

Construction Total in 1937 Is Highest in 7-Years Period

Permits Totalling $149,650 Issued by H. Garbisch, Commissioner

Construction in the village of Barrington continued its upward trend from depression depths with a total of $149,650 in permits being issued during 1937 by Herman Garbisch, building commissioner. The total for the month of December was $1750 with a permit for a garage estimated at $750 being issued to M. H. Schreiber, 225 W. Russell street; a permit for a garage costing $300 issued to Harold McKenzie, 538 North avenue, and a permit for an addition to a residence at 510 Prairie avenue costing $700 issued to John Mollenkamp.

Exceeding last year's total by $14,828, the amount for 1937 was the highest since 1930. The peak in the past 10 years was in 1929 when the Jewel Tea building was erected and the low for the same period was in 1933 when only $7,375 in permits was recorded.

Following is the list of building permits since the year 1927 through 1937:

1927	$41,000
1928	125,000
1929	123,975
1930	233,000
1931	136,800
1932	55,370
1933	7,375
1934	54,030
1935	45,321
1936	114,812
1937	149,650

James Plagge Speaks at Science Meeting

James C. Plagge, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Plagge, 845 Grove avenue, and a research student at the University of Chicago, is spending this week at the 101st annual five-day meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Indianapolis where he is reporting some of his investigations in biological science. He spoke before two of the 123 associated and affiliated societies of the organization.

To the American Society of Zoologists, Plagge reported "Effects of Salivary Gland Removal in Young Albino Rats." During the course of operations on nearly 300 newborn or young albino rats he found that certain salivary glands are essential to maintain the animal's life, a hitherto unknown fact. Further investigation revealed that the importance of these glands seems to lie in their ability to supply moisture to the mouth and thus enable the animal to suckle, rather than in any chemical secretion that would aid in the process of digestion of milk.

To the Wilson Orthodontic club Plagge reported "Nocturnal Bird Vocalization in a Beach-Maple Forest." He presented evidence, based on observations taken by a group of university students of which he was a member, that bird singing in the morning may be initiated by some other factor than the beginning of daylight.

Plagge will return to Barrington Thursday night with his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Plagge, of Iowa State college at Ames. Dr. Plagge also attended the scientific meetings at Indianapolis this week. He and Mrs. Plagge will remain in Barrington, visiting relatives until the end of the week.

Library News

The library has two new reference books which will be found here and in library users. These books will be kept for reference in the library at all times, and may be withdrawn only for overnight use. The librarian will be very glad to give information by telephone concerning contents of either of the books.

"America's Cookbook" is a collection of more than 3000 tested recipes. Among them will be found all the tried and true recipes and the best of the new. Contains menus for all meals of the day and special occasions, menus for formal and informal dinners, recipes from foreign countries, menus for persons with special dietary problems. The book also tells how to mix, cook and bake on all the new appliances, and how to take care of them. The book will prove a boon to all housewives, and must be examined to be fully appreciated.

"If you are needing a recipe in a hurry, call the library and let us give it to you by telephone. Don't fail to come and look over the book for your future use."

"Bartlett's Familiar Quotations," eleventh edition, revised and enlarged, is a collection of passages, phrases and proverbs traced to their sources in ancient and modern literature. Have you often wondered from what piece of literature a quotation or phrase which you have heard is taken from? "Bartlett's Familiar Quotations" will help you.

The library will close at 6 p. m. New Year's Eve.
—Oliver Dobson, Librarian.

In Memoriam
In loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, A. D. Wade, who passed away January 2, 1937.
When evening shades are falling,
And we're sitting all alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing,
If he only could come home.

No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who love can tell,
Our grief that is borne in silence,
For the one we loved so well.
—Loving Wife and Children.

Lacerated Thumb
Mrs. George Heinrich, 601 Grove avenue, suffered a badly lacerated thumb when her hand became caught in a washing machine clothes wringer Monday morning.

Shakespeare Father of Twins
Shakespeare was the father of twins, Hamnet (not Hamlet) and Judith. He also had another daughter, Susanna.

Thank You
I wish to take this opportunity to thank the many friends for their support of the recent contest conducted at Pohlman's Drugs.
