Start Mandamus to Force Division in Voting Precincts

Lake County Supervisors Are Named in Petition to Force Division

Based on the interpretation furnished by Attorney General Otto Kerner that the Lake county board of supervisors could not now make a division of voting precincts on its own volition, a suit was instituted in the circuit court for a writ of mandamus to force the board to act.

The petition, bearing the names of all board members, was filed Thursday morning by Attorney E. R. Parnass on behalf of Norman R. Buckley, who acted as legal counsel at the general election November 5, 1936.

Acting with Parnass in the mandamus proceedings are Attorneys J. A. Friedrich and John Noll, Attorney General Kerner and State's Attorney Charles E. Mason are not participating in the proceedings.

January 24 was set as the return date for summonses being served the individual supervisors and if a writ of mandamus is issued, very little time is left for the board to take action before the deadline for filing precinct committee nominations. The last day for filing is March 3 and only one more meeting of the board is scheduled following the hearing date and that time.

At present the county is divided into 75 precincts and it is proposed to divide 23 of these, making a new total of 101. These precincts are: Cuba, Els., Deerfield, E. 15, 16 and 17; Shields 2 and 4; Grant 1; Avon 1; Waukegan 2, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 20, 22 and 24.

T.B. Tests Will Be Given Here Monday to School Children

In a communication sent this week to the homes of parents having children in the Barrington public school, Miss Lillian McLeish, D.N., announced the start of a drive to test local children and prevent the spread of tuberculosis. The tests are being conducted through the P.-T.A., Barrington Women's club, E. S. Smith, superintendent of schools, and Chicago Tuberculosis Institute.

Dr. Julius Novak, of the Chicago Institute, will be at the public school Monday morning, January 24, at 9 o'clock to conduct the tests. In the letter sent to the homes a written consent slip was included for signatures by parents before the tests will be administered. Miss McLeish reported there is no charge for the test.

In the letter Miss McLeish was quoted as follows: "Barrington schools in their fight against communicable diseases are launching a drive against tuberculosis. As your child grows up and his contacts with others increase, it is very possible sooner or later to get tuberculosis germs into the body. In most cases tuberculosis begins slowly in childhood and does not cause trouble until one is grown up. It is well to know if a child has the germs in his body, so that precautions may be taken to prevent trouble in later life.

Village Employees Fail to Get Bacon in Escaped Pig Battle

"O Give Me My Boots and Saddle," hummed Paul Purcell, usually known as the superintendent of streets, as he strolled from the village hall Monday morning swinging a lariat from his hand. Calling to his first lieutenant Ed Nicolai to put their saddles on the village street department truck, he stood eagerly sniffing the air as if anxious to begin a chase.

Very shortly he and his companions were seen loping out West Main street, sharply peering into backyards. When they reached Irving Hager's home at the intersection of Main and Dundee, both let out a whoop reminiscent of western days for there they prey, a pig owned by L. Hughes, residing at the western village limits.

The pig, which has been fastened to the overalls was missing. Quickly the parents rushed Perry to a doctor. Examination revealed no signs of the pin. Perry still insists he swallowed it. He is under observation.

"Opportunities for Young People Lie in Untried Fields"

R. Burns Tells Mothers and Guests of Women's Club Wednesday

Robert K. Burns of the University of Chicago faculty gave an optimistic talk to members and guests of the Barrington Women's club at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon as he outlined fields in which young people of today may earn interesting, profitable livelihoods.

"In every industry that gives way to technical changes, there is an opportunity for young people," said Mr. Burns.

He listed the following fields as offering exceptional chances for success: statistics, local finance, paper making, housing, air conditioning, sound control engineering, plastic industries (using waste materials and transforming them into useful products), alloy construction, social service, government health insurance, recreational activities, and conservation of resources.

Among the professions he listed as being overcrowded were law, medicine, education and journalism.

In conclusion he said young people "must keep up with developments in their respective fields; must learn to read rapidly, not just by word or by rote, but by page; must systematize their knowledge; bring all information, clipping articles for future use; must go to institutions where they can get the best training in their particularized fields. They will be welcomed by industry when they have mastered their fields."

Members of the high school A Cappella choir, directed by Miss Adelaide Ewing, sang songs prior to Mr. Burns' address. Pupils and faculty members were guests of the club for the talk and a social hour which concluded the program.

Did Perry Really Swallow the Pin?

Swallowing pins has been a prerogative of childhood and the worry of mothers' lives for years, but Perry Richard Koenig, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koenig of Lake Zurich, has not only his mother but his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lundstrom of 148 Grove avenue, and his uncles and aunts worried about his recent escapade along that line.

Perry had been playing at his home peacefully Tuesday, Jan. 11. Suddenly he gave a shrill cry and pointing down his throat said "Pig gone, hurt Perry."

His mother discovered the safety pin which has been fastened to the overalls was missing. Quickly the parents rushed Perry to a doctor. Examination revealed no signs of the pin. Perry still insists he swallowed it. He is under observation.

P.-T.A. Speaker Says All Children Need Friendly Guidance

Dr. E. H. Harris was the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Barrington Parent Teachers Association held in the school auditorium Tuesday evening. His topic was "Old Versus New Ideas in raising a Family."

Dr. Harris began his remarks with the hope that mothers and fathers of today can do as well in the matter of child training in the light of present knowledge as the parents of those present did with theirs.

He followed with a brief outline of the place children held in ancient civilizations when infanticide and superstition were rampant. He then described the parent and the duties of learning obedience to the parents and reverence to God were sole objectives. A clear picture was presented of the progress that has been made in the last fifty year period in which every branch of learning concerned in child bearing and child rearing has moved forward with rapid strides. Former hazards of infancy have practically disappeared and contagious diseases have been reduced as much as eighty per cent in some localities, leaving only the need for parental cooperation, he stated.

Dr. Harris, "are the underlying principles of child guidance and study: Every child has a distinct individuality needing individual treatment. The child is not a small man but an entity whose growth begins as life begins and develops through all the small details of his life. The most healthful child-parent relationship is one of mutual understanding and education must begin at home in infancy."

Rep. Ralph Church Continues to Deny Senate Seat Aspirations

The continued efforts of a number of his supporters in their desire to make him a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator have caused Ralph E. Church, representative of the 10th congressional district, to make a statement in reference to his plans for the coming April primaries. Rep. Church, in a release received from Washington, D. C., Saturday afternoon, denied any efforts for the nomination for senator, and re-stated his desire to be a candidate for re-election to the house of representatives.

In face of Mr. Church's denials a definite boom continues to have H. D. Kelsey, supervisor of Cuba township, enter the race for nomination to the state assembly from the Lake county district and to have Rep. Richard Lyons seek Mr. Church's office. As yet Mr. Kelsey has not made any comment other than to say he will not run unless Mr. Lyons should decide to campaign for another nomination.

From fairly reliable sources it was determined that Rep. Church would be drafted for the senatorial race and Rep. Lyons placed in the race to succeed Mr. Church if this happens, and it will be definitely decided at a meeting of the state republican organization at Springfield either Friday or Saturday. Kelsey may also be drafted by the Lake county republicans to become the standard bearer for the state position.
