

George Murphy and Alice Faye Teamed in Week-End Bill

"100 Men and A Girl," Deanna Durbin Hit, Showing at Catlow

The girl who has the most unusual singing voice in motion pictures, Deanna Durbin, is the star of "100 Men and A Girl," a comedy drama with music, which opened at the Catlow Wednesday and which shows on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Deanna first charmed you when she sang over the radio. She delighted you with her memorable performance in "Three Smart Girls." Now she will capture you in her latest production. Featured with her in the offering is Leopold Stokowski, one of the world's foremost orchestra conductors. He has developed a new method of re-producing music for the screen which will thrill your senses. The film is being shown as a benefit, by the Barrington Woman's club.

Some screen comedies have one comedian. Some have two. A few have three. Fewer still have four. "Merry-Go-Round of 1938," which has been booked into the Catlow theatre Saturday has seven. For good measure there are also John King, Barbara Read and Joy Hodges, a new staging sensation and a chorus of 24 talents. The biggest laugh is Universal's "Four Horsemen of Hilarity," Mischa Auer, Jimmie Savo, Billy House and Bert Lahr, the latter three direct from Broadway's most famous musical comedies. In no less important roles will be seen Alice Brad, Louise Fazenda, Joy Hodges, and John King.

Alice Faye, more glamorous and beautiful than ever before, singing the hit songs of the year, and for the first time on the screen dancing, the art which brought her to the screen in the beginning.

George Murphy in the hilarious role of a waiter who becomes a millionaire for a week, wins the love of a Broadway star and figures in the headline romance of the century! These two favorites of the screen, together with an all star cast of the world's most brilliant entertainers were twisted together in a lavish cocktail of melody, laughter and grandeur to produce "You're a Sweetheart," playing Sunday and Monday at the Catlow. With Bonnie Jones scheduled to be married in the Jones Family's latest picture "Borrowing Trouble," coming on Tuesday to the Catlow, Shirley Deane, who is cast in the role, picked six of her classmates from 10th Century Fox's stock school to act as her bridesmaids for the screen ceremony.

"Empty Saddles," starring Buck Jones, and featuring Louise Brooks and Gertrude Astor, plays the double feature bill Tuesday with "Borrowing Trouble."

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School Is the Family"—Froebel

Issued by National Kindergarten Assn. 6 W. 40th St. New York

"Inferiority"
 "Oh, those Fleming children are all so painfully slow to learn! Why the two older boys remained in one grade in school for two years, and this fall the little one, Bill, has just started!" Mrs. Todd was indulging in a talk across the fence with her neighbor, Mrs. Furt.

"Very likely he'll be just as stupid!" responded Mrs. Bart. "There was a sound on the path and Bill Fleming darted past. 'Hope he didn't hear!' whispered Mrs. Todd.

"Good thing if he did! Make him work, perhaps."
 But six-year old Bill trotted on to school with a vague smile in his little heart. The Flemings could not learn—he himself was like the rest. It was something sad that couldn't be helped.

He'd heard similar remarks before and the "hopeless" hanging over him, making him shy, self-conscious, afraid. How different was Cyril Small, the bright boy, who was always jumped to open the door for the teacher. He was always chosen to run errands, to go to the store for a supply of pencils, or up to the principal's room with a note.

Today there was a new teacher, a substitute, in place of Mrs. Strong, one Bill had never seen before. She was a pretty girl with kindly eyes. She looked straight at the lad and said, "Will you work these examples on the board, so that the rest may correct their by your answers?"

Bill looked around in bewilderment—not that he was afraid of the task. He was always his hobby, although he seldom bothered to complete his exercises in school. He hesitated.

Cyril Small jumped to his feet. "Please, Miss, Bill isn't very good at numbers. He was getting D's." "I'd like Bill to try," she answered, looking confidently at the boy and smiling.

Bill talked up and quickly worked the whole set of problems. He hadn't done them in his book. What's the use—when you're the prize stupid in the school!"

Silent surprise spread through the room. Bill had been asked to do something and had done it. A vague sense of self-esteem was at that moment awakened in Bill's breast. The attitude of his fellows toward him was changing. "Give a dog a bad name—might as well hang him," are words as true today as when they were first uttered. To have someone believe in us is a tremendous help. And this surely is the loving privilege of those at home. If our families have no faith in us, who will have? Genuine praise, honestly given, is to a timid child as fresh coal to a dying fire. In fact the recognition of one's own ability is the beginning of success in life.

