Foeschew, owner, reported this week. The building, located at 123 1/2 Elm street, was formerly part of the Lamey estate, and has been completely remodeled and redecorated as an undertaking establishment. Additional details concerning the formal opening will be announced next week.

To Present Junior Play Two Nights, November 19-20

The junior class of the Barrington high school will present "New Fires" by Charles Gumbo Thursday, at the school auditorium Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20, under the direction of Miss Georgia White.

"New Fires" is the portrayal of family life, with its joys and its problems, treated in a modern and realistic manner. Good humor and some sound common sense are mingled together in this three-act comedy.

Stephen Santry, an author, feels that members of his family have lost their grasp on fundamental values and plans to take them down in the Missouri Ozarks to a farm which he has inherited from an eccentric old uncle. What happens when the family arrives is something that nobody can afford to miss.

Members of the cast are as follows:

St. Anne Parochial Students Preparing Book Week Program

Book week, November 13 to 20, is being observed by pupils of St. Anne parochial school who are preparing a play "A Day in a Book Clinic," and a radio skit, "Evolution of the Book." Members of the intermediate grades, fourth, fifth and sixth, are preparing the play while the seventh and eighth grades are arranging the radio skit.

The radio skit was broken down into topics and committees assigned for their preparation. Research work was done from the new set of encyclopedias recently given the school library by the Catholic Women's club of Barrington.

Following is the list of topics and the committees in charge: "Tradition and Early Records," John Malone and Jack Roth; "Picture Writing," Gena Kampert and James McKoon; "Development of Alphabet," Kathryn Mounts and Rosemary McCabe; "Illuminated Manuscripts," Jeanne Sibley, Peggy Bockelman and Irene McCabe; "Printed Books," Henry Gundlach, John Hein and James Hollister.

The topic "Writing" was broken down into two divisions with James Orlow writing "Materials Used in Writing" and William Jira doing "Styles of Writing." It was originally planned to hold a public exhibit this week but, due to a conflict with other activities, the book week program has been postponed until Wednesday afternoon, November 24. It will be held in the parochial school auditorium and will start at 2 o'clock. Parents of the pupils and the general public have been invited to the program. The play and radio skit will be presented then.

An exhibit of art posters is being completed and will be on display in the music room. It was reported the room will be made over into a library and will feature a book house prepared by the lower grades on nursery rhymes.

The pupils visited the Barrington Public Library Wednesday afternoon in conjunction with book study.
