

"Stage Door," With All-Star Cast, Is Coming to Catlow

"The Bad Man of Brimstone" Showing; "Buccaneer" Coming Wednesday

The powerful "bad man," portrayal of Wallace Beery, the uniformly fine work of such stellar supporting players as Virginia Bruce, Dennis O'Keefe, Joseph Calleja, Lewis Stone, Guy Kibbee and Bruce Cabot, has combined to bring to the screen an absorbing drama in "The Bad Man of Brimstone," which opens yesterday at the Catlow theatre.

Recapturing the spirited and lawless eye of the old frontier days of the West of the '50s, the new picture offers a thrilling panorama of stage coach travel, gold rush hysteria, crooked politics and the rule of the trigger. Packed with action from start to finish the colorful story reveals how law and order came to the town of Brimstone when desperadoes such as "Trigger" Bill, portrayed by Beery, ruled with an iron hand.

Being given a performance which outshines even that of his famed "Viva Villa!" is cast as the outlaw who bands his forces against that of the U. S. marshal until a striking denouement he discovers that the marshal is his own son. His capitulation to a force greater than greed or vanity gives the drama a human touch which stays in one's memory long after the thrill-packed action and shooting are over.

An outstanding cast of Hollywood personalities, headed by Claire Trevor, Donald Woods, Alan Dinehart, and Alan Baxter, is featured in "Big Town Girl," coming to the Catlow theatre Saturday.

Playing the double feature bill on Saturday with "Big Town Girl" is Warner Bros. horse-laugh-and-thrill hit, "Burgess and Murphy," with Ronald Reagan, Mary Maguire and Donald Crisp.

Katharine Hepburn and Ginger Rogers, two of the screen's most arresting personalities, are united in "Stage Door," bracketed with Adolphe Menjou, at the Catlow Sunday and Monday.

"Stage Door" is a film adaptation of the New York stage play by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, in which Margaret Sullivan starred. Gail Patrick heads the featured cast which includes Constance Collier, Andrea Leeds, Samuel B. Hinds and Lucille Ball.

The double feature bill Tuesday offers "Courage of the West," with Bob Baker and "Change of Heart" with Gloria Stuart and Michael Whalen.

Character roles are second nature to Fredric March who plays the part of Jean Lafitte, the notorious pirate of the early 19th century, in "The Buccaneer," opening on Wednesday at the Catlow for a three-day engagement.

In the epic of the war of 1812 he is seen as the swash-buckling king of the pirates whose loyalty to the United States helps win the Battle of New Orleans. He is assisted by the exotic Hungarian star, Franckla Gali, Akim Tamiroff, Margo Graham, Walter Breen and Ian Keith.

Popular Setters
The name Llewellyn setter is to many people synonymous with the English setter. The three varieties of setters, English, Irish and Gordon, are all endowed with good hunting qualities, but in sporting circles, the English setter is probably used to a greater extent than the others. Its performance in the field has been regarded with favor, but each variety has its own staunch supporters.

Investment Bankers
An investment banker does not usually run a private bank; though perhaps it is more accurate to say that an investment banker is not necessarily engaged in private banking. An investment banker is usually understood to be merely one who buys and sells large blocks of securities. Usually, says Literary Digest, he acts solely as an underwriter, buying the whole issue of a given security, and taking his profits from the difference between the buying price and the selling price. He may also buy less than the entire issue.

Father Unable to Save Injured Son

When he was told that an injured boy was being brought into his office, Dr. L. G. Weed of Zion did not know that it was his own son, Billy, eight years old. The youth was injured in a bicycle accident last Thursday afternoon and died shortly after being brought to his father's office for aid.

The boy was returning from a school and had stopped to offer a classmate, Wilburn Perkins Jr., a ride. Wilburn was seated on the front wheel of the bike and when the front wheel hit a rut in the roadway it is believed he lost his balance and his heel caught in the spokes of the front wheel. This brought the bicycle to a sudden stop and Billy was thrown about ten feet, according to witnesses.

He complained of pains in his head and was taken to the physician's office by persons in the vicinity. He died of a fractured neck.

Great Meteorite Did Not Kill
The great Siberian meteorite struck on June 30, 1908, and, so far as known, not a single human life was lost. So great was the rush of air that forests were laid flat. A herd of 1,500 reindeer was completely wiped out, and a farmer fifty miles away was knocked down by the force of the blast.
