Four hundred strikers were driven from the picket lines at the Chicago Hardware Foundry Co. at North Chicago Tuesday afternoon by fifty deputy sheriffs and police from nearby communities. Tear gas bombs were used to scatter the 400 strikers and sympathizers from the company's gates, allowing 50 independent workers to return to the factory for the first time since June 6.

Scores of policemen and pickets were injured by the gas, bricks and night sticks wielded by the officers. Included in the number of persons in the picket lines were wives of many strikers. They, too, joined in the battle with the deputies and strikers injured in the ten-minute fight.

Ten men were sentenced to jail by Judge Ralph Dady on charges of contempt of court last Saturday and 30 men were indicted Tuesday by a special grand jury for conspiracy and intimidation in connection with the strike. Workers and strike organizers were effected by the jail sentences and indictments.

Woodstock Insurance Agent Escapes Death By Diving From Car

John Gibson, Woodstock insurance agent, had a narrow escape from death shortly before noon Tuesday when he jumped from his stalled car a few seconds before it was struck by a fast C. & N. W. passenger train on the Hanford crossing in Woodstock.

Seeing the express train bearing down on him, Gibson did not waste any time in trying to start the car or even opening the door to get out, but instead dove out the window to the pavement. He just managed to clear the path of the machine when it was struck by the locomotive and hurled down the track for a considerable distance.

The car was almost completely demolished. Gibson escaped unhurt.

The crossing is the one at which a car owned and driven by Charles Conner of Woodstock was demolished by a train several weeks ago. However, in the previous instance, Conner did the conventional thing and opened the door to make his timely escape.

COLLEGE BOYS... The play this week-end concerns one of the most delightful and amusing families since Hay Fever. Mr. and Mrs. Garth-Bender and their three erratic children are never quite sure of their own whereabouts nor those of their guests, but the most difficult situation arises when they discover that their eldest son is in love with Gladys, the pretty parlor maid. Frank, feeling sorry for her brother, tries to help and falls in love herself, in circumstances even more dire.

Two sets for the production are being designed and built by Henry Kerth, Jr. of Columbus, Wis. His designs for the Fishcreek Summer Theatre last year brought him favorable compliments from drama critics.

Students From the "Goodman Theatre" Now at Woodstock

In the little old opera house at Woodstock, where Orson Welles first cracked the footlights, there is new activity. A group of graduate students from the Goodman Memorial Theatre in Chicago have opened a summer theatre to play at popular prices each week-end throughout July and August.

Next Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, "George and Margaret," one of the outstanding comedy successes of the last two seasons in London and New York, will be presented. Miss Althea Murphy of Winnetka will play the leading role of Alice Garth-Bender.

Those in the cast include Sam Wanamaker, Ada McFarland, Bob Hoffman, Jane Sala, Gene Swain, Alan Hancock, and Mildred Miller. The play is being directed by Sidney Bresse who is a member of the faculty of the drama department of Chicago Art Institute.

Man Suffocated in Poplar Creek As Grandson Watches

Suffocated in the soft mud of Poplar creek, Alexander Horvath, 76-year-old resident of Elgin, lost his life after suffering a heart attack while attempting to cut a willow stick for his small grandson, Jack Orban Tuesday afternoon.

The child, 5, witnessed his grandfather's death and hurried to the Horvath home where he tried to tell of the tragedy. His grandmother was unable to understand him, but when her daughter, Mrs. Suzanne Vranka, arrived, police were notified and the boy led searchers to the creek bank. Officers found the aged man, his face mired in the mud. A doctor, summoned hastily, said that Horvath had been dead for several hours. No water was found in his lungs so a coroner's jury, called this morning, returned a verdict of "death due to suffocation."
