

Barrington Riding Club Members Plan Fox Hunting Rides

BARRINGTON HILLS. — For future events a small group of riding club members report considerable progress with their plans for fox hunting, starting in September. They are endeavoring to secure from farmers and land owners permission to set aside panels of land and to install post and rail and chicken coop jumps along the fence lines. A pack of hounds has already been secured and the hunters will undoubtedly add a new and brilliant note to our country areas.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Johnston are leading spirits in this new venture, also the Edgerton Throckmorton, Mark Kemper, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neal, William D. Reichmann and Miss Virginia Cardwell, who is already grooming and training her new thoroughbred hunter.

Alfred Watt has three beautiful Arabian horses in his stables and is also an enthusiastic horseman. Plans are underway to coordinate all equestrian activities in the Barrington area—polo, riding and hunting.

The Neptune party at Barrington Hills Country club last Saturday night was up to its usual excellence and the swimming and diving events were received with great delight and appreciation by the many guests at the club. The swing music of the orchestra made the dancing interesting also.

Plan Benefit Dance

The Polo Field benefit supper-dance announced for September 17 is another future activity. The wives of the polo players of Barrington Hills are managing and arranging the supper-dance with a hope that funds may be available for the improvement of the polo field. The affair will be at Barrington Hills Country club.