Of course there is the other extreme to guard against. We all know the mother's darling who is called to show off on every occasion. This child gets an exaggerated opinion of his importance. But honest praise for anything well done or even bravely attempted, may be given unthinkingly.

One mother whose little girl was doing well with her music tried to show her daughter that this gift should be used to serve others. So Mona was called upon to play at her party while her guests carried on a game. Here was a new idea—no one listening or admiring the girl at the piano, but the game and the pleasure of others depending upon her playing well. So she patiently kept on, with pauses between her selections for a full half hour, though she would have liked to stop and join in the game herself.

Outstanding ability, even in small things, brings with it the joyous opportunity for service, and this thought should be planted early in a child's mind. But the boy or girl who is made to feel inferior is hindered in self-expression. In this way he is retarded in development and so prevented from making his best possible contribution to society.

Lake County Assn. Elects Heads; Mrs. H. Clark Director

Dr. E. H. Smith of Libertyville was re-elected president of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association at the annual meeting Thursday noon, Feb. 1, at the Waukegan hotel.

Other officers elected were: Dr. Theodor S. Proxmore and Mrs. Austin Niblack, both of Lake Forest, vice presidents; Mrs. Girard Fosland, Winthrop Harbor, secretary; and Harry A. Hall, Waukegan, treasurer.

The following board members were re-elected for a term of three years: Mrs. Barney Trieger, David VanPatten, Dr. E. H. Smith, Mrs. Austin Niblack, Mrs. Mabel McCullough, Mrs. Earl Kane, Mrs. Albert Iandeland, Mrs. Girard Fosland, and Armond J. Crawford. Also Mrs. Harry Clark of Barrington was elected as a new member for the term of three years.

Miss Orpha White, executive secretary of the Lake County Tuberculosis association, reported 1937-38 results from the annual Christmas Seal Sale in the county to January 31, 1938. This was $215.39 short of last year's total. The work of the Lake County Tuberculosis association is financed by the proceeds from the annual Christmas Seal sale.

Dr. Charles K. Petter, superintendent and medical director of the Lake county tuberculosis sanatorium gave a "General Discussion of the Tuberculosis Situation—Past, Present and Future." He outlined the progress in the treatment of tuberculosis from post-war days to the present hospitalization in pleasant surroundings of modern sanatoriums, such as they are planning in Lake county.

Prepares Report on Palatine State Bank

A summary report of the condition of the closed First State Bank of Palatine was released last week by Edward J. Barrett, state auditor, through the office of Charles H. Albers, general receiver. Mr. Albers has prepared a statement on the eventual liquidation although future payments are problematical.

Following is his report: Bank owns RFC about $14,000, being the balance due on loan made to aid in the last distribution; indicated assistance from the stock assessment receiver may make possible a small distribution early in 1938; indications are that the 27 per cent previously paid may eventually rise from 40 to 50 per cent.

Druggan to Appeal Foreclosure Order

All exhibits, testimony and the master's report in the foreclosure suit against Mrs. Elizabeth Druggan and her son, Terrence, are to be embodied in the record for appeal to the appellate court taken by the Druggans from the Lake county circuit court, it was learned this week.

The court ordered the sale of the 240-acre farm at Prairie View, operated by Druggan, on a foreclosure by Hugo Pick, a trustee, on a $24,500 mortgage. The farm property is scheduled to be sold on the auction block by Special Master in Chancery L. Eric Cary on March 10 to pay up the amount of mortgage and costs totalling $29,725.

"Honestly, now you never think this car of mine was one I bought second-hand, would you?"

"Never in the world. I thought you'd made it yourself."

"There comes a time in the life of every man when he needs a real good backaw. We have one—pistol grip handle, nickled frame, complete with blades. Come in and get one."

"Give a husband enough rope and he'll probably skip."

"Not So Expensive! A Jamesway broom stove is nearly as expensive as you might think and consider how well it improves your brooding."

Gas station man: "How's your oil?"

Neuro motorist: "Ah's fine. How's yo' oil?"

Spring will soon be here so you better check over your spring implements and get your orders in early so you will be all ready for spring work."

The greatest farm wife relief measure we can name is the Roper D-1 Gas range. We just wish every farmer's wife could have one.

Farmer: "Nope, I won't charge you nothin' for the et-der. That would be bootlegging, and ain't come to that yet. But the peck o' potatoes will be five dollars."

The Servel Electrolix Gas Refrigerator! It's the marvel of the age. Many new improvements. Several sizes. Come in and let us give you more information."

We know a man who spent $12, on a long distance phone call... Wh says talk is cheap!"
