New Candidates for Party Nominations for County Sheriff

The race for republican nomination for Lake county sheriff in April became an actuality this week when Harold E. Pilliant, Waukegan township supervisor, declared himself a candidate for the nomination.

Pilliant is the second to obtain nominating petitions from the county clerk to succeed Sheriff L. A. Doolittle. The first republican candidate was Thomas E. Kennedy, chief deputy in the sheriff's office.

Pilliant was elected supervisor of Waukegan township in 1935 after serving out an unexpired term of the late M. P. Dilger. He has two years to serve of his present term.

The race will undoubtedly be further contested by the declaration of John Froelich, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Froelich of Lake Zurich, who is almost certain to seek the nomination.

Although he has not officially made a statement as yet, Mr. Froelich has been sought by many of his friends to enter the contest. Until last year he had served under three sheriffs of Lake county as well as being on the Highland Park police force.

Bart Trawl, Waukegan police sergeant, is the only person prominently mentioned as candidate for the democratic nomination. Trawl was defeated by Sheriff Doolittle in 1934 after he had gained the party nomination from Herbert Yager.
