Bears Lose Twin Holiday Contests; Out of Tournament

Lose to Forest Glen, 17 to 9; McHenry Takes Overtime Game, 15-14

A two-day holiday bill for the Barrington Bears baseball team turned out to be a disastrous affair, both games being lost and the local nine being eliminated from the state tournament by virtue of Sunday's defeat. The Forest Glen Aces of Chicago were the local's opposition here Sunday and the city nine stepped on the ball hither and yon to earn a 17 to 9 victory. The Bears traveled to McHenry Monday to re-play a protested game of earlier in the year. The contest went into extra innings and the Barrington boys were finally nosed out in the tenth inning, 15 to 14.

Against Forest Glen Sunday, Ernie Low, who had been pretty successful on the mound all season for Barrington, was slapped all over the lot in the first inning, seven runs scoring on four walks, an error, and four hits, two of them being homers.

10 stuck around for the second inning and was knicked for three more runs on four hits, a walk and an error. During his stay there were six Forest Glen runners on the base paths.

"Chet" Allenberg was sent in to take over the hurling job in the third inning with the score 10 to 4 against him. There were seven more runs scored by the Chicago outfit on five errors, seven hits, eight strikeouts, and one walk.

Allenberg fared far better and gave up six walks, struck out 12, allowed 13 hits and retired eight Barrington men left on the bases.

Despite the fact he had pitched nearly a full game the day previous, "Gus" Alexander was over the hurling job for Barrington at McHenry Monday and was charged with the small-margin defeat. Gus was lapped for 18 hits, gave up four walks, struck out seven batters and 15 runs scored. H. Freund was on the mound for McHenry 10 seven innings and was then relieved for A. Anderson, who got in trouble in the ninth inning when Barrington scored three runs to knot the score at 14-all.

The deadlock was broken in the top half of the tenth inning when R. Brits walked, stole second and scored on H. Brits' single.

The Bears will play the Jefferson Ice Co. nine from Silver Lake, Wis., here Sunday in what will probably be the last game of the season.

Lack of Addresses Causes Penalties, Treasurer Reports

Because County Treasurer John Toman lacked the proper addresses of certain taxpayers, hundreds of property owners were forced to pay a penalty on the first installment of their 1938 real estate taxes. Toman says he is anxious to avoid a duplication and therefore urges every property owner to send him their correct address and the full legal description of their property or properties.

When the 1938 tax bills were mailed out in May by the treasurer, thousands were returned because of incorrect address. Toman had no way of learning the correct address, so in almost every case the bills lay in his office while penalties mounted.

Failure to possess the correct address came through several reasons. Properties were sold and the new owners never notified the county treasurer. Some properties were foreclosed. Others went into the Loan and Federal Housing and likewise no change in address was given.

Naturally, the county recorder gets the change but there is no connection between the recorder's office and the treasurer. It is therefore necessary, says Toman, that to avoid a repetition of the June collections with penalties, that he have all correct addresses. Also the correct legal descriptions. Failure means penalties. He said:

"Taxes are burdensome without having penalties added and to avoid penalties wherever I can. But I must have the cooperation of the people. It was only through the kindness of the newspapers, which published our appeals, that the mistake in addresses was corrected. Anyone who had any trouble with his tax bill because of incorrect address should notify my office at once. It will save them money. Should there be a refund—if the Illinois supreme court allows the 1934 refunds—we will be able to notify all parties concerned. That refund case has been appealed and now rests with the high court. A decision is looked for in October."

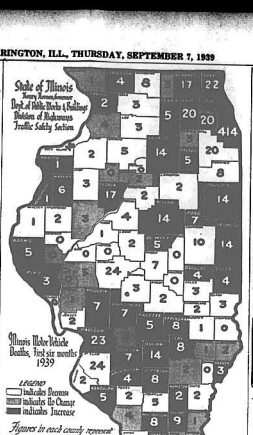
Fays Are a Real Problem

Fog, that thick pea-soup kind for which England is noted, interferes so much with the operation of railways that special means have to be taken to cope with it. Fog signalmen are placed at important points. They hear their whole work, and their own initiative go to their posts when fog descends. Or they may be called from signal boxes. They use 300,000 detonators—or "crackers," as they are known in America. The detonators tell the engineers the position of the signal hidden from view by the fog. As an additional safeguard, the Great Western railway has its own system of automatic train control. If the line is clear a bell rings by the engineer's side. If not, a siren blows and brakes are automatically applied. The device is operated by signalmen through an electric ramp at each caution signal on 2,855 miles of track and 3,250 engines.



Slaughtering Speed

In industrial slaughters, carcasses are passed from the slaughtering room to the cooling room at the rate of 80 to 120 an hour, depending on the kind of animal, and the skill of the workers.

Chilled Meat

Although meat which is chilled at a temperature just above freezing is preferred by consumers to frozen meat, it must reach its market within six weeks of the date of slaughter.

Palatine Residents to Share $270,000

Mrs. Marjorie Rochachild of Palatine, whose mother, Mrs. May Silberman of Chicago, died recently leaving a $250,000 estate, was willed an one-sixth share in the bulk of the estate, which was placed in trust for a long term with the latter to get certain shares of the income and in future time to share the entire estate.

The $250,000 estate of the late Frederick Swarts of Palatine, who died July 27, was willed to his five children in various shares. A daughter, Martha Swarts, is to have use of the home for life, after which it goes to the four next in equal parts. The residue of the estate is to go to the six children equally. The sons are: Edwin of Chicago, Albert of Naperville and George and Elmer of Palatine. Elmer Wentz was appointed executor of the will.

"Make-Up" Out

"Mad as a Turk" just about describes the state of the school teachers in Istanbul, who have been forbidden by Saffet Arikan, minister of education, to use cosmetics, powder, rouge and paint on their fingernails. Neither are they allowed to wear jewelry or short skirts, heavy tax falls on those who indulge on this level. But Turkish women are not the only ones to suffer from such queer laws. The tax on Italian bachelors has been increased from 12 shillings a year, and in Graz, Austria, those who "show preference on their dogs' graves are mulcted." In some parts of France dogs are taxed according to weight.

Uses of Mineral Wool

Mineral wool is a widely used insulating material made by pouring a stream of molten rock, slag or glass through a high velocity steam or air jet, which blows it into fine fibers and shreds. When these are gathered together, considerable tiny dead air cells are formed between the fibers, the combination for its exceptionally high insulating value.
