

Cary Contractor Is Found Unconscious in Basement; Dies

Claude Woodruff, 45 years old, a Cary contractor and ex-serve man at the Woodstock hospital Tuesday night a few hours after the body was found floating in the basement of his home after a fall from the second floor by Marhury County Sheriff Leslie Edinger and the chief deputy, Harold Ross.

A light burning in an upstairs bedroom and the discarded bed sheet were the only items found. Mr. Woodruff had apparently risen in the early morning hours, but Mr. Woodruff had been wearing his pajamas and nightgown, he was wearing slippers. He was found lying face down on the stairs. A physician attending him in his home was unable to revive him. He was taken to the Erie-Beckman Memorial hospital in Libertyville where it was learned the patient had no serious injuries other than a fractured rib and other injuries. Mr. Stubbins was allowed to remain home because a physician's examination.

Retiree From Hospital
E. H. Stone, 62, 622 Grove avenue, who was taken to the Sherman hospital in Elgin for medical treatment Tuesday, returned home Tuesday afternoon.
